

PARDON SAVES STODDARD AND SKELTON FROM ARREST FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Ohio Delegation To Back Third Term for Roosevelt

52 VOTES IN BAG FOR PRESIDENT-IF HE WANTS THEM

State Chairman Expects Roosevelt To Decline Renomination and Offer Douglas as His Choice.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 16. (AP)—Ohio Democrats today boarded a third-term bandwagon for President Roosevelt.

State Chairman Arthur L. Limbach said delegates would go to the Democratic national convention ready to support renomination of the President or back his selection for a White House successor.

Limbach expressed belief Mr. Roosevelt would decline a third term and by inference designate Associate Justice William O. Douglas, of the United States supreme court, as the New Deal's presidential choice.

Swing 52 Votes.

While nominally pledged to United States Senator Vic Donahey as a "favorite son" candidate, Limbach predicted the Ohio delegation would cast its 52 votes immediately for Roosevelt if there should be a first-ballot swing to the President.

Neither law nor custom binds Ohio delegates to support in the convention the candidate to whom they are nominally pledged.

Limbach reported the 60 delegates—16 at large with one-half vote each and 44 district delegates with a full vote each—would sign a pledge that they are "in accord and will support the New Deal" and that they will back Donahey as long as he desires.

To Ballot as Unit.

If there is a general understanding that if the trend is for Roosevelt, Donahey will ask the Ohio delegation to throw its entire support behind the President. The delegation will vote as a unit on candidates, but will be free to ballot in any manner on other convention business.

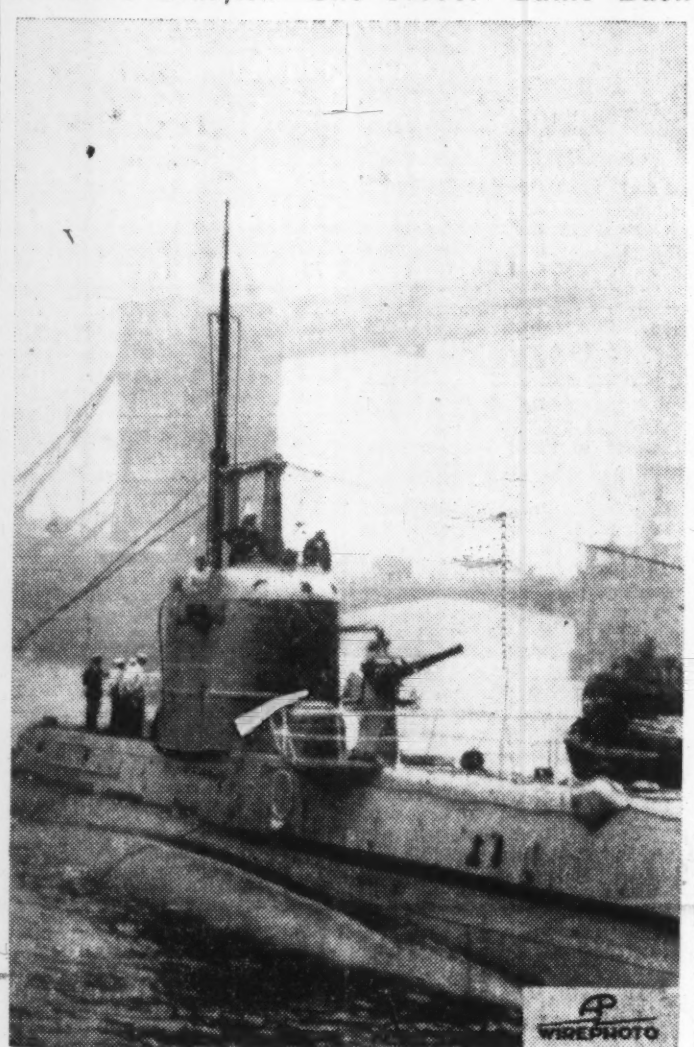

"We do not intend to have another 1932 fiasco," Limbach said, referring to the Chicago convention when the Ohio vote nearly missed being recorded because it was so badly split over supporting President Roosevelt.

F. D. R. SIDESTEPS QUERIES ON PLANS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(P)—The constantly agitated draft-Roosevelt movement took a new and bolder turn today, with the announcement that the Ohio delegation to the Democratic national convention would actively support

Continued in Page 9, Column 6.

Britain's Starfish—She Never Came Back

The sleek British submarine Starfish was sliding into St. Katherine dock when this picture was made in the port of London some time ago. Last night, according to German claims, she lay at the bottom of the sea off Heligoland, along with the Undine, a sister submersible. His Majesty's admiralty conceded they hadn't come back and probably were lost.

Hardy Ski Finns Hold Line Several Miles Inside Russia

Three British Subs Lost; Hore-Belisha Crisis Is Smothered.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(P)—Britain today acknowledged the loss of three of her submarines assigned to one of the royal navy's most dangerous jobs—patrol of German North sea outlets to keep the Nazi fleet bottled up.

The submarines Undine, Seahorse and Starfish—$3,000,000 worth of undersea craft carrying about 110 men—failed to return to their bases and must now be regarded as lost, the admiralty announced. Presumably they were sunk by depth charges. The number of casualties was unknown.

The Germans in a communique said the Starfish and Undine were destroyed "through German defense measures" in Heligoland Bight and that some of their crewmen had been rescued. The Nazi statement made no mention of the Seahorse.

The sinkings, which raised admitted British naval losses to 20 ships aggregating 79,128 tons and

Continued in Page 8, Column 7.

ROOSEVELT CALLS UPON CONGRESS TO HELP FINLAND

Lifting of Restrictions on Credits Would Destroy Heart of Neutrality Act, Senator George Asserts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt put the question of a loan to Finland up to congress today, with a suggestion that it be done by increasing the funds of the Export-Import Bank and a declaration that such action would not drag the United States into war.

"There is without doubt in the United States a great desire for some action to assist Finland to finance the purchase of agricultural surpluses and manufactured products, not including implements of war," he said in a letter dispatched to both Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead.

Cites Opposition.

"There is at the same time undoubted opposition to the creation of precedents which might lead to large credits to nations in Europe, either belligerents or neutrals. No one desires a return to such a status."

Later, talking to reporters at his press conference, President Roosevelt asserted that the neutrality act was not being invoked in the Finnish-Russian conflict because at present it is an undeclared war.

He said that his remark about not invoking the neutrality act was the easiest answer to a question on whether he had anything to say on why the act should not be invoked.

George Takes Stand.

Mr. Roosevelt's proposal stirred up a flurry of senate debate on the implications of the proposal and evoked demands that it be considered not only by the banking committee, but the foreign relations committee as well. It was ultimately agreed that that procedure should be followed.

"If we lift the restrictions in the neutrality act on credits to foreign nations, it is easy to see we have destroyed the very heart of the neutrality act," asserted Senator George, Democrat, Georgia. "If you break down the restrictions in the case of Finland,

Continued in Page 8, Column 2.

Military law won the first round of its clash with civil law yesterday when Sheriff J. C. (Mott) Aldredge, of Fulton county (right), seeking to serve a bench warrant for the arrest of Adjutant General John E. Stoddard (left), was met first with a reply by Stoddard that he "could not submit" to arrest and then was handed a full pardon given the general by Governor Rivers.

HARRY SOMMERS INDORSES DEWEY

Says He Intends To Vote for New Yorker When Convention Is Held.

Harry Sommers, outstanding Georgia Republican, declared in a statement yesterday that he intends to vote for the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey as candidate President on the Republican ticket at the national convention to which he expects to be a delegate this year as he was in 1936.

Mr. Sommers said that throughout the south he had found a strong sentiment for a change of administration, and that "south of the Mason and Dixon line it is Thomas E. Dewey far above all others in whom the people have absolute faith and confidence."

"He is," Mr. Sommers declared, "the best known of all men in the Republican party today, and reputation for fearlessness, accomplishment, essential soundness and respect for the American tradition is so instilled in people that he is the first to be spoken of when the presidency is mentioned."

Mr. Sommers holds and has held

Continued in Page 3, Column 5.

Long Regime Has Lead in Early Count

Kingfish's Dynasty Facing Severe Test Since Huey's 1928 Election.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16.—(P)—Unofficial and incomplete returns of today's Democratic gubernatorial primary indicated the Louisiana political regime was facing its most serious test since Huey P. Long started his dictatorship in 1928.

Governor Earl K. Long, brother of Huey and standard-bearer for the administration, was building up a commanding lead in New Orleans, his stronghold, but Sam Jones, Lake Charles attorney, topping the four "reform" candidates, was adding to his total in slow returns from the country parishes.

It appeared probable that a second primary would be necessary February 20. The Long dynasty never before in its 12-year-old history has found it necessary to go into a runoff, either during Huey's lifetime or after he was shot and killed in September, 1935.

State Senator James A. Noe, of Monroe, as bitter a foe of Earl K. Long as he was a good friend of Huey, was running third in the early returns but reports had not started coming in from the strong sections of James H. Morrison, Hammond attorney, Vincent Mosely, Opelousas attorney, was a poor fifth.

Total returns at 1 a. m., Atlanta time) from 373 of the state's 1,703 precincts, of which 199 precincts were from New Orleans, gave: Long 66,804, Jones 37,855,

Continued in Page 7, Column 2.

MILLION BALANCE EXPECTED BY CITY

School Appropriations Show Even Brighter Picture at Year's End.

The city administration expects a bank balance of approximately $1,000,000 when the fiscal year ends next December, a study of school appropriations carried in the 1940 municipal budget showed yesterday.

As Thomas W. Clift, school business manager, announced the school department's budget will be balanced with a projected expenditure of $3,805,000 for the year, it was discovered that the 1940 city finance sheet provides a $236,000 fund, which the municipality probably will make available to schools the latter part of the year. To this must be added an additional $600,000 which city council authorized Monday in a special resolution.

Thus a total of $296,000 has been authorized for the school department for 1940 against which the city did not budget when it approved a 1940 finance sheet aggregating $10,462,619. Under the law, schools are entitled to 30 per cent of city receipts, and if the municipality provides the $296,000 on the 30 per cent basis, it must have a bank balance of $982,666, in December—a sum $201,666 in excess of the $781,000 balance carried forward from 1939 into 1940.

The $236,000 figure now carried in the city finance sheet to the

Continued in Page 9, Column 5.

PAPERS EXHIBITED AS SHERIFF SEEKS TO FULFILL DUTIES

'You Have Your Troops Here and I Am Not Going To Try Force,' Aldredge Tells Officer.

Sheriff J. C. (Mott) Aldredge yesterday went to the state military department to serve bench warrants calling for the arrests of Adjutant General John E. Stoddard and Lieutenant Colonel James H. Skelton for contempt of court, but the attempt at arrest was frustrated when he was handed certified copies of full, complete and unconditional pardons granted to the two officers by Governor Rivers.

The sheriff sought to arrest the two military men on warrants handed down by Superior Judge W. R. Smith, of the Alabama circuit, who Saturday held them in contempt of his court for alleged violation of an injunction granted W. L. Miller to prevent interference with Miller's conduct as chairman of the highway board, a post from which he was removed by the Governor.

Stoddard Smiles.

Stoddard, in the full uniform of a brigadier general of the Georgia national guard, received Sheriff Aldredge and Deputy C. T. Maddox in his offices at the military department.

As the sheriff entered he was met by an unidentified corporal of the guard, who escorted him to the general's private office. The sheriff sat down at the general's desk.

"Well, I suppose you know what we are here for, General," the sheriff queried.

"Yes, I think I do," Stoddard replied, smilingly.

"Have to Take Orders."

"We have bench warrants for the arrest of you, General, and Colonel Skelton," the sheriff said. "It is one of those unpleasant duties we have to perform."

"Yes, I understand," Stoddard replied, still smiling.

"These bench warrants are from the judge of the superior court of Lanier county," Sheriff Aldredge went on, gravely. "We have to take our orders from the judges of the superior courts, just like you take yours from the Governor."

"Yes, I understand that, too," Stoddard put in.

"Will you and Colonel Skelton submit to arrest?" the sheriff asked.

"No, we cannot, at least as long as martial law prevails," General Stoddard said, the smile gone. "If we did I could not carry out the Governor's martial law orders from that little jail down in Lakeland. I hate to have to tell you that we cannot submit to the orders you have."

"Well, we do not intend to try to use force to get you out of here," the sheriff said. "You have

Continued in Page 2, Column 3.

Hitler May Decide Today On Invasion of Belgium

By PERTINAX.
For the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.
PARIS, Jan. 16.—(By Wireless.)—Competent circles continue to be disturbed by the prospects of a German invasion of Dutch and Belgian territories. Various trustworthy indications are that such a step has been contemplated in Berlin for the last 10 days, but it is a matter of speculation whether this time Adolf Hitler will reach a stable decision, and go further than the threats intended to intimidate The Hague and Brussels governments, and compel them to comply with his requests for a modification of their policy of neutrality.

EXCLUSIVE

Yesterday was first mentioned as a critical date. Now forecasters state that either tomorrow or the first days of February will see the turning point. Anyhow, the Belgian and Dutch governments are behaving as though the worst developments in store for them will be in the near future.

France and Britain would do everything possible to help Belgium and Holland, short of risky extemporizations.

Hidden in Forest.
Hidden in the forest are the Finnish troops—50 men in a camouflaged tent, 100 in a series of long, warm dugouts, or 150 a little farther on in a secluded farmhouse.

Trees have been felled in a

Continued in Page 8, Column 4.

Presbytery Assails "Envoy" to Vatican

Atlanta Church Body Terms Appointment of Personal Representative to "Any Church" Violation of Principles Upon Which This Nation Was Founded.

Disapproval of President Roosevelt's action in appointing a personal ambassador to the Vatican was voted yesterday by the presbytery of Atlanta at a meeting in Gordon Street Presbyterian church.

Although expressing support with the President's efforts in behalf of peace, the presbytery voted its disapproval and ordered a transcript of the overtture sent to the highest court of the Presbyterian church and to the President.

The overtture follows:

"The Presbytery of Atlanta recommends him in all his efforts in behalf of peace so long as these do not violate vital principles. We join with him in the earnest hope and prayer that some means may soon be found to bring to an end the wars which are raging in many parts of the world."

In Other Pages

- Classified ads. Pages 22, 23
- Comics. Pages 20, 21
- Daily cross-word puzzle. Page 20
- Editorial page. Page 6
- Robert McGill. Page 17
- Westbrook Pegler. Page 17
- Joseph Alsop and Robert Kintner. Page 17
- Financial news. Pages 16, 17
- "Girl at the Front." Page 20
- Louie D. Newton. Page 7
- Picture page. Page 24
- Private Lives. Page 22
- Radio programs. Page 21
- Society. Pages 13, 15, 16
- Sports. Pages 18, 19
- Tarzan. Page 21
- Theater programs. Page 10
- Weather. Page 23
- Women's page features. Page 14
- Eleanor Roosevelt. Dr. William Brady
- Sally Sawyer. Ida Jean Kain
- Dress Patterns. Caroline Chatfield
- Harold Sharpsteen. Sheila Graham
- Lillian Mae. Household Arts

Airline Men Good Envoys For U. S. in South America

This is the second of a series of stories from South America by Jack Spalding, of The Constitution staff, who is writing his impressions of that colorful continent. Today Spalding is at Barranquilla, where sleek clipper planes dock near Indian dugouts, old and hollowed from logs. He is where today delves back into the past and his story makes for good reading.

By JACK SPALDING.
Staff Correspondent.
BARRANQUILLA, Colombia, Jan. 12.—(By Air Mail.)—Several centuries link arms in Barranquilla

Continued in Page 9, Column 2.

UTILITIES GROWTH OF 500 MILLION IS SEEN BY WILLKIE

Believes Industry 'Could Spend $1,250,000,000 Annually During Next Two Years on Work.'

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, said today that he believed the utilities industry would spend between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 in expansion this year, whereas in his opinion the industry "could spend" $1,250,000,000 a year during the next two years.

Willkie asserted that the government's "attacks" on public utilities and its policies in connection with the Tennessee Valley Authority, would be responsible for the fact there would be little if any increase in the industry's expansion-spending program.

Hopes for Cessation.
"It is my hope, however," Willkie added, "that during the next year these attacks will have ceased."

Commenting on President Roosevelt's commendation of a request by the Tennessee Valley Authority for additional power to develop into a vast recreational area parts of six southern states embraced in the TVA project, Willkie said:

"That it is a playground is not the slightest bit of news to me. The government has been playing around down there for the past several years with several hundreds of millions of dollars and I hope that that playground will cease to exist rapidly."

Willkie's remarks were addressed to members of the Sales Executive Club at a luncheon meeting.

The group applauded at the close of the meeting when Dr. Paul H. Myster, president of the Limited Price Variety Stores Association, in reply to a question as to the business outlook, replied that it was "good, if we have a presidential candidate like our distinguished guest, Mr. Willkie."

LOWEST BID UNSIGNED.
Some contractor, anxious to get a contract for a school addition at Vermilion, Ohio, figured carefully submitted the low bid—and then forgot to sign his name or otherwise identify himself.

WARREN'S

ONLY 50 LEFT!

YOUNG TOM
TURKEYS 17¹/₂¢
Lb.

These are choice turkeys. Come early. They won't last long.

EXTRA CHOICE W. L.

HENS . . 13¹/₂¢
Lb.

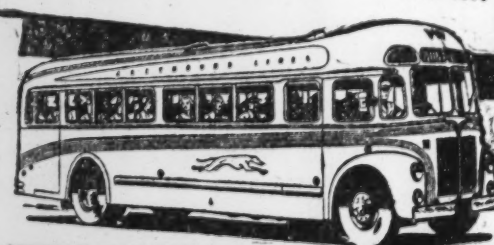

500 LEFT
3 to 4 lbs. Av.

10% REDUCTION ON Round Trips via GREYHOUND

COSTS LESS THAN DRIVING

One Round Trip	One Round Trip
Birmingham $2.20 $4.00	Jacksonville $4.50 $8.10
Chattanooga 1.75 3.15	Macomb 1.30 2.35
Chicago 9.30 17.65	Memphis 4.90 8.85
Cleveland 8.40 16.95	Miami 8.45 15.25
Cincinnati 8.00 16.00	Nashville 3.40 6.15
Detroit 8.45 17.05	Rome 1.00 1.80
Havana, Cuba 23.45 40.75	Savannah 3.80 6.50
Indianapolis 7.40 13.35	St. Petersburg 7.20 13.00

169 CARNEGIE WAY, N. W. WA. 6300

GREYHOUND Lines

Trolleys Trap Atlanta Driver In 'Sandwich'

J. G. Moss, 2193 Fairhaven circle, was trapped for 20 minutes in his automobile yesterday morning when it was "sandwiched" between two street cars in a freak accident near Peachtree creek.

While attempting to make a left turn from Peachtree Hills avenue into Peachtree road, the car driven by Moss was struck by a southbound trolley, operated by L. W. Murphy, and crushed against a northbound streetcar, operated by J. H. Fowler.

Wedge for nearly half an hour, during which time Moss was able to escape, none of the vehicles was able to move until police and men finally pulled the cars apart. Moss was uninjured but his car was seriously damaged.

GANNETT CANDIDATE AS G. O. P. NOMINEE

Rochester Publisher Is Bitter Critic of New Deal and Roosevelt.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Frank Gannett, Rochester publisher and long-time critic of President Roosevelt and the New Deal, announced tonight his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

The 63-year-old publisher told a civic reception in his honor and a radio audience:

"I realize what it means to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for President—what it means in responsibility, in hard work, in sacrifice. Yet it is a call to duty that no citizen can ignore. My answer is yes."

"I'll Be There Fighting."
At the same time, Gannett said if his task is "to follow, to fight in the ranks, as I have fought, there you will find me—fighting."

The publisher's candidacy pre-empted a contest for New York state's 92 votes in the Republican primary, which was held in the city of New York. Gannett, a district attorney, several weeks ago announced his candidacy and has made several addresses.

Gannett, chairman of the Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government, was particularly active against President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization plan and his proposal for administrative reorganization.

Cross Country Tour.
He recently returned from a cross-country air tour "discussing vital issues up to be in the foreground during the 1940 campaign."

"We can bring back and preserve democracy, along with prosperity," he told the more than 1,300 who attended the reception and dinner. "New Dealers do not believe in private enterprise. The only way to stop them is to get rid of them."

FRENCH TECHNICIAN ARRESTED BY SWISS

GENEVA, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Auguste Varad, French technical director of the Tovar munitions factory, was arrested today on a fraud charge by the Swiss secret police, who accused him of selling patents and plans to competitive firms in Geneva and a foreign country. The plant makes bomb and artillery detonators.

Sheriff Aldredge Balked as He Seeks To Arrest Stoddard and Skelton

Bench warrants from Judge W. R. Smith, of Nashville, failed yesterday to bring about the arrests of Adjutant General John E. Stoddard and Lieutenant Colonel James H. Skelton, of the national guard, as Sheriff J. C. (Mott) Aldredge first was met by a refusal to submit to the orders and then was handed copies of the full, complete and unconditional pardons given the two officers by Governor Rivers.

General Stoddard's office. The adjutant general is seated on the left. Colonel Skelton is second from the right. In the center is Deputy Sheriff C. T. Maddox, while on the extreme right is Corporal Hugh Gant, of the national guard.

STODDARD SAVED BY RIVERS' PARDON

Continued From First Page.

your troops on duty here and I am not going to try any force."

"I appreciate that," Stoddard replied. "The sheriff remained in his seat. From the top drawer of his desk, Stoddard drew a long official paper."

A Full Pardon.
"I have here a full, complete and unconditional pardon signed by the Governor," the general told the sheriff. "Let me read it to you."

He then read the text of the pardon order given him, identical with that granted Colonel Skelton except Skelton's name was substituted for Stoddard's throughout.

In the pardon orders, Governor Rivers asserted Judge Smith "conspired" with Miller "to take jurisdiction in all matters growing out of the highway controversy," so that he, the said Judge Smith, would be enabled to vent his personal and political spleen upon the Governor for the reason that the Governor had not seen fit to comply with his ardent request that he be appointed to the supreme court of Georgia.

Rivers further accused the judge with attempting to use the judiciary "as a vehicle of political action and as an agency for clothing his personal animosity with the dignity of the law and as a medium of political retaliation."

"I don't know anything about pardons," Sheriff Aldredge said. "I am not a lawyer. I'll leave that to the lawyers. I do want to repeat that we are not going to try to use force. I am, like you, a sort of innocent bystander in this thing. But our orders call for the service of warrants from all judges of the superior courts."

The sheriff asked to see Colonel Skelton.

"I am afraid I cannot let you see him," Stoddard replied. "You see, he is on official duty and I, as his commanding officer, just can't let you see him."

Notice of Appeal.
Stoddard also explained that Skelton was represented in court and that he has notified Judge Smith of his plans to appeal. The general assembly this year passed a law making a supercedas mandatory on the part of a judge if a person held in contempt of court gives notice of appeal. Incidentally the law was written and sponsored in the assembly by Representative Tom Miller, of Lanier county, a brother of the evicted road board chairman.

Sheriff Aldredge said he felt that he ought to see Colonel Skelton to complete his own record in the case, informing the general again that he would not resort to force in an effort to make the arrest.

Skelton then was called into the commanding general's office. He exchanged pleasantries with the sheriff while Stoddard explained again that as his commanding officer he was having to refuse to permit the sheriff to arrest him.

In a few minutes, Sheriff Aldredge folded his papers, waved good-bye and returned to the court house. The guardsmen still stood around the military department.

Dated January 15.
The Governor's office a few minutes later made public the pardons given Stoddard and Skelton.

HOME LOANS
• Simple Interest
• Low Rates
• No Application Fee
• 4-Day Answer
• 3-Day Closing
• 4% - 4 1/2% - 5%

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
48 PRYOR STREET ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Text of Stoddard's Pardon

Here is the text of the pardon which Governor Rivers issued to Adjutant General John E. Stoddard. A similar pardon was granted to Lieutenant Colonel J. H. Skelton.

By the Governor:

Whereas, The constitution of Georgia provides: "The legislative, judicial and executive powers shall forever remain separate and distinct, and no person discharging the duties of one shall, at the same time, exercise the functions of either of the others. . . ."

—Article 1, Section 1, Paragraph 23; and, Whereas, The constitution of our great state further provides: "The judicial powers of this state shall be vested in a supreme court, a court of appeals, superior courts, courts of ordinary, justices of the peace, commissioned notaries public, and such other courts as have been or may be established by law."—Article 6, Section 1, Paragraph 1; and,

Whereas, The constitution of Georgia further provides: "The executive power shall be vested in a Governor. . . ."

—Article 5, Section 3, Paragraph 12; and, Whereas, The constitution moreover provides: "He (the Governor) shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons, to commute penalties, remove disabilities imposed by law, and to remit any part of a sentence. . . ."

—Article 5, Section 1, Paragraph 11; and, Whereas, The constitution of Georgia provides: "The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the army and navy of this state and of the militia thereof."—Article 5, Section 1, Paragraph 11; and,

Whereas, The judicial branch of the state government is given no power to usurp the constitutional grant of command over the militia, the army and navy imposed in the Governor of this state; and Whereas, On December 18, 1939, the Governor did, as commander-in-chief of the army, navy and militia of this state, order and direct the adjutant general of this state and the militia thereof to do and perform certain acts, deeds and things, all as set out fully in the proclamation and orders of the executive department, duly published and recorded in the executive minutes, a reference to all of which is hereby made as public documents of record for all necessary purposes; and

Whereas, The said Honorable W. R. Smith as aforesaid, upon the application of one ex-chairman, W. L. Miller, formerly of the State Highway Department, notwithstanding the fact that the said Judge Smith had no jurisdiction over the adjutant general of Georgia for the reasons aforesaid, and for the further reason that he is subject only to such civil jurisdiction as may exist over him in the superior court of Wilkes county, Georgia, that county being the legal residence of the said adjutant general, John E. Stoddard, and notwithstanding the opinion of the Governor, that the said Judge Smith was advising the said Miller and participating in meetings in mapping procedure in furtherance of said Miller's efforts to re-establish himself as an appointee of the Governor, and notwithstanding the opinion of the Governor, that the said Judge Smith had conspired with the said Miller to take jurisdiction in all matters growing out of the highway controversy so that he, the said Judge Smith, would be enabled to vent his personal and political spleen upon the Governor for the reason that the Governor had not seen fit to comply with his ardent request that he be appointed to the supreme court of Georgia, and notwithstanding the fact that the said Miller were, in the opinion of the Governor, conspiring to use the judiciary in order to publicize the said Miller in his efforts to build for himself a sympathy campaign for Governor, did, in defiance of the constitutional provision aforesaid, sentence the adjutant general of this state to a jail term of 20 days and other and additional unusual punishments merely because the said adjutant general had complied with his legal duties and his oath of office, and because the said adjutant general had failed to adopt an illegal and disloyal policy of conduct, such as that adopted by the said Miller; and,

Whereas, It has never been, and is not now, a heinous crime to be loyal to one's oath of office and to the commands of one's commander-in-chief; and,

Whereas, The said Honorable W. R. Smith as aforesaid, upon the application of one ex-chairman, W. L. Miller, formerly of the State Highway Department, notwithstanding the fact that the said Judge Smith had no jurisdiction over the adjutant general of Georgia for the reasons aforesaid, and for the further reason that he is subject only to such civil jurisdiction as may exist over him in the superior court of Wilkes county, Georgia, that county being the legal residence of the said adjutant general, John E. Stoddard, and notwithstanding the opinion of the Governor, that the said Judge Smith was advising the said Miller and participating in meetings in mapping procedure in furtherance of said Miller's efforts to re-establish himself as an appointee of the Governor, and notwithstanding the opinion of the Governor, that the said Judge Smith had conspired with the said Miller to take jurisdiction in all matters growing out of the highway controversy so that he, the said Judge Smith, would be enabled to vent his personal and political spleen upon the Governor for the reason that the Governor had not seen fit to comply with his ardent request that he be appointed to the supreme court of Georgia, and notwithstanding the fact that the said Miller were, in the opinion of the Governor, conspiring to use the judiciary in order to publicize the said Miller in his efforts to build for himself a sympathy campaign for Governor, did, in defiance of the constitutional provision aforesaid, sentence the adjutant general of this state to a jail term of 20 days and other and additional unusual punishments merely because the said adjutant general had complied with his legal duties and his oath of office, and because the said adjutant general had failed to adopt an illegal and disloyal policy of conduct, such as that adopted by the said Miller; and,

Whereas, It is the opinion of the Governor that the judge of the Alapaha circuit aforesaid has thus sought in said matters to use the judiciary as a vehicle of political action and as an agency for clothing his personal animosity with the dignity of law and as a medium of political retaliation; and that such actions by said judge constitute the worst form of judicial tyranny; and,

Whereas, It is the opinion of the Governor that the said judge aforesaid is, by the above mentioned and similar procedure, seeking to use his court as the haven and refuge of the said ex-Chairman Miller in his campaign to hamstring and obstruct the chief executive of the state in carrying out the duties imposed upon him by the people of the state; Now,

Therefore, It is Ordered: Under and by virtue of the foregoing authority set out in the constitution and laws of this state, and for the reasons herebefore stated, that John E. Stoddard, adjutant general of Georgia, be and he is hereby given a full, complete and unconditional pardon for the offenses and sentences imposed by Judge W. R. Smith, of the Alapaha circuit, as a result of the hearing held on said matters at Nashville, Georgia, on Saturday, January 13, 1940.

And it is so ordered, this 15th day of January, 1940.

By the Governor:

E. D. RIVERS,

Governor.

(Seal)

DOWNING MUSGROVE,
Secretary Executive Department.

judge to call on the Governor for the help of the national guard, help which is not expected to be furnished in this case.

Some observers believe that in seeking the arrest of Stoddard and Skelton, attorneys for Miller may be laying the basis for action in the federal courts under the 14th amendment to the Constitution which provides that no person shall be deprived of his rights and property without due process of law, the Miller lawyers claiming that the Governor is keeping their client from obtaining due process of law.

Miller, meanwhile, made no new effort to enter the Highway Department, which continues under the guard of the troops. From his office in a downtown hotel, he issued the following statement:

"I notice in the press the Governor's charge of conspiracy between Judge W. R. Smith, of Nashville, Ga., and myself, to 'hamstring' the Highway Department's operation. I wish to say to the public that Judge Smith married an older sister of my wife's, who died childless some eight or ten years before I knew Judge Smith, and he had married again and was rearing a family before I knew either him or my wife's family. At my request, because I was willing to try my case before any judge or judges, my counsel explained the situation with reference to Judge Smith and myself to the opposing counsel at the beginning of the hearing before Judge Smith of the Alapaha circuit, Judge M. D. Dickerson of the Waycross circuit, and Judge W. E. Thomas of the southern circuit. Upon this explanation being made, the opposing counsel were asked if they had any objection to Judge Smith sitting in the case, to which they replied they did not. Out of the Governor's desperation he is only trying, by making such charges, to continue to practice his deception upon the people of Georgia."

"If the Governor's executive order dictatorship and political manipulation of the Highway Department of Georgia had been 'hamstrung' by the courts more than a year ago, the road system of this state would be in better condition and less money wasted."

"When cases now pending before the supreme court of Georgia are disposed of I expect to tell the people of Georgia why the national guard has been called out in open defiance of our courts and all laws of this state, which have been replaced by a dictatorship not equalled by Hitler himself."

Therefore, It is Ordered: Under and by virtue of the foregoing authority set out in the constitution and laws of this state, and for the reasons herebefore stated, that John E. Stoddard, adjutant general of Georgia, be and he is hereby given a full, complete and unconditional pardon for the offenses and sentences imposed by Judge W. R. Smith, of the Alapaha circuit, as a result of the hearing held on said matters at Nashville, Georgia, on Saturday, January 13, 1940.

And it is so ordered, this 15th day of January, 1940.

By the Governor:

E. D. RIVERS,

Governor.

(Seal)

DOWNING MUSGROVE,
Secretary Executive Department.

a report to the proper authorities."

"Dictatorship" Charged.

Miller, the deposed highway chairman, meanwhile issued a statement in which he referred to Governor Rivers' operation of the highway department as a "dictatorship not equalled by Hitler himself."

The deposed chairman said that Judge Smith married a sister of Mrs. Miller "eight or ten" years before he, Miller, met his wife, that the first Mrs. Smith died childless and that the judge later remarried and reared a family.

The Miller statement was in answer to an executive order issued by the Governor Monday in which the Miller-Smith former relationship was alluded to.

Whether Judge Smith will recognize the pardons or will take any further steps to force Stoddard and Skelton into the jurisdiction of his court could not be learned last night.

Saturday at Nashville the judge said the procedure usually followed when a sheriff is unable to serve bench warrants is for the

INDIGESTION
Sensational Relief from Indigestion and One Dose Proves It
If the first dose of this powerful little black tablet doesn't bring you the fastest and most complete relief from indigestion, you may take back to us and get DOUBLE MONEY BACK. This makes the money stomach fluids harmless and lets you feel the soothing food you need. For heartburn, sick headache and upset stomach caused by indigestion, take ONE Dose of this and you'll get relief. It's the only one of its kind.

'COURT' EDITORIAL IN RIVERS WEEKLY

Tribunal Not Created as 'Vehicle of Political Action,' Paper Says.

By The Associated Press.
In a signed editorial in the newspaper, Ed Rivers Weekly, Governor Rivers asserted yesterday Georgians "need to keep alive the spirit of (Andrew) Jackson and his conception of government."

"Andrew Jackson," said the front-page editorial, "knew that the courts were not created as a vehicle of political action; that certainly they were not meant to be used as an agency for clothing personal animosity with the dignity of law; that certainly the courts were not created as the haven and refuge of those who seek to obstruct the executive in carrying out the people's will."

"Jackson knew that the executive must meet such a situation with whatever valid instruments of government are available to him, and that is what Andrew Jackson always did whenever the obstruction of his enemies created an emergency designed to block him."

The editorial made no direct reference to Governor Rivers' ouster of W. L. Miller from chairmanship of the state highway board, nor his proclamation of martial law at the Highway and Military Departments after Miller obtained court injunctions restraining interference with his acts.

DO YOU want to Make More Money? "Cash In" on Your Own Ability? Become Independent in the Next 6 Years?

G.E. MARCHAND
"America's Famous Maker of Successful Men"

Are you dissatisfied with your job, your income, or your prospects? Are you having a struggle to make both ends meet? If so, you are now in the same position G. E. Marchand was in some years ago. But Mr. Marchand wasn't content. He experimented. He discovered a principle which raised him to earnings of over a million before he was thirty-seven. He is now devoting a part of his time to helping other ambitious men and women live a life that is personally, socially and financially bigger and better than ever before.

Come Tonight—See for Yourself

You will see why groups from America's largest companies, such as General Electric, General Motors, Pullman, Radio, General Tire and Rubber Co., Postal Telegraph-Cable Co., General Lumber Co., The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., Ford Motor Co., and many others have attended Mr. Marchand's programs.

Success Now! Without Years of Waiting

Prove to your own satisfaction how you can start now, without money, to build a fortune—become independent in the next six years—have more time for your family, for your friends, for pleasure and leisure than those who never find time for anything but work.

Come—Tonight's program is free—yet it may be worth thousands of dollars to you in the years ahead.

Tonight, 8:15 P. M.

Admission Free

ERLANGER THEATER

DO YOU KNOW?

$866⁰⁰

BUYS A BIG, BEAUTIFUL
92 HORSEPOWER

HUDSON

SIX SEDAN DELIVERED IN ATLANTA

NOTHING MORE TO PAY

The most amazing lowest priced car offered today—in roominess, power, luxury, safety, economy, easy riding—from any standpoint!

George Fisher, as Tattnall Superintendent, Assures Prisoners of Warm Understanding

Big Fellow With 11 Years' Experience Believes in Rehabilitation.

By WILLARD COPE.
Prisoners at Tattnall, from condemned men to short-termers, were assured of a warmth of understanding from the "top" yesterday, not in words so much as in the compassionate eyes and voice of their new superintendent.

George Fisher, director of prison industries, who served as warden for one day, and then was appointed to a newly created higher post because he refuses to officiate at executions, modestly had little to say of his plans until there is a full meeting of the board of penal administration upon the recovery of a member who is ill.

Then, he said, when he has gotten his feet on the ground, he will be willing to discuss "a number of plans" he has in mind affecting the lives and rehabilitation of the men under his charge.

Warden Under His Office.
His new office will have the official warden, E. B. Henderson, who was promoted from captain of the guard, under its jurisdiction. The law requires that the warden shall conduct executions—one is scheduled for Friday—and this grim duty will devolve upon Henderson.

"The board made the new setup because you declined to execute men," he was asked by a Constitution reporter.
"Yes," he declared firmly with a glint of determination in his kindly, blue eyes. "I've been in penal administration work all my life, and I've always refused to have anything to do with that."

"Is it a matter of conscientious principle?"
"It is."

The superintendent, who had spent the day in conferences at the penal administration headquarters, wouldn't go further in his discussion of his viewpoint toward capital punishment as a deterrent to crime.

Appointed Monday.
He was named as warden Monday, when Mark Sims was replaced in the third shakeup of the prison administration in two years, and yesterday entered his duties in the capacity of superintendent.

The scope of the new office, according to Chairman Grover Byars, of the administration, will include Mr. Fisher's former duties as director of prison industries, plus "general supervision over the entire institution."

In reply to a question, Byars said that the superintendent would be the "No. 1" official and the warden "No. 2."

The new superintendent, a large man, obviously weighing more than 200 pounds and measuring at least six feet, with a high, intelligent forehead and penetrating glance, has been interested in the rebuilding of the prisoners' lives beyond bars throughout his career.

For 11 years he has served in the Georgia prison system, installing and managing the various industries. For eight years before that he was engaged in penal rehabilitation work, instituting various types of useful work systems in the prisons of 15 states.

He declined to be drawn immediately into a discussion of his theories of prison management, saying he felt he should deal first with the entire board. Of the reasons for the shakeup at Tattnall he would say nothing.

Prison administration officials laid the removal of Warden Sims to an economy move. O. P. Carter, guard assigned as foreman of the automobile tag shop, also was removed on the same grounds. Henderson, who has been at the prison for four years, is to serve as the legal warden without advance of pay.

Sims' predecessor, Joe Walton, was dismissed by the board about a year ago.

Denial came from Chairman Byars of reported friction among Sims as warden, Fisher as director of industries and Luther Bridges as farm superintendent.

Besides Byars, members of the administration are Turner Bryce, of Quitman, who is ill, and Dr. John R. Lewis, of Louisville.

George Fisher, exert in rehabilitation of prisoners, who yesterday became superintendent of Tattnall prison—a post created because of his refusal to officiate at executions. He will have general supervision and outrank the new warden, E. B. Henderson, advanced from captain of the guard.

gent forehead and penetrating glance, has been interested in the rebuilding of the prisoners' lives beyond bars throughout his career.

For 11 years he has served in the Georgia prison system, installing and managing the various industries. For eight years before that he was engaged in penal rehabilitation work, instituting various types of useful work systems in the prisons of 15 states.

He declined to be drawn immediately into a discussion of his theories of prison management, saying he felt he should deal first with the entire board. Of the reasons for the shakeup at Tattnall he would say nothing.

Prison administration officials laid the removal of Warden Sims to an economy move. O. P. Carter, guard assigned as foreman of the automobile tag shop, also was removed on the same grounds. Henderson, who has been at the prison for four years, is to serve as the legal warden without advance of pay.

Sims' predecessor, Joe Walton, was dismissed by the board about a year ago.

Denial came from Chairman Byars of reported friction among Sims as warden, Fisher as director of industries and Luther Bridges as farm superintendent.

Besides Byars, members of the administration are Turner Bryce, of Quitman, who is ill, and Dr. John R. Lewis, of Louisville.

PIPE LINE COMPANY SUES SIX CARRIERS

Suit Charges Railroads Conspired Against Construction; Asks $45,000.

Charging six southern railroads entered into a "conspiracy" to hinder construction of a 500-mile gasoline pipeline from Port St. Joe, Fla., to Chattanooga, attorneys for the Southeastern Pipeline Company, of Atlanta, yesterday filed suit in federal court here seeking $45,000 in damages, which the suit sets forth as three times the alleged actual damage.

Specifically named as defendants in the case were the following railroads:
Southern Railway Company, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, Atlanta, Birmingham & Coast Railroad Company; H. D. Pollard, as receiver of the Central of Georgia Railway Company; Leigh R. Powell Jr. and Henry W. Anderson, as receivers of the Seaboard Airline Railway Company, and the Atlanta & West Point Railroad Company.

The suit, filed by the law firm of Hirsch, Smith and Kilpatrick, of Atlanta, and the law firm of Gibson and Holloman, of Tulsa, Okla., charged the railroads violated the Sherman act.

"Conspiracy Charged."
The pipe line firm, which is headed by Steve Clay, Atlanta attorney, further charges in the suit that the six railroads entered into a "conspiracy for the express and avowed purpose of preventing construction of the said pipe line and preventing the petitioner from engaging in interstate transportation of petroleum products as a common carrier."

"The express and declared reason for the said combination and conspiracy and the acts undertaken was because the railways, by their refusal to grant this competition in the interstate transportation of petroleum products," the suit declared.

The suit further charges that the railroads have:
1. "Jointly and severally and as a result of concerted action, caused to be sent rights of way to the petitioner across their railway lines in the state of Georgia."

"Harassing Law Suits."
2. Injunctive and unfounded law suits for the purpose of harassing, annoying and handicapping the pipe line firm.

3. Used all their influence to induce and persuade private landowners to refuse to sell the Southeastern Pipeline Line Company an easement or right of way for the construction of the pipe line.

4. Sought to induce public officials in Georgia and Florida to obstruct the construction of said line.

5. Printed and caused to be printed scurrilous and false statements with regard to the pipe line firm and its project of transporting petroleum products by pipe lines.

Others Named.
Also named in the suit, but not as defendants were the following organizations:
The Southeastern Presidents' Conference, an association of all railroads operating in the south-east.

The American Short Line Railroad Association, and the officers and railroads composing the membership.

The Southern Freight Tariff Bureau and the railroads and officers who are members.

The suit asks for a jury trial.

PIPELINE SUIT HEARING POSTPONED BY DEAFER
JAN. 16.—(AP)—Judge Bascom S. Deaver has postponed hearing of an injunction suit against the Southeastern Pipeline Company, set for today, until January 29, it was announced in court today.

The injunction against proceeding with construction work continues in effect, it was stated.

MUNICIPAL UNION ELECTS T. J. COUCH
New Officers To Be Installed on February 6.

Thomas J. Couch, assistant city attorney and son of Councilman J. Allen Couch, yesterday was elected unanimously president of chapter No. 4, local No. 4, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees' Union. He succeeds W. A. Florence, city paymaster, who retired.

Charles Henson, deputy city tax assessor, and Mrs. Mabel Terry, deputy city tax collector, were elected unanimously as first and second vice presidents, respectively. Dan Johnson, of the city construction department, was designated as sergeant-at-arms.

About 50 city employees attended the annual meeting. The new officers will be installed at ceremonies at the city hall February 6.

A Three Days' Cough is Your Danger Signal

Even if other medicines have failed, you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Chronic bronchitis can develop if your chest cold is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beach wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion to see that the name Creomulsion is on the bottle and you will get the genuine product and the relief you want. CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Subcommittee Declines To Set Early Primary Despite Pleading Hands

Raised hands in the picture mean "aye" for an early Fulton county primary, but they didn't impress members of a subcommittee of the Fulton county Democratic executive committee sufficiently to set one earlier than September 4. Hughes Spalding, standing at the left with his back to the camera, was chairman of the committee, which held a public hearing at which Fulton county school officials urged a primary for April or May to expedite passage of a proposed $750,000 school bond.

Constitution Staff Photo—Pete Roton.
Committee members recommended that the primary election be held September 4, one day after schools open for the 1940-41 term and one week before the state primary. On the front bench to the right of the picture are T. W. Moore, president of the Fulton county board of education; Jere A. Wells, school superintendent, and Carlton Binns, attorney. Wells asked those wishing an early primary to hold up their hands. The photographer then snapped this picture.

ARGUMENTS SET IN GALLOGLY CASE

January 24 Fixed as Date by Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court of criminal appeals, at Austin, Texas, yesterday ordered arguments January 24 in the appeal of Richard Gray Gallogly, Atlanta fugitive, seeking to nullify extradition, the Associated Press reported.

The tribunal, highest criminal court of Texas, recently denied Gallogly's appeal from a district court judgment refusing him bond pending his appeal on legal grounds. The appellate court's first ruling had only to do with the question of bail.

HARRY SOMMERS INDORSES DEWEY

Continued From First Page.

n office in the Republican party, preferring, he says, "to serve the party from the ranks." His only political position has been, that of delegate in 1936.

His complete statement follows: "During the past few months I have been in touch with all sections of the south and discussed the outlook for 1940. I have talked with people in every walk of life and have arrived at a number of conclusions which are so firm in my mind that I have been impelled to make this statement.

"Complete . . . n.e."
"I first found that the demand for a complete change in the national administration is no longer confined to Republican ranks. Great numbers of men sincerely believe that the best interests of the southern states were with the Democratic party have come to a change in that view. They now believe with even greater sincerity that another four years of the present administration will mean ruin and chaos not only in the south but in all the nation. They feel that the question no longer is one of party loyalty, but that our rational way of life is at stake.

"Equally striking to a southerner is that these men and women both within and without the ranks of the political parties, have determined to take an active and affirmative part in the mechanics of the selection of a candidate for the Republican party. Feeling as they do, they show a firm determination that the candidate whom the party will nominate will be one who is the choice of the party and who they think the same way.

"Dewey Over All."
My contacts have convinced me that south of the Mason and Dixon line, it is Thomas E. Dewey far above all others in whom the people have absolute faith and confidence. He is the best known of all men in the Republican party today, and his reputation for fearlessness, accomplishment, essential soundness, and respect for the American tradition is so instilled in people that he is the first to be spoken of when the presidency is mentioned.

"In a day when a sense of law and order and a decent respect for all that we hold dear is demanded in a leader of our people, we of the south find those exact qualities deeply ingrained in him.

Personal Convictions.
"Even if my own personal convictions did not convince me that Mr. Dewey is the outstanding candidate, I would be for him because such an overwhelming number of voters who never think in terms of party office for themselves, and who never heretofore have taken part in the selection of delegates to the national convention, are demanding a chance to vote for him.

"No man selected as a delegate to the next convention will dare ignore the positive mandate of the rank and file of the voters of the south. I was a delegate to the 1936 convention and I know the responsibility of a delegate and I expect to be a delegate to the next convention and shall cast my vote for Thomas E. Dewey.

"I urge all other southern delegates to the 1940 Republican convention to do likewise, since I am convinced that he is the only man in the United States today who can defeat Mr. Roosevelt or any other candidate the Democratic party brings forward."

Fulton County's Primary Urged for September 4th

Special County Subcommittee Recommends That Date Following Public Hearing; Schools Asked Earlier Voting; Women's League Urged Late Balloting.

The Fulton primary for nomination of county officers will be held Wednesday, September 4, a week before the state primary, if recommendations of a special subcommittee of the Democratic executive committee are approved.

Following a lengthy public hearing yesterday afternoon at which representatives of the Atlanta League of Women Voters insisted that a late primary is mandatory "if the principle of democracy is to be preserved in county primary elections," and at which Fulton county school authorities, members of Parent-Teacher associations and suburban communities urged "an early primary to expedite passage of a proposed $750,000 county school bond issue," the subcommittee decided on September 4.

Hughes Spalding, chairman of the subcommittee, in making the announcement of the recommendation, asserted:

"That is our recommendation. We, of course, do not know what the entire committee will do."

Jere Wells, Fulton county school superintendent, said last night that the school board would await the decision of the full committee. He said the board "would not be in a position to make a decision on the state primary because the committee's discretion."

In this connection, he added that the "board felt that if the primary is held as late as September, it would be preferable to hold the bond election on the same date as the state primary because this would assure a very large vote."

In recommending the September date for the local primary the committee followed a referendum held about two years ago in which voters decided for late primaries by a vote of nearly two to one.

W. Stokely Northcutt, chairman of the executive committee, said after the meeting that he will assemble the entire committee to decide definitely upon a date after a conference with Judge J. Wilson Parker, committee secretary, who is ill at Piedmont hospital.

Want Bond Issue Help.
When the public hearing opened, T. W. Moore, president of the Fulton county board of education, read a resolution passed by the board urging an early primary and after presenting the official action delivered a personal plea for help in passing the school bonds. He asked that the committee "fix as early a primary as is consistently possible."

Mrs. J. D. Thomas, president of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, then took the floor to insist that the committee abide by the expressed will of 12,222 voters who two years ago cast ballots favoring a late primary.

Two Objections Given.
She contended there are two major objections to early primaries. The first, she said, is that issues have not been formed, and the second that candidates seeking renomination should run on their records, which, if held nine months before the expiration of the term for which they were elected, is not complete.

She also hit the lame duck procedure "which always occurs when an officeholder is defeated in a primary held months in advance of the expiration of his term."

Among those who supported Mrs. Thomas were Frank Carter, attorney; Mrs. J. O. Sanders, former president of the North Fulton School Parent-Teacher Association, who declared the issue was not schools as opposed to good government, but "whether the county committee would observe a mandate from the people for a late primary"; Mrs. Stephens B. Ives, former president of the At-

OFFICER ACCUSED IN 'REVOLT' PROBE

N. Y. Policeman Had Withdrawn from 'Front,' Says Commissioner.

(Picture on Page 24.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A suspended lieutenant of the New York city police department was declared today to have belonged for a "short period" to a "Christian front" organization whose leaders have been jailed on charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the United States government.

This was announced by Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine after a departmental inquiry into reports that at least 40 of the city's 16,000 policemen had belonged to the "Christian front."

Valentine said Lieutenant Thomas Cavanagh, one of 11 police officials under suspension in an investigation of Brooklyn bail bond irregularities, had joined the "Christian front" two years ago at the time of its organization, but had withdrawn shortly thereafter.

Jailers said the group, held in bail aggregating $850,000, was subdued in spirit. All have pleaded innocent.

One of the prisoners, George Kelly, 24, a hotel worker, expressed bewilderment at his arrest and complained, "I don't know whether I'm against Communism or not. I don't know what it's all about."

"LIKELY TO SUCCEED" STUDENT ACCUSED
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—John Franklin Cook, one of 17 persons accused of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the government, is a senior high school student who recently was voted the member of his class "most likely to succeed."

BAILEY'S SUPREME COFFEE
Endorsed by Mrs. S. R. Dull

Give Your Family New Pride in Their Home

Beautifully and Modernize it Now
With an Easy-Term First National-FHA Improvement Loan

With the New Year resolve to make your family happy by giving them a home just like new—

Figure up the improvements and additions you want to make—get cost estimates from your contractor—then get the necessary funds from the First National under the easy-term First National-FHA Improvement Loan Plan and make the improvements which will protect your investment as well as add to the value, comfort and beauty of your home.

Up to $2,500
No cash payment
No endorsements or security
Repay in 12-24-30 or 36 months

Apply any First National Office

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

ATLANTA

At Five Points Lee and Gordon Streets
Peachtree at North Avenue East Court Square, Decatur

FOUNDED 1865—CAPITAL, SURPLUS and PROFITS $10,000,000

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Year

DAVISON'S January Discount SALE

Full-Size All-Electric Console SEWING MACHINES

reg. would be $70 39.65

● Eldridge make models.
● Equipped with Universal Hamilton Beach Motor.
● Easy 7-speed knee or foot control.
● Complete with attachments.
● Guaranteed 10 years. Free lessons and service.

Electric Table Model Portable, complete with attachments—24.65

TERMS
$3 down, $1 weekly

Sewing Machines, Second Floor

DAVISON-PAXON CO

MILLIONS PREFER-

this outstanding aspirin which gives you the publicly-established assurance of every desirable quality. . . impossible in a product less well-known, less well-accepted.

St. Joseph ASPIRIN

Commissioners To Consider Increase in Salaries Today

Between 75 and 100 Employees Would Be Affected by Proposal.

The Fulton county commissioners—their public hearings on the 1940 budget terminated—will turn today to a more perplexing problem—that of considering salary increases for between 75 and 100 employees, totaling more than $30,000 a year.

The public hearings, which opened Monday, came to an abrupt halt when only one delegation—from College Park—showed up yesterday to ask for special appropriations.

The salary increases will be considered at a special session to begin at 8 o'clock this morning. All department heads have been notified to keep themselves available for appearance before the board.

Against Increases.
Chairman E. L. Almand sought definite action yesterday on the salary schedule, but objections offered by Commissioners Troy Chastain and Dr. Charles R. Adams forced a postponement. Dr. Adams had another appointment, while Chastain spoke out against any salary increases on the grounds that this business of salary increases or adjustment under the present system is a "hit-and-miss" proposition.

He said he favored the establishment of a personnel department after a thorough survey of the county's salary schedule.

Mr. Chastain pointed out also that in view of the county's present financial status he was unable to see where the money was coming from to pay the increases. Chairman Almand said some adjustments were necessary in view of the fact that there are many inequalities now in force.

Difference in Opinion.
There was every indication that today's session would bring about a wide difference in opinion among the commissioners.

The lone request received at yesterday's public hearing from College Park was sent to the public works department, with the stipulation that it be granted in so far as possible, but only from present county resources.

The College Park request sought five cars of asphalt, 20 men for six months' work on improving the Cox College grounds, 18 men for two months for work on Bar-

CRACK A. C. L. TRAIN DERAILED: 5 HURT

10 Cars Leave Tracks on Jesup Cut-Off Near Nahant.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 16. (AP)—Ten cars of the Atlantic Coast line de luxe coach train "The Vacationer" were derailed a mile and a half north of Nahant, Ga., tonight and first reports here said five passengers were injured, none seriously.

F. B. Langley, transportation superintendent, said a broken rail was believed to have been responsible.

Reports indicated that the injuries to the five passengers requiring hospital treatment were minor, Langley declared.

The train was northbound from Miami to New York, Langley said traffic would be delayed little if any by the mishap. The wreck occurred on what is known as the Jesup cut-off.

nett park and sufficient labor to lay 1-2 miles of 8-inch sewer pipe.

Other action by the commissioners follow:
1—Authorized the employment of eight persons with combined salaries totaling $15,000 in the county health department under the department's expanded health program. This amount had already been included in the tentative budget.

2—Voted to pay the school department $240,000—$20,000 a month—as authorized by law.

Those employed in the health department include Dr. Rufus Payne, assistant health officer; Mrs. Lesley Kelly Cather, supervisor of nurses; Mrs. Gregory Duffey, Mrs. Mable Wright Hamrick, Miss Margaret Medlock, Miss Gladys Lilly, and Miss Mabel Nolan, nurses, and Mrs. Nell Colwell, clerk.

POSTMASTER CONFIRMED.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The senate confirmed today the nomination of Wiley E. Johnston, Cordele, to postmaster at Cordele, Georgia.

GLADSTONE BAGS
Good Quality of Leather
$5.00 up to $50.00
We Carry a Large Assortment

W. Z. Turner Luggage Co.
219 PEACHTREE ST.

Miss 'Scarlett O'Hara' No Hussy to Her

Constitution Staff Photo—Pete Roton.
Mrs. Emma Wallace, who lives on a mountain farm near Luttrell, Tenn., saw her first motion picture yesterday—"Gone With the Wind." She enjoyed the film and thought "Scarlett" had a "big heart."

Yankee Soldier's Daughter Coaxed To First Film by 'Gone With Wind'

A little gray-haired mountain woman from up in Tennessee saw her first motion picture here yesterday. She wasn't much impressed.

Of course, Mrs. Emma Wallace will explain she didn't come all that way from her farm near Luttrell, Tenn., to Atlanta just to see a picture. It was a desire to see her new grandson that brought her here, but while sitting around the house she became interested in reading "Gone With the Wind."

Then she wanted to see "Scarlett" in action.

Her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Smith, of 1143 Church street, N. W., took her to see the first and only picture she ever wanted to see yesterday.

Did she like the movie? she was asked.

"Yes, sir."

Does she want to see another?

"No, sir."

Which character did she like the best?

"Melanie."

What did she think of "Scarlett"?

"I don't care to say."

Was she a "hussy"?

"No, sir. There was too much good in her."

What made her want to see this picture?

"I read 'Gone With the Wind' since coming to Atlanta. The book is not so popular up home as it is here. I don't know of anybody up there who has a copy."

Did your father fight in the war?

"Yes, sir."

Was he a Rebel or a Yankee?

"He was a Yankee, sir."

NEW LABOR LAWS TO BE EXPLAINED

Jobless Bureau and Pension Employees Will Speak Over State.

Representatives of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation and the Social Security Board will speak at a series of public meetings to be held throughout the state beginning in February, the Department of Labor announced yesterday.

Purpose of the meetings are to explain the new labor laws and to answer any questions which have arisen, it was said.

Schedule of meetings follows:

Albany, Monday, February 5; Bainbridge, Tuesday, February 6; Thomasville, Wednesday, February 7; Moultrie, Thursday, February 8; Valdosta, Friday, February 9.

Tifton, Monday, February 12; Waycross, Tuesday, February 13; Brunswick, Wednesday, February 14; Macon, Monday, February 19; Milledgeville, Tuesday, February 20; Augusta, Wednesday, February 21; Savannah, Thursday, February 22; Swainsboro, Friday, February 23.

Dublin, Monday, February 26; Cordele, Tuesday, February 27; Americus, Wednesday, February 28; Newnan, Monday, March 4; Griffin, Tuesday, March 5; Thomasville, Wednesday, March 6; LaGrange, Thursday, March 7; Columbus, Friday, March 8; Monroe, Monday, March 11; Athens, Tuesday, March 12; Elberton, Wednesday, March 13.

Marietta, Monday, March 18; Cedartown, Tuesday, March 19; Cartersville, Wednesday, March 20; Rome, Thursday, March 21; Summerville, Friday, March 22; LaFayette, Monday, March 25; Dalton, Tuesday, March 26; Canton, Wednesday, March 27.

Winder, Monday, April 1; Gainesville, Tuesday, April 2; Toccoa, Wednesday, April 3; Madison, Thursday, April 4; Conitum, Friday, April 5.

ESORT OF SONJA HEADS FOR DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Film Actor Alan Curtis said today he and his actress-wife, Priscilla Lawson, had been estranged for several months and she was preparing to ask for a divorce.

Since the separation, Curtis has been a frequent escort of Sonja Henie. He and Miss Lawson married at Las Vegas, Nev., in 1937.

LOANS ON HOMES
TO BUILD, BUY OR REFINANCE
NO APPLICATION FEE

Longest Terms — Lowest Rates
FULTON COUNTY FEDERAL Savings & Loan Association

Trust Co. of Ga. Bldg. WA. 5218
William M. Scurry, Mgr.

Finnish Envoy Asked To Be 'Stork,' Provide Clowers With War Orphan

Assistant Attorney General and Wife Anxious To Adopt Boy About Four With No Finland Representative Here, Plan Is Carried to Washington.

Sincere in his effort to adopt a Finnish war orphan, Assistant Attorney General E. J. (Sandy) Clower yesterday wrote Finland's minister to the United States asking the diplomat to serve as "stork."

Clower explained he and his wife were very anxious to adopt a boy—and for the past three or four weeks have been thinking about adopting a Finnish youngster about four years old.

Clower and his wife yesterday made known to the local Finnish relief fund committee that they would like to adopt a war orphan and asked details as to how they might proceed about doing so.

The local office agreed that having a representative of the Finnish people in Atlanta would be a great aid in causing Atlantans to contribute to the relief fund, but they didn't know where such an orphan could be found.

Hence, Clower's letter to the Hon. Hualmar J. Procopio, Finnish minister to the United States.

CLAYTON COUNTY OUT OF 'THE RED'

Ends Year With Money To Pay All Obligations.

Clayton county, for the first time in its fiscal history, has completed a year with enough money in the bank to pay all warrants and outstanding obligations, it was announced yesterday by Miss A. L. Rutherford, clerk and acting board of commissioners.

The Clayton board of commissioners was dissolved in December following trials of the five officials on charges of malpractice of office.

H. Grady Moore, the only commissioner not found guilty, has agreed not to participate in county affairs pending appeal of his hearing which ended in a mistrial.

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN
Dr. I. G. Lockett
DENTISTS
Hours: 8 to 6, Sunday 9 to 1
113 1/2 Alabama St. WA. 1612

Clearance! 300 Pairs of Sport Oxfords

$1.98

Were $4.95 NOW

A variety of styles in all colors! Broken sizes—so be here early to find the shoe you want in your size!

DOWNSTAIRS

J.P. ALLEN & CO.
Atlanta

We made this statement on the Air

... now we repeat it in print

“A GOOD MANY confusing things can be said... in fact sometimes are said... about gasoline. The important thing, however, for you to remember always is to buy the product of a company in which you have the utmost confidence... a company whose avowed policy is to manufacture and sell only the finest products that skill, science, and great resources make possible.

“This is the policy of Gulf. Its gasolines, Good Gulf and No-Nox, are today greatly improved over what they were even six months ago... just as six months ago they were even better products than they were the year before. All this is done as a matter of course, and is the result of forever keeping pace with every known means of product improvement.

“With Gulf the policy of constantly improving the quality of its products is a pledge... a pledge that you motorists will find maintained whenever you stop at the Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc.”

Now... new ... improved

THAT GOOD GULF

... a regular-priced motor fuel that compares favorably with many higher-priced gasolines. Because it's refined to meet the specific needs of the locality in which it is sold, That Good Gulf Gasoline gives complete satisfaction in power, mileage, and smooth all-around performance.

GULF NO-NOX

... a super-fine fuel that no regular-grade gasoline—regardless of the claims made for it—can touch for anti-knock value. No-Nox gives lightning-like starts... permits more rapid acceleration... delivers smooth, knockproof power under all normal driving conditions.

GULF OIL CORPORATION

SOUTHEAST BUILDS FOR PERMANENCY, RAIL OFFICIAL SAYS

Dixie's Prosperity Not Short-Lived, Legh R. Powell Declares; Mill Farm Gains Are Cited.

Any pessimists around town, or around the southeast, who believe the present wave of prosperity in these parts is also to be short-lived, are respectfully referred to Legh R. Powell, receiver of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, who spent most of yesterday here.

"The southeast is building up and it is permanent building," he declared. "It is the sort of development and improvement in conditions that will last. I don't believe anyone who knows the facts doubts that for a moment."

"Textiles Good."

Improvement, he said, was observable almost to a startling extent, both in the industrial and agricultural fields. And this was from a man who four or five days before had been south of Miami, who in the next day or so was in Baltimore, had then issued quietly into Atlanta, and who this morning is scheduled to be looking things over in Birmingham.

"Textiles are very good, and so is steel," he observed. "Pulp mills are doing an excellent business and are forming a part of this permanent growth. Surplus agricultural products, such as citrus fruits, are being processed, saved and marketed. Growth is evident in many lines."

The official, who was president of the line before being appointed receiver, said none of the progress to which he pointed as permanent was traceable to the war.

Sees Peace Boom.

He voiced agreement with an opinion of Robert F. Maddox, Sr., former director of the railroad, and his host at an informal luncheon at the Capital City Club, that a cessation of hostilities, instead of causing a slight depression, might well bring on a period of accelerated business activity due to the release of billions for investment which now are idle because of the war.

"As for the railroads," observed Mr. Powell, "they are doing very well."

He was accompanied by W. G. Jones, veteran official now serving as assistant to the receiver. Both attended a meeting of the Traffic Club last night before departing, in their private car, for a similar gathering in Birmingham today.

HUIET AND AIDES TO ATTEND SESSION

Will Leave This Morning for Jacksonville.

Six representatives of the Georgia Department of Labor will leave this morning for Jacksonville to attend the annual conference of the Employment Securities Officers in Region 7. The meeting continues Thursday through Saturday.

Attending will be Commissioner W. T. Huie, J. E. B. Stewart, Marion O'Connor, Edward Bryson, Ben H. Askew and Clifford Walker. The region is comprised by Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and South Carolina.

STANDARD FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

Organized in 1927.

A local and mutual thrift institution, one of the 300 members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System—During 1939 Savings, Building and Loan Associations insured 400,000 American home owners over $1,000,000,000. For "Safe Home Loan" plans call or write: J. L. R. BOYD, Secretary.

35 WALTON ST., N. W.
(State Life Bldg.)
MA. 6619—Atlanta, Ga.

There Are Two Ways to Get at Constipation

Yes, and only two ways—before and after it happens! Instead of enduring those dull, tired, head-achy days and then having to take an emergency cathartic—why not KEEP regular with Kellogg's All-Bran? You can, if your constipation is the kind millions have—due to lack of "bulk" in the diet. For All-Bran goes right to the cause of this trouble by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this toasted, nutritious cereal regularly—with milk or cream, or baked into muffins—drink plenty of water, and see if your life isn't a whole lot brighter! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

JOYFUL RELIEF FROM BACKACHE

When your back feels like it's splitting, and you can't go on another minute, be sensible! get help quick with powerful, penetrating Omega Oil. This grand liniment goes to work fast—where it does most good—massage deeply—you'll soon know why thousands of men and women sing its praises. Eases all muscular pains and chest-cold tightness, too. 35¢ all drug stores. Money back if not delighted.

RUB IN OMEGA OIL IT PENETRATES

Flouts the Pessimists

LEGH R. POWELL, Receiver of Seaboard Railroad.

RULING ON BIBB CASE THIS WEEK

County Seeks Distribution of State Funds on Pupil-Census Basis.

Superior Judge Paul Etheridge has arranged to rule later this week on a Bibb county (Macon) appeal for court sanction of a 68-year-old statute providing distribution of state school funds on a pupil census allotment.

The county, in a mandamus action against the State Department of Education and Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of education, contends the act setting up its educational system antedates the Georgia constitution of 1877 by five years, and was not affected by subsequent legislation.

Assistant Attorney General Marshall L. Allison, 4 E. J. Clover, representing the state, told Judge Etheridge the 1902 legislature in effect repealed the 1837 act when it adopted a bill sponsored by Representative H. S. Aiken, of Bulloch, requiring distribution of school funds to all counties on the teacher-unit allotment plan set up under the 1937 general education act.

Judge Etheridge said he would rule on the case late this week, probably Saturday.

Allison said outcome of the case would affect also the school systems of Chatham (Savannah) and Richmond (Augusta) where local administration is governed by acts similarly antedating the constitution of 1877.

Prior to the 1933 legislative session, the Georgia supreme court upheld the contention of these three counties that they were specifically exempt from the new system of distribution, and for a time they received funds on the old pupil census basis. The Aiken act was aimed specifically at extending provisions of the 1937 legislation to include Bibb, Chatham and Richmond counties.

HEIL'S TAX STAND PRAISED BY BAILEY

Wisconsin Chief Termed 'Courageous Politician.'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 16.—(P)—A pledge of Governor Julius P. Heil, of Wisconsin, to seek elimination of his state's 15-cent-a-pound tax on oleomargarine drew praise from Governor Carl E. Bailey.

"His statement brands him as a very courageous politician since his attitude obviously is bound to be contrary to the interests of many in his state," Bailey said. "His action can be interpreted only as an attempt to exalt the unity and welfare of the nation as a whole rather than that of some particular section."

Heil, on a tour of southern states, made his pledge at Atlanta, classing the oleomargarine tax as his state's only barrier.

Southern cottonseed producers have criticized the Wisconsin levy, enacted to protect that state's dairy industry. Some have advocated boycotting Wisconsin butter.

INSURANCE AGENTS SELECT OFFICERS

J. Bryan Willingham Named Secretary, Treasurer.

Officers for the Georgia Association of Mutual Insurance Agents, a fire and casualty organization, were elected at the third annual convention held here last week, it was announced yesterday.

Named president was J. A. Ayary, of West Point. Other officers for 1940 were W. S. Conner, of Douglas, vice president, and J. Bryan Willingham, of Atlanta, secretary and treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were J. H. Brett, of Statesboro; W. E. Burton, of Cartersville; Sam S. Chandler, of Macon; R. E. Dismukes, of Columbus; Lawrence Murray, of Columbus; Davenport Sanford, of Augusta, and E. W. Strickland, of Fitzgerald.

When COLD'S CAUSE SORE THROAT remember TONSILINE

50 FIREMEN FIGHT $55,000 BLAZE HERE

Two Buildings Destroyed by Mitchell Street Three-Alarm Fire.

A three-alarm fire completely destroyed two buildings at 191-197 Mitchell street, less than a block from the new post office, about 6 o'clock yesterday morning and snarled work-bound traffic for more than an hour as 50 firemen battled the $55,000 blaze.

The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out in the Toggery, a clothing store owned by Ben Levine, and spread rapidly to the adjacent Citizens' Loan Association, owned by M. Ellman.

Firemen and traffic were hampered by ice forming on the over-flow water and dense smoke darkened the southwest portion of the city long after daylight, obscuring the capitol dome several blocks east.

Both one-story buildings were of frame construction and the blaze easily broke through ceilings and walls. Levine estimated a $30,000 loss to his building and merchandise while Ellman said the loss to the loan company would reach $25,000.

Slight water damage was inflicted on the Mitchell street branch of the Citizens and Southern National Bank which adjoins the loan office.

Firemen directed the fight from Mitchell street and from the roofs of adjoining buildings. Extension lines run from street lights helped clear the way through the dense smoke.

The fire was discovered at 5:45 o'clock by Patrolman M. B. Hogue, who noticed the smoke while patrolling his Mitchell street beat.

$15,000 BACK PAY CHECKS INDICATED

Legal Department Ruling Paves Way for Refund to Civil Court Employees.

Possibility that the county may have to pay between $15,000 and $20,000 in back pay to certain employees of the civil court of Fulton county was indicated yesterday when the legal department ruled that if pay cuts put through in 1931 decreased their pay below the minimums described by law the employees would be entitled to refunds.

In view of this ruling, the commissioners referred the matter to the county auditor and attorney to determine the exact amount due.

This ruling, it was pointed out, affects deputy clerks and deputy marshals of the court, none of whom have filed claims.

Only recently, the commissioners completed payment of approximately $46,000 in back salaries to superior and criminal court officials and bailiffs under terms of a supreme court ruling which held the cuts were illegal.

Constitution Want Ads convert "Dust Gatherers" into cash. Phone WA. 6565.

High's

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Barbara Gould PALETTE

Matched Shades of FACE POWDER, ROUGE, LIPSTICK, NAIL POLISH all four only $1.

NOW, for a limited time, you can secure a complete make-up kit with harmonizing shades of Face Powder, Rouge, Lipstick and Nail Polish—for only $1.00! This rare value is available only during the visit of the Barbara Gould representative, Miss Margaret Toole. Consult her for YOUR correct make-up and beauty problems—in HIGH'S Toilet Goods Department—now!

HOUSE FROCKS—HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

He Heads Optometrists

DR. STEPHEN GERNAZIAN.

CLUB COUNCIL ELEC.

THOMSON, Ga., Jan. 16.—New officers of the McDuffie County Home Demonstration Council are: Mrs. Ira F. Farmer, president; Mrs. Frank Guy, first vice president; Mrs. Russell Farr, second vice president; and Mrs. J. H. Lewis, secretary-treasurer.

Both one-story buildings were of frame construction and the blaze easily broke through ceilings and walls. Levine estimated a $30,000 loss to his building and merchandise while Ellman said the loss to the loan company would reach $25,000.

Slight water damage was inflicted on the Mitchell street branch of the Citizens and Southern National Bank which adjoins the loan office.

Firemen directed the fight from Mitchell street and from the roofs of adjoining buildings. Extension lines run from street lights helped clear the way through the dense smoke.

The fire was discovered at 5:45 o'clock by Patrolman M. B. Hogue, who noticed the smoke while patrolling his Mitchell street beat.

Possibility that the county may have to pay between $15,000 and $20,000 in back pay to certain employees of the civil court of Fulton county was indicated yesterday when the legal department ruled that if pay cuts put through in 1931 decreased their pay below the minimums described by law the employees would be entitled to refunds.

In view of this ruling, the commissioners referred the matter to the county auditor and attorney to determine the exact amount due.

This ruling, it was pointed out, affects deputy clerks and deputy marshals of the court, none of whom have filed claims.

Only recently, the commissioners completed payment of approximately $46,000 in back salaries to superior and criminal court officials and bailiffs under terms of a supreme court ruling which held the cuts were illegal.

Constitution Want Ads convert "Dust Gatherers" into cash. Phone WA. 6565.

This ruling, it was pointed out, affects deputy clerks and deputy marshals of the court, none of whom have filed claims.

Constitution Want Ads convert "Dust Gatherers" into cash. Phone WA. 6565.

High's

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Barbara Gould PALETTE

Matched Shades of FACE POWDER, ROUGE, LIPSTICK, NAIL POLISH all four only $1.

NOW, for a limited time, you can secure a complete make-up kit with harmonizing shades of Face Powder, Rouge, Lipstick and Nail Polish—for only $1.00! This rare value is available only during the visit of the Barbara Gould representative, Miss Margaret Toole. Consult her for YOUR correct make-up and beauty problems—in HIGH'S Toilet Goods Department—now!

HOUSE FROCKS—HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

OFFICERS ELECTED BY OPTOMETRISTS

Georgia Association Holds Annual Convention in Atlanta.

The Georgia State Association of Optometrists, meeting in its annual convention at the Henry Grady hotel Sunday and Monday, elected officers for 1940, it was announced yesterday.

Heading the organization are Dr. Stephen Gernazian, of Atlanta, president; Dr. George V. Stephens, of Gainesville, first vice president; Dr. Joel Smith, of LaGrange, second vice president, and Dr. A. Scott Gibson, of Thomaston, secretary-treasurer.

GEORGIA POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(P)—Georgia postmasters confirmed by the senate today included: Blanche Chambliss, Alapaha; Ira Leggett, Baxley; John G. Butler, Blakely; Essie T. Patterson, Byronville; James Paul Williams, Chipley; Nathan J. Thompson, Hamilton; Morgan Thompson, Hawkinsville; Olive S. Fraser, Hinesville; William Peyton Cravey, Milan; George S. Gardner, Montezuma; Sara K. Polk, Moreland; Spencer K. Allen, Nahant; Joseph D. Holland, Nashville; Isaac F. Arnow, Saint Marys; Doddridge Houser, Shannon.

High's

SALE GIANT SIZE CURTAINS

94 IN. X 2 1/2 YDS.

CUSHION DOT MARQUISSETTE

$1.00 PAIR

CREAM ECRU—DUSTY ROSE SHELL PEACH—GREEN—BLUE

Bring spring to your home! These fresh, sparkling, crisp curtains are JANUARY SALE PRICED to give you, your home and your budget a lift! RUFFLED styles... in cushion dot marquisette; luscious colors! TAILORED styles... too! Each side 36 inches wide, 2 1/2 yards long! Both sides hemmed. Cream, French Ecrú. Hurry in for yours today!

CURTAINS—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Mail and Phone Orders Filled Call WA. 8681

SAVE 20% to 40% WHITE SALE

FREE MONOGRAMMING

EBL K26 $1.19 HIGHLANDER SHEETS

81x99 72x99 63x99

Laundry tested and free from dressing for long wear! Choice of thrifty women for value and savings! Monogrammed free! Enjoy JANUARY WHITE SALE advantages now!

84° 97°

$1.29 Cannon Sheets

Fine muslin—in your choice of three useful sizes: 81x99, 72x108, 72x99. Famed for quality; priced for your savings now!

REGULAR $1.89 "MODERN MANSION" MONOGRAMMED PERCALE SHEETS

Save 72c on every sheet and enjoy the marvelous luxury of fine spun, closely woven, long staple cotton sheets. 4-inch hems. 81x99, 72x108-inch sizes. Monogrammed free!

29c FEATHERPROOF TICKING, guaranteed featherproof 19c near blue stripe. Yard

$1.49 MATTRESS COVERS, box style with tape-bound edge; rubber buttons. Each $1

$3.98 DOWN AND FEATHER PILLOWS, 25% goose down, 75% goose feathers. Each $2.49

$1.39 DOBBY BEDSPREADS, woven in doobby design, krinkle effect. Each $1

LINENS AND DOMESTICS—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

YOU'LL ADORE Adoration

new pattern in 1847 ROGERS BROS.

America's Finest Silverplate

Its new, even higher raised motif... its finely chased edges... its streamlined and slender handles, its lovely lustre finish, show what sterling craftsmanship can do when applied to silverplate.

62 Pc. Service for Eight

$1 Down! $63.95 $1 a Week!

Other Sets as Low as $33.50

Yes! It's EASY to buy... on HIGH'S easy payment plans! As little as $1 down! $1 a week!

SILVERWARE—STREET FLOOR

DE LUXE VENETIAN BLINDS

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR INSTALLATION

$3.98

- 14-in. Slats
- Enclosed Valance Top
- Automatic Stop and Gear Tilt
- 2 Coats duPont Enamel Paint
- 29, 30, 32, 34, 36-in. Wide; 64-in. Long
- White, Ivory

BLINDS—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

SAVE 20% to 40% WHITE SALE!

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL, Editor and Publisher
RALPH MCGILL, Executive Editor

H. H. TROTTI, V-Pres. and Bus. Manager
RALPH T. JONES, Associate Editor

Entered at the Post Office at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WA 5651

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier or Mail
1 Wk. 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Daily and Sunday $2.00 $10.00 $25.00 $45.00 $120.00
Daily only 20c 1.00 2.50 5.00 9.50
Single Copies—Daily 5c Sunday 10c
BY MAIL ONLY
1 Wk. 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
10c 50c $1.25 $2.50 $5.00

Mail rates for R. F. D. and small or non-dealer towns for 1st, 2d and 3d postal zones only on application.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotelling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third Street (Times Building corner). Request a copy of The Constitution to be delivered to your room each day when you register at a New York hotel.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized, and are not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., JANUARY 17, 1940.

For Georgia's Sake, Stop!

Governor Rivers and the deposed chairman of the State Highway Board, W. L. Miller, are making the name of Georgia a laughing stock in the eyes of the nation. Regardless of the personal, legal and official ins and outs of the dispute which has now raged around the highway offices for weeks, the result is the same. Georgia is once again held up to ridicule and to scorn as a state which cannot handle its administrative affairs without troops of soldiery, physical violence and resort to martial law.

Atlanta, as a city, has of recent months been blessed with many columns of invaluable publicity in the newspapers and magazines of the nation. Atlanta entertained a group of the most popular screen idols in the world, for half a week, when Margaret Mitchell's great story, "Gone With the Wind" had its screen premiere here. Never did any city handle a like situation better than did Atlanta.

Thousands of Baptists from all parts of the world came here during the summer for the Baptist World Alliance. They carried back with them, to their scattered homes, the word that Atlanta and Georgia is a most delightful place. A city of culture and of hospitality. A state of beauty, and a people of civilized intelligence.

Now, a few short months after this favorable picture of Atlanta has gone out to the world, a large part of its good effect is smeared into nullity because the Governor of the state and a deposed official of his administration squabble like jealous boys at the state capitol. News photo services send out pictures, used in almost every daily newspaper in the country, of Georgia's highway board chairman being dragged from office along the capitol floor upon his back, while husky henchmen of the Governor haul him by the heels.

The news goes out that armed military guards patrol the highway and military departments, to keep one man out of office and to prevent officers of the law from carrying to jail the adjutant general of Georgia, and a lieutenant colonel under his command, to serve a sentence for contempt of court. The fact that when the warrant for his arrest was served yesterday, the adjutant general had a pardon signed by the Governor, ready in his pocket, merely adds to the buffoonery of the situation.

Governor Rivers and former Highway Board Chairman Miller are fellow citizens of the same small town in south Georgia. The new member of the road board, Lawson L. Patten, appointed to the vacancy caused by Miller's depose, is from the same county.

Thus there may have been added certitude to the Governor's voice when he said, in talking with Governor Julius P. Heil, of Wisconsin, a visitor of the week, "when kinfolks get to fighting, the fur flies worse than in any other kind of scrap." True, the Governor was then speaking of Democrats as a whole and, in so far as known, neither he nor Miller nor Patten are related. Yet, as neighbors from a small town in a small county, they are probably better acquainted than many "kinfolks."

No one who has not been privy to all the background of the highway board fight can possibly hope to understand the deep reasons for the falling out between Rivers and Miller. Once they were friends. Indubitably, they are now bitter enemies. What caused the change is a secret between them.

There have been court hearings and court orders, citations and convictions for contempt, other legal thrusts and counter thrusts. To decide the right or wrong of the matter would require the law knowledge and the judicial training of the supreme court.

However, one thing is plain not only to Georgia but, unfortunately, to all the world. A governor of Georgia has once again resorted to the use of military force during a political disagreement. Hitler, you know, and Stalin, follow a similar procedure anent political foes.

Governor Rivers, it must not be forgotten, promised, during his primary campaigns, he would never resort to martial law as his predecessor, Governor Talmadge, had done in circumstances altogether similar to those at the Highway Department today.

The one, outstanding, pitiful aspect of the Rivers-Miller row is that Georgians must stand, helplessly bewildered and ashamed, while Georgia's capitol is turned into a spectacle of derision, similar to the comic opera fantasies of some imaginary, pocket-handkerchief size, Central American republic.

It Must Be Good!

Governor Julius P. Heil, of Wisconsin, is making a tour of the south, seeking to smooth the ruffled feelings of a section which has seen one of its principal products, cottonseed oil, denied a good market because of the Wisconsin tax on oleomargarine. Cottonseed oil is the chief ingredient of oleomargarine.

Governor Heil says he advocates repeal of Wisconsin's tax on margarine, but at the same time decries the tax as "just a little thing," bringing in a revenue to his state of only $15,800 a year.

The Wisconsin tax on margarine is 15 cents a pound. It is intended, frankly, to keep margarine out of that state, for the benefit of the dairy interests there. If, as Governor Heil says, the annual revenue from the tax is $15,800 a year, that means 105,333.33 pounds of margarine enter his state annually.

Which, when it is considered the purchasers have to pay that 15-cent tax in addition to the retail price everywhere they buy a pound, shows that margarine made of cotton seed oil must be mighty, mighty good. To sell 105,000 pounds a year, despite such a prohibitive tax, it must be good!

The activities of Governor Heil, in seeking commercial peace between his state and the south, are the outcome of reprisals recently taken by a number of southern states, against the margarine tax. Wisconsin has many products she has been accustomed to sell in quantity, in the south. Such as butter, cheese, beer, machinery, etc. Wisconsin would like to continue selling to her customers in the south.

In many sections of the south, however, there is at present a virtual boycott against products of Wisconsin. In reprisal for that margarine tax.

For years the south has protested the margarine tax. Its evil effect cannot be computed by the revenue it brings in, great or small. It is its effectiveness in keeping margarine out of Wisconsin that measures its injury to the cottonseed producers of the south. The smaller the revenue, in fact, the stronger the proof of its success as a state barrier to a wholesome southern product.

There should, of course, be no trade barriers among any of the states. The growing tendency to erect these state tariffs, regulations and restrictions, all intended to keep beyond the borders the products of other states, can only result in Balkanizing the states and marring the unity of the nation.

However, if Wisconsin is, at last, awake to the evil of state tariffs and recognizes that her own prohibitive tax on margarine is one of the worst examples of the evil, the southern boycotts against Wisconsin products must have done good.

The south doesn't like to boycott products of any state and will be delighted to resume unrestricted buying of Wisconsin goods, just as soon as Wisconsin clears away the state tariff against our own good product, margarine made from cottonseed oil.

Advice to Students

Advice to college students is apt to be as sophomoric as some of the men and women to whom it is addressed. Such a criticism does not apply, however, in the recent appeal to students throughout the country sent out by the United Student Peace Committee, affiliated with the National Peace Conference and represented on the World Council of Fellowship Through Churches.

The appeal urged all students to do all in their power to prevent the United States from being drawn into the war. To this end, the committee suggests the organization of peace councils, forums and committees for academic freedom. The committee points out that campus sentiment for remaining out of European conflicts is overwhelming, and all needed is to make this sentiment effective.

The circular letter sent to the students states, in part:

"The present war in Europe bids fair to end the liberty and well being of all peoples engaged in it unless it can be brought to an end. Our own involvement would inevitably jeopardize States" the democracy and prosperity of the United States.

A Hollywood blonde has a brown study installed in the new home, for brooding. Architects, we hear, are now at work on a basement tantrum room.

Editorial of the Day

TIME TO PAY CASH
(From The Dallas Morning News)

Congressman Rayburn was right when he told Baltimore Jackson Day diners that the United States should pay cash for whatever additional armament program is carried out. But he indulges in a bit of forensic legerdemain when he says that "we ought to be willing to pay for our own national defense if we are going to make nations who purchase the means of their national defense from us pay cash." In the first place, we are not sure that nations are paying cash because they are paying by shipping us the last of the world's supply of monetary gold that is not already in our vaults, and we don't know whether it will be worth anything when we have all of it. The only way to be sure that a foreign country is paying "cash" for its purchases is to see that there is a balance in the exchange of goods and services. This isn't true at present. And the principle simply is not applicable to government financing. The point is that Congressman Rayburn compares the incomparable.

Furthermore, Congressman Rayburn's demand for cash payment for armament expenditures means little unless the country should go on a cash basis in all expenditures. Certainly, the country can pay cash for $450,000,000 spent on armament and it could easily raise additional taxes to cover this item, but it doesn't mean anything if the total deficit at the end of the year is to be greater than the year before. Bookkeeping which constantly robs Peter to pay Paul to justify every pending issue demanding more appropriations has been characteristic of New-Deal financing. It has a way of looking good in an individual argument, but at the end of seven years the resulting increase in the national debt is impressive. Congressman Rayburn will be talking sound government finance when he says that the government ought to pay cash for all of its transactions from here on out.

THE CAPITAL PARADE FAIR ENOUGH

By JOSEPH ALSOP AND ROBERT KINTNER.

MANY NEUTRALS THREATENED WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. — Holland and Belgium are again hastily mobilizing, but they are not the only neutral nations now in danger of sudden German invasion. Huge concentrations of German troops are reported on the Dutch and upper Belgian borders, from Cleves to Aix La Chapelle, but there is also authoritative word of heavy troop movements into Slovakia and the tip of German Poland, on the northern Hungarian frontier.

Opinion in the State Department is sharply divided on the meaning of these new signs. One faction argues that the threat to Hungary is a feint, since so few mechanized units have accompanied the infantry that the Germans hardly seem ready to strike to the eastward. Another faction maintains that the threat to the Netherlands and Belgium is the feint, and that Hitler is determined to mop up Hungary and Rumania while the Russians are preoccupied in Finland. And still a third faction is inclined to think that the signs are meaningless, since signs of the same sort have proved deceptive twice before within 12 months.

HISTORY REPEATS In November, the present pattern was almost exactly duplicated. Troop concentrations were observed in the same places. The Hungarians were secretly requested to grant German troops free passage for an attack on Rumania, and flatly refused. The Belgians were asked to promise neutrality in the event of an attack on Holland, thus isolating the Dutch from Allied aid except by sea. They also refused, presumably after King Leopold's surprise dash to the Hague by night, to confer with Queen Wilhelmina. The German troops did not move.

Nevertheless, the escape was narrow. The best substantiated story goes that Hitler, urged on by such civilian hothouses as the slick Von Ribbentrop, believed that the deadlock must be broken somewhere. He is supposed to have gone so far as to prepare the necessary army orders, and it is known that on November 13 emergency rationing was issued to the German divisions chosen to lead the invasion of Holland. But after a sharp argument with his generals, Hitler changed his mind and tore the orders up.

The escape was also narrow last January, even before the invasion of Prague. At that time, as November, Hitler's diplomats pressed the Belgians for a promise of neutrality if Holland was invaded. Moreover, the Belgians, doubting the English and French readiness to aid them, then seemed almost ready to give in. For a fortnight the foreign offices and bourses of the world shivered with secret apprehension (for this crisis was not much mentioned in the press). A blitzkrieg against Holland was seriously feared until the Belgians would not give the desired promise.

ODDS ON THE BEARS Now the situation is seriously complicated for the Germans, both because Belgium is thought much more likely to hold by her previous stand, and because Italy and Turkey are both intimately interested in the Balkan situation. Wherever the attack comes, if it does come, the war will probably spread far beyond the country actually invaded.

On the whole, it seems most probable that if there is an attack it will be against Holland. Geography is important here. Holland is a rough parallelogram, with the big corner of the North sea almost nipped off between the mouths of the Rhine and the end of the Zuider Zee. This corner is the citadel of Holland, containing most of the country's industry, the six most important cities, and the potential air bases against England, which are the real German objectives. The Dutch war plan is to retire into the citadel corner, opening the dykes to flood the neck of land between the Zuider Zee and the Rhine mouths. The time for an attack on Holland is very short, therefore, since the brief European winter is passing, and a thaw is at hand.

The attack in the east is even more problematical. The Russians would be expected to join in it. Since the Russians want Bessarabia and Bessarabia will soon be a sea of mud, the time is also short in the east. Moreover, it seems unlikely that the Germans would attempt such an attack without bringing up their mechanized forces, even though tempted by the chance to grab most of the Balkans, than their Russian allies will like. Thus, the future remains anybody's guess, with the odds on bearish guessers.

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

Policemen
And Umbrellas.

Met an oldtime member of the force, the other day, and we got to talking about his experiences as a patrolman. Asked him how often he'd been called on the carpet before the police committee and he admitted it wasn't an infrequent experience in the old days.

Always, though, his offense was the same—carrying an umbrella while on duty.

It seems that, years ago, it was against regulations for policemen to carry umbrellas, yet all of them wanted such protection against the weather on rainy nights. (This was in the days of long "night sticks," and those queer looking, high crowned gray helmets, you know.)

Anyway, a lot of the cops used to show up for inspection at the station house with a crook-handed umbrella hanging from the inside pocket of the coat and covered with a slicker, or raincoat. Then, when safely away from the station, on their beats, and away from the eye of superior officers, out would come the umbrella. Mister Policeman would raise it in customary manner above head and helmet.

However, it was unavoidable that some one in authority should see the be-umbrella'd cops, occasionally and there'd be a critical report and a reprimand, or something.

It was on the umbrella-carrying charge my particular old fellow was hauled up so frequently.

But don't you believe, for one moment, those oldtime cops were sissies, just because they had a hankering for umbrellas on their duty. They were a tough bunch of rascals—had to be.

How Long
Since You've Seen—?

While on the subject of oldtime habits, how long is it since you've seen a fellow walking up the street with one of those little, punched tickets the railroad conductor sticks in your hatband? I mean on the street with the paste-board slip still decorating the hat?

It used to be that practically every man leaving a railroad depot had this visible proof he'd been riding the cars. Understand, conductors still use such slips, but they stick 'em in the window by your seat, instead of your hat. And take 'em up before the end of your journey, anyway.

Then there was the "mileage book" custom. That seems to have gone with the ancient breezes, too.

A fellow who did any train riding at all would buy a mileage book with coupons good for 2,000 miles. Got one for $20. One cent a mile, see. Cheaper than buying a ticket at the ticket window every time you rode. More convenient, too. For, if you didn't want to waste time at the ticket window in the depot, you just got on the train, handed your mileage book to the conductor when he came around, told him where you were going and he tore the requisite mileage off at the proper perforated line.

There might be more train riding today if they restored the mileage book system. Especially if you could get 2,000 miles for $20.

Those Old Street Cars.

Let's keep the column in reminiscent mood, today.
Dya remember, the old time street cars? My best memory of these contraptions is in Toronto. Especially at winter time. They were little, rocking and rattling vehicles that bumped along the belt-line tracks at some five or 10 miles an hour.
And, in winter, it was the duty of the conductor to keep the pot-bellied iron stove in the left front corner of the car, hot. Hot, hot, hot, and wood into that stove until it shone red. And a long, jointed stove pipe carried the heat around the car. It was exciting to go up, through the roof. Necessary, with temperatures 15 or 20 or 30 below freezing, in winter time, too.

Wonder how they heat Toronto cars nowadays? Haven't been there for 30 years.

Their were no outer doors to the platforms, either. And the boy who couldn't "hop" the rear platform without waiting for the car to slow down its speed was a fearful sissy. That streetcar-hopping was one of the first arts you learnt, as a youngster. It was exciting to make a ride for a block or so, hanging to the back platform, while the conductor was collecting fares inside. Then, when he rushed out and made a futile grab at you, and you dropped from the car, it was essential to thumb your nose at him, most impolitely.

Grand old days, weren't they? Or, were they?

Twenty-Five years Ago Today.

From the news columns of Sunday, January 17, 1915:

"Atlanta's week of grand opera is assured beyond question. Within a week, and following almost a mere suggestion of it, the guarantee fund has reached $27,100, or nearly half the required total of $60,000."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From the news columns of Friday, January 17, 1890:

"The ladies are going to see and hear the celebrated Mrs. Scott-Siddons, at Trinity church, Tuesday night, January 21st. This is an opportunity of a life time."

Constitution Quiz
Can you answer seven of these test questions? Turn to want ad pages for the answers.

1. Which planet of the solar system is nearest to the sun?
2. What are homophones?
3. Name the Arctic port of Finland which was occupied by Soviet troops at the outbreak of the war.
4. On which peninsula is Greece?
5. What is the name for female patient bears?
6. What large observatory is located on Mount Hamilton, Cal.?
7. United States battleships are named after fish, states of the Union or admirals?
8. What is the correct pronunciation of the word "sympagamous"?
9. On which river is Norris Dam located?
10. Where is Alcatraz Island penitentiary?

THE CAPITAL PARADE FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Backslid Red NEW YORK, Jan. 16. — Ben Gitlow, the backslid Bolshevik who once had command of the Muscovite conspiracy against the United States, offers interesting testimony regarding the Communist youth movement in a book called "I Confess." Mr. Gitlow may be remembered as the witness who told the Dies Committee about the use of forged American passports by Communist leaders, the counterfeiting of American money by agencies of the Soviet government and the diversion or misappropriation for political purposes of money contributed by generous Americans for the relief of victims of the Russian famine.

As to whether the American youth congress has been dominated by the Communists, there is still conflict of belief. In moments of ungaurded enthusiasm prominent Communists have jubilantly claimed as much, but Mrs. Roosevelt insists that she has satisfied herself by inquiry that this is not so. It has not been denied, however, that the young Communists tried to seize control or that they are influential in the movement, so Mr. Gitlow's remarks about the Communist youth should interest the non-Communist youth of the country and their parents.

"They broke with their families," he writes of the American youth who were drawn into the Communist movement, "because the family was a Bourgeois institution which stood in the way of their Communist activities. Many completely divorced themselves from their parents. It was no unusual for parents to plead with us that we induce their children to show them some kind of consideration."

Case of Mr. Gitlow The Red Baby. cites the case of a father who entered the national offices in Chicago and, placing a card on the desk, told the party to take charge of the illegitimate child of his daughter, 16-years-old, who had been seduced by one of the party leaders.

"Loose morals were general," he writes. "Party leaders changed their wives sometimes as often as one does an overcoat. The young Communists had but to see what their elders in the party were doing. It is no wonder that they defied all moral codes. If a young girl who joined the Communist youth organization insisted upon maintaining her chastity she was frowned upon as Bourgeois by the self-styled revolutionists who had just emerged from knee breeches. Many of the young Communists considered the giving up on one's chastity as a mark of distinction. Young Communists did not long remain single, but the common-law marriages between them, as a rule were short-lived. The orgies and debaucheries among the young were spoken about in whispers in the party, never seriously discussed and considered. We felt that the profligate sex relations among the youth were something we could not control and that as long as the youth could be depended upon to serve the interests of the movement it was best to leave the matter alone."

Introductory Max Eastman, who wrote an introduction of the book, says the work of the Communist party in the United States involved a series of fanatical crimes not only against American law or Americanism but against the party's own principles and ideals. He is one of those who apparently would grant social amnesty to backsliders who participated or acquiesced in abominable offenses against patriotism and decency. He even bespeaks charity or understanding for Gitlow's opponents who, like Gitlow, were militant "in their factional maneuvering and their dirty trickery in general by superzealotry as well as by the mere thirst for power."

Not understanding Gitlow's present hostility to the party from the control of which he was arbitrarily removed by Josef Stalin, there may be Americans who will hesitate to forgive a man who felt that "profligate sex relations among the youth were something we could not control and that as long as the youth could be depended upon to serve the interests of the movement it was best to leave the matter alone." He didn't voluntarily give up his command but was kicked out of the leadership of an organization—purporting to be an American political party—by a foreign despot, and only since then has he come to the point of deploring to a mild degree having "set them (American youth) the example of placing no moral limits about anything we found expedient to do."

It may be doubted that any man who once placed no moral limits on anything he found expedient to do is now telling the truth or ever can be believed on his word alone. He may be lying now to discredit those who defeated him. It is a known fact, however, that the Communists recognize no moral limits, so enormity is no challenge to belief.

"Test Tube" Rabbit Climaxing years of research, Dr. Gregory Pincus, Clark University, was able to bring to normal birth a rabbit which was produced with only one parent (by scientifically induced parthenogenesis). The ovum from which the fatherless rabbit developed was not fertilized in the usual manner but was subjected to a saline solution and heat, and was then implanted in a "host" female rabbit. By the laws of heredity only female offspring can result from this procedure. The fatherless rabbit has already produced a litter of young in the ordinary way.

ONE WORD MORE

By RALPH MCGILL.

OHIO AND GEORGIA The sovereign states of Georgia and Ohio provided the news of yesterday, chasing the Germans and the Allies right off the top line. Georgia's Governor Rivers, involved in a fight with his highway department, issued a pardon which the defendant in a contempt case had in his pocket when the sheriff came with the warrant.

Ohio's delegation to the 1940 convention announced they actively would support President Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term. This is important because it was first. The ice is broken. It is either the first stone in the landslide or it is a lone voice crying in the political wilderness. It may be expected the President soon will commit himself. The Ohio delegation will support its own favorite son on the first ballot but announces immediately, with the consent of the favorite son, it is for Mr. Roosevelt and a third term.

THE THIRD TERM Maury Maverick, the former congressman from Texas and now mayor of San Antonio, believes President Roosevelt will offer for the third term. Maverick almost is alone in this belief. The majority of the political soothsayers and crystal gazers profess to believe the President is weary of it all and will not run.

Certain it is he told Jim Farley, well before the war in Europe, he would not be a candidate unless conditions were changed. The war did change them. Whether it changed them enough to change Roosevelt's mind remains to be seen.

Action by the Ohio delegation is surprising in that it was achieved without any repercussions. Apparently there was no objection by any of the political forces of the state. If so, none came to the surface.

Mr. Roosevelt ought not to run. The campaign, with him a candidate, would reach a state of bitterness and partisanship unknown since the dark days of Lincoln's administration and candidacy. Mr. Roosevelt could be a more effective force for his cause on the sidelines than in office.

While every person interested in politics wants to know what Mr. Roosevelt is going to do, it is obvious he has been politically wise in refusing to answer. Whatever influence he might have had the field would be left to all the candidates who have the presidential bee buzzing about their bonnets.

Ohio has strengthened his position.

HERE IN GEORGIA All through the history of government the departments of government jealously have guarded their powers. The judiciary has the stronger position. They materialist will say this is because the judiciary has written the decisions.

Nevertheless, the fight is a part of the history of government in our country. Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and, of course, Franklin D. Roosevelt, all had their jousts with the judiciary. Lincoln defied the supreme court. President Franklin Roosevelt attempted to change the numerical status of the court. He precipitated a fight which had the entire nation in opposing camps. The judiciary won but the actual victory, insofar as appointments went, was Roosevelt's.

Georgia has had the unwelcome presence of a fight between the highway department and the Governor's office. Out of this grew a fight between the judiciary and the Governor. Yesterday the adjutant general presented a pardon to a contempt warrant. It is an unfortunate state of affairs, and regardless of the merits of either side, the state is receiving much unwholesome publicity.

PARDONING POWER There always has been a difference of opinion regarding the pardoning power in contempt cases. It generally is held the Governor has the power to pardon in all cases of criminal contempt, not in civil contempt. Lawyers will tell you it is much easier to determine how many angels can stand on the point of a needle than to determine the exact line of demarcation between civil and criminal contempt. The Georgia case seemed to come under the criminal contempt interpretation. Civil contempt usually is defined, although not always, as a punishment such as, for instance, the arrest and jailing of a young man for failure to pay alimony.

Be that as it may, the Georgia fight finds all three departments drawn up in battle array. The legislature, the judiciary and the administrative forces have almost a year to go.

The best interests of the state require the fight be halted and the issue settled at the polls.

If You Wish to Name the Tune You Must Pay the Fiddler

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Some readers have questioned the statement, made in this column some weeks ago, that freedom and independence could be achieved by anybody willing to pay the price. They confuse themselves by thinking of independence only in terms of wealth.

Do you remember the old Greek philosopher who enjoyed examining the merchants' stock because he found there so many things he didn't need?

Our own Thoreau had the same idea. His chief skill consisted in needing little.

If successful living consists in obtaining luxury and wealth, a fat ape covered with diamonds would rank above the majority of men. Our minds reject that absurdity, yet few of us have the wisdom and the inner resources to live in contentment without showy possessions.

Thoreau tried merchandising and school teaching before making his Walden Pond experiment, but found the gain not equal to the cost in time and freedom.

Concerning the Walden experience he wrote: "For more than five years I maintained myself solely by the labor of my hands, and I found that by working about six weeks in a year, I could meet all the expenses of living. The whole of my winters, as well as most of my summers, I had free and clear for study. . . . I did not wish to spend my time in earning rich carpets or other fine furniture. . . . Those who would not know what to do with more leisure than they now enjoy, I might advise to work twice as hard as they do—work till they pay for themselves, and get their free papers. For myself I found that the occupation of a day laborer was the most independent of any. The laborer's day ends with the going down of the sun, and he is then free to devote himself to his chosen pursuit, but his employer has no respite from one end of the year to the other. In short, I am convinced both by faith and experience that to maintain one's self on this earth is not a hardship but a pastime, if we will live simply and wisely."

There you have the whole story, told by one who had dug his living from a few square rods of ground.

Isn't living that costs great effort, but show and waste. And the free man is the one who wants least, for every gain of money must be achieved by some sacrifice of independence and some conformity to the wishes of those who have the money you want—whether they are bosses or customers.

Something of a Record Although Mr. and Mrs. Boone Hudson, of Bowling Green, Ky., have six sons, three daughters, ten grandsons, one granddaughter, one great-grandson and one great-granddaughter, there has been only one death in the entire family.

OFF THE RECORD—By Ed Reed Ancient relics, even clothing, often are preserved for centuries in bags, because the acidity of the bag prevents growth of bacteria causing decay.

"It fascinates him the way it keeps going up—he's a stock broker."

TWO F. D. R. UNITS ARE THROWN WAY IN HOUSE SLASH

President's Uncle Head of One Pared Agency; Roosevelt Is Confident Bureau Will Not Die.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—All funds for two Roosevelt-created boards were slashed out of an appropriation bill today by a house committee, but the President expressed confidence that the two agencies would not die.

Before reporting a $1,012,307 bill for independent government offices to the house, the appropriations committee cut out $1,060,000 for the National Resources Planning Board and $1,055,000 for the office of government reports.

The former agency is headed by the President's uncle, Frederic A. Delano. The other was formerly known as the National Emergency Council. Critics of the Roosevelt administration have complained that the council, set up to coordinate the work of federal emergency agencies in the states, was actually a political organization.

In omitting the funds, the house committee explained that there was nothing in legislative history to authorize the agencies' existence. Mr. Roosevelt said committee members had informed him that Republican leaders had served notice they would object to any appropriations which could be scuttled by parliamentary objections and that any appropriation for the two boards would be subject to a point of order.

The agencies were not authorized specifically by congress, the President acknowledged, but came into being as part of the relief set-up. He expressed confidence that money would be provided after congress had passed an authorization bill.

JAPAN WILL COURT RUSSIA, ARITA SAYS

Nation 'To Make Strongest Possible Effort To Adjust Relations.'

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—(Wednesday) (AP)—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita told the Japanese press today that "we intend to make the strongest possible effort to adjust relations with Soviet Russia."

Rapidly outlining the course of Japan's foreign policy under the new cabinet of Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, Arita said a result "similar to the conclusion of a nonaggression pact" is sought with Japan's most-feared neighbor through current negotiations for demarcation of frontiers of the Asiatic mainland.

The new foreign minister was quoted yesterday as saying he expected Japan's relations with Germany and Italy to be "further deepened."

He added he intends to invite United States Ambassador Joseph Grew to a conference "within three or four days" to continue negotiations for some working agreement to replace the trade and navigation pact which expires January 26.

MUSICAL 'JOHN HENRY' CLOSES ON BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Broadway musical dramatization of Roark Bradford's story of "John Henry" starring the new singer, Paul Robeson, was declared closed today.

Theatrical circles said Producer Sam Bird and other interested parties in the production, with a reputed investment of $80,000, had decided not to continue the show after the first five performances despite an advance sale of $8,000.

OBSERVE Who DRINKS
WHITE HORSE
Blended Scotch Whisky 56.5 proof
Scotch

Dinnerware 3
COUPON

and four others consecutively numbered with 49 cents entitles the holder to any Redempting Station.

UNIT No. 15
Two Cups and
Two Saucers

Name..... City.....
Address.....

Returns Roll in--Lead Rolls Up--And Long Tunes Up

A song of triumph spills from Louisiana Governor Earl K. Long's jubilant lips as returns from the Democratic primary begin to roll in and his lead begins to roll up. Long (center) is surrounded by rejoicing supporters. Late last night the Governor was leading his nearest opponent by about two to one.

Fists flew and knuckles and jaws were battered as violence flared during the stormy Democratic primary in Louisiana yesterday. Twenty-five men participated in this late-day fight at a New Orleans polling booth. Gubernatorial candidate Noe was in the center of the brawl. One man was arrested.

LONG'S REGIME IN SEVERE TEST

Continued From First Page.

Noe 27,764, Morrison 7,514, and Moseley 530.

Long, receiving returns in the executive mansion in Baton Rouge, said "It looks like a runaway for my entire ticket."

Jones said, "Based upon the present returns I am confident I will be elected next governor of Louisiana."

Noe said he felt "perfectly satisfied with results so far."

Violence, arrests and reports of voting irregularities marked today's voting, the most important in Louisiana since Huey's dictatorship.

Bitter Attacks.

The "reform" candidates, Attorneys Sam Jones, of Lake Charles; James H. Morrison, of Hammond; Vincent Moseley, of Opelousas, and State Senator James A. Noe, of Monroe, all had centered their bitter attacks on the hundreds of indictments and many scandals unearthed by federal agents since former Governor Richard W. Leche quit his office last June and Long went in.

Long's answer to these attacks was that he had no connection with the proved and alleged graft and corruption that had touched so many of Huey P. Long's former lieutenants, and that he had exerted valiant efforts to institute reform and maintain honest government.

The candidate chosen today, or on February 20 if a runoff is held, will be inaugurated in May and hold office four years. He cannot succeed himself.

Stormy 'Jimmy' Noe.

Stormy "Jimmy" Noe, whose campaign slogan was "vote yes for Noe," was the central figure in three of the most important alterations that marked voting here. Noe, as friendly to Huey P. Long as he is bitter against Earl K. Long, knocked down one man who swung on him, and shortly afterward got himself arrested in another disturbance at New Orleans. Later he was involved in a free-for-all fight.

His aides took a knife from the man Noe felled with one punch with the powerful arms he developed as an oil field worker years ago. His arrest came when he photographed an alleged election irregularity—a balcony above polling booths that gave watchers sight of how voters marked their ballots.

Later police officials said they had orders to jail all news photographers taking pictures around the election polls over objections of the polling commissioners.

TO PATROL OCEANS.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Jan. 16. (AP)—The government announced today that permanent permission had been granted the United States to patrol both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Costa Rica.

EXCLUSIVE

Labor Act Disliked

Majority With Opinion Favor Revision of Wagner Law

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP,
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 16.—A majority of American voters expressing an opinion on the Wagner labor act in a nation-wide Institute survey think the labor law should be revised at this time.

Stimulus for revision has increased, the poll results indicate, since the house investigation of the labor board began making headlines a month ago.

With some discussion in congress for amending the controversial Wagner act, the Institute survey finds that less than one-third of voters with an opinion on the act think it should be left unchanged. Of the remainder, who are critical of the act, a few favor outright repeal, while the majority are for revision.

The survey, which began shortly after the house investigation opened, is the first of a series of surveys which will be conducted to measure the trend of sentiment. In this study, as in previous polls on the labor act, the Institute found a relatively high "no opinion" vote. More than half (58 per cent.) of persons interviewed said they were either unfamiliar with the act or had not formed any opinion about it.

The issue put to the voters from coast to coast in a national cross-section was:

"Do you think the Wagner labor act should be revised, repealed or left unchanged?"

Those with opinions voted as follows:
Revised 53%
Repealed 18%
Left unchanged 29%

It is clear that while there is some difference of opinion as to whether the act should be repealed or merely amended, more than two-thirds of the voters with opinions in the survey are not satisfied with the law as it stands. Previous Institute studies indicate that this attitude has prevailed for some time past. In four studies made between May, 1938, and a November, 1939, the combined vote for revision or repeal had outweighed the vote for leaving the act unchanged. During the summer and early autumn of last year, when the war crisis overshadowed discussion of domestic issues, opposition to the act relaxed somewhat, but the vote for leaving the law unchanged has never grown to a majority.

The trend has been as follows:

	Revised	Repealed	Unchanged
May, 1938	43%	15%	38%
Nov., 1938	52%	18%	30%
Mar., 1939	48%	18%	34%
Nov., 1939	37%	18%	45%
Today	53%	18%	29%

Especially interesting is the vote by political parties on the controversial labor law. Although the Wagner act was sponsored and passed by a Democratic congress, the predominant sentiment among Democratic voters with opinions on this legislation is for revision.

Revised Repealed Unchanged
Democrats 50% 16% 40%
Republicans 38 27 15

Asks $100,000 Study Of Colds, Flu Causes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Appropriation of $100,000 for research into the cause and prevention of common colds, flu and pneumonia, was asked in a bill (S3125) today by Senator Pepper, Democrat, Florida. He proposed the study be made under the direction of the Public Health Service.

VETERANS HOPING 'TO ADOPT QUADS'

Legion Post Wants To Throw Up Bar To Their Exploitation.

(Pictures on Page 24.)

JASPER, Ala., Jan. 16.—(UP)—The Jasper post of the American Legion tonight hoped to "adopt" the Short quadruplets to prevent their being exploited by commercial interests.

The three girls and a boy, born to Mrs. Clyde Short in a two-room farm cabin near Nauvoo, were "doing nicely" in the makeshift incubator made of cardboard and heated with electric lights in the Walker county hospital. The mother's condition also was good. Governor Frank Dixon requested Charlie Wiggins, Alabama commander of the American Legion, to see that the quadruplets were cared for.

The father, a poor sharecropper and part-time miner, had received many offers to exploit the quadruplets, but had accepted none.

BANKHEAD SENDS GREETINGS TO QUADS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Speaker Bankhead sent telegraphic greeting today to his newest constituents, the quadruplet babies of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Short, Nauvoo, Ala.

The already famous infants, born yesterday, are three girls—Faith, Hope and Charity—and a boy. The speaker telegraphed the parents:

"In company with all the congressional delegation, I send to you my hearty congratulations and best wishes, as well as to Faith, Hope, Charity, and the boy. I wish for you and them long life and great happiness."

Representative Luther Patrick, of Birmingham was ready with a name for the boy. He wired the Shorts:

"Only one name, under the circumstances, suits the occasion—Abundance."

FINANCIAL ACUMEN OF WIVES IS LAUDED

She Makes Family Income Go a Long Way, Declares Retail Expert.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The American housewife was described as skilled as a corporation comptroller and the retail store was depicted as the manufacturer's barometer of public taste in sessions of the National Retail Dry Goods Association today.

Rolf Nugent, director of consumer credit studies of the Russell Sage Foundation of New York, criticizing phases of installment buying, told 5,000 representatives of retail stores:

"The great majority of consumers make good use of the credit facilities available to them. Most housewives manage the none-too-simple job of keeping out all within modest incomes with all the skill of the professional comptroller."

He suggested, "To make the easy payment system less hazardous for the American family," four steps: (1) a greater degree of stabilization in the whole economic system; (2) better training in family finance; (3) improvement of the practices of credit-granting agencies; (4) improvement of facilities for credit clearances.

MISSISSIPPI REINS TAKEN BY JOHNSON

Life-Long Ambition at Last Satisfied.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 16.—(AP)—To the cheers of the largest throng to witness an inauguration in many years, 59-year-old Paul Burney Johnson today took over the reins of Mississippi's government and recommended to the legislature his program "to benefit the average man."

For Governor Johnson, one-time store clerk, sawmill worker, school teacher, circuit judge, congressman and attorney, the right to guide Mississippi's destinies as chief executive satisfied a life-long ambition—dating back to the days of his farm-life youth when, on one happy occasion, he was taken "to the city" to meet Governor Anse McLaurin.

Mother Asks $25,000, Charges Baby Mix-Up

Mrs. Frances Mahoney, 20, of Los Angeles, has filed suit for $25,000 damages against a Los Angeles hospital, charging that as a result of a mix-up shortly after her baby was born 16 months ago she never will be sure the baby she now has is her own. She charges she first was given a red-haired baby, then a black-haired one, then, finally, the red-haired one again. Here she is with little red.

GRAPHS REGISTER 'GREAT' TREMBLOR

Distance From California Estimated at About 6,000 Miles.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 16.—(AP) California Institute of Technology seismologists reported tonight a "great earthquake" was recorded in its laboratory beginning at 5:42:23 p. m. (7:42:23 p. m., Atlanta time).

Distance of the quake was judged to be 6,000 to 7,000 miles, direction unknown.

Seismologists said the quake was "potentially destructive to life and property on a large scale" if situated in a populous area.

It followed at the cost of doing one's duty.

That group last Sunday morning may be used as an illustration. I think of the youth of our day and generation. With eyes wide open to the conflict of ideas which has thrown the world into frightening turmoil, our young people impress me as being sincerely eager to find the right way and walk therein.

Our generation is passing on to them many burdens—the burden for example, of a public debt which they must either pay or renounce. For a decade now, we have been willing to temporize with great social and economic problems, mortgaging the future with the declaration that we were preventing a revolution. That any definite solution of the problem has been found is scarcely argued. We have simply postponed the day of reckoning with the conditions that have been prevalent for some time.

I have a feeling that the oncoming generation will tackle the problem, or problems, with a better understanding than perhaps our generation could have been expected to possess. Whatever of value appears in our temporary programs will be retained and strengthened, and the final answer will be found and courageously and fairly applied. Thank God for young people who believe in playing the game of life with open minds, fervent hearts and clean hands.

Delightful As the Fragrance of a Rose

GOOD MORNING -- By Louie D. Newton

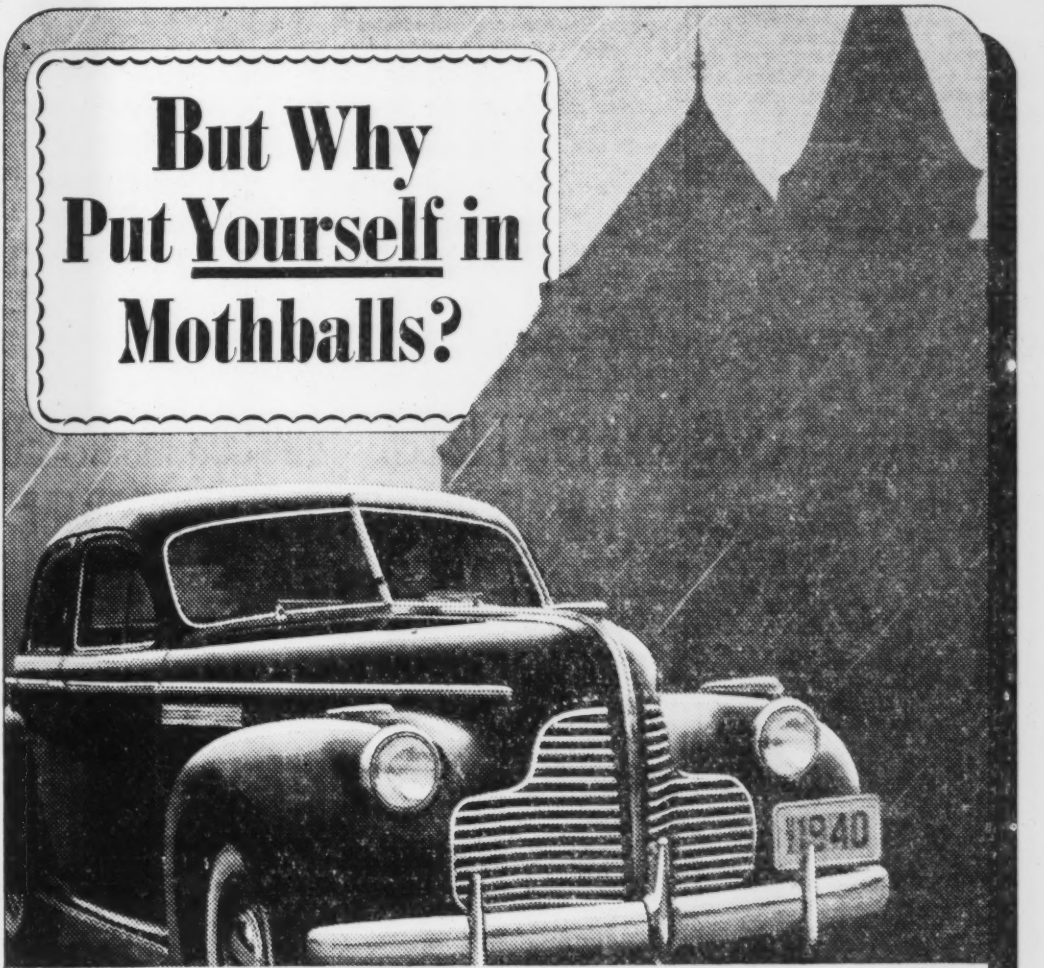

THE BRIGHTER SIDE.

Captain Buck Murphy, responding on behalf of the 1939 Tech football team at a special fathers and sons program at the Four Square Sunday school class at our church last Sunday morning, made this significant statement: "Football, like the game of life, is worth while only when we play a clean game."

That, I thought, was one of the finest sermons I have heard in a long while. Standing there before his team mates and 168 other young men, Mr. Murphy gave us all a wholesome outlook on the brighter side of the picture of life as it momentarily unfolds before our eyes. Phil Richards, another member of the Tech team, introduced the players, one by one, commenting in each instance upon their ability to play the game of football as champions because they were gentlemen of genuine character.

Mayor William B. Hartsfield was the speaker of the occasion, and he took up this idea of playing the game of life courageously and fairly, pointing out the central theme of last Sunday's lesson on forgiveness as one of the basic ideals of true living. We must have respect for the other fellow's opinion and we must strive at all times to render our share of service in trying to build a better world. Mayor Hartsfield warned against the fallacy of merely trying to please the other

The model illustrated is the BUICK SUPER model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.*

SUPPOSE the summer finery is packed away where the moths won't get at it—is that any reason why you should hibernate too—and miss out on a lot of grand and glorious fun?

For as you can see for yourself, the pleasure this Buick brings you isn't subject in any way to the weatherman's whims.

The elements can fairly howl—and they won't for an instant daunt the spirit of this Dynaflex straight-eight power plant, or ruffle the velvet quality of its better-than-a-wrist-watch smoothness.

Winter can do its worst to the roads—and you'll yet take them for boulevards; BuickCoil Springing not only cushions all the rough spots but lays a restraining hand on skids as well.

Winds may whistle and skies grow gray—but here you're snug and secure in stout, weather-tight Unisteel Bodies by Fisher. And you're cradled in seats with fireside-chair comfort, secure in the knowledge of tires that bite and brakes that grip.

Meantime—look at the jump you're getting on the tradition-bound wait-till-spring buyers. Weeks will pass before they put their orders in—weeks in which you'll be enjoying all of Buick's six-dozen-plus new features, reveling in this Buick's spirit-lifting style and beauty.

So step out of the mothballs and step into your Buick dealer's. The prices he's quoting, delivered at your door, are actually less than you're asked for some sixes.

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich.*

*Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

"Best buy's Buick!"
EXEMPLAR OF GENERAL MOTORS VALUE
SEE YOUR NEAREST BUICK DEALER

LOANS

that really help YOU!

Real Estate

First and second mortgage loans. No brokerage fee—immediate service.

Automobiles

Free Parking in Forsyth Bldg. Garage while you get loan. No collision insurance required.

Furniture

Loans on household furniture, office and professional equipment.

Endorsements

Loans made on endorsements. Also stocks, bonds and diamonds.

Combination

Several different kinds of security can be used to secure one loan—large or small.

Plain Note

Loans made on plain notes without endorsements.

WE PAY 4% On Savings

Notes and Accounts Receivable discounted for business men!
LOANS $20 to $5,000 Walnut 9786 Volunteer Bldg. 2nd Floor
TERMS — 5 — 10 — 15 — 20 — 25 — 30 MONTHS

DON'T COUGH

The reliable doctor would prescribe any medicine unless he was fairly sure he found the cause of the cough. The formula of MENTHO-MULSION is proved on the spot. Guaranteed by Druggists. New only 75c.

USE MENTHO-MULSION

FINLAND FIGHTING FOR ALL WORLD, ARKWRIGHT SAYS

Avers 'Heart Can't Resist Cause of Small Nation Battling for Liberty, Freedom, Religion.'

The Finns today are fighting not only for themselves but for the rest of the world, Preston S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Power Company, told members of the Atlanta Civitan Club at their weekly luncheon yesterday.

"If by a miracle they hold back Russia, they hold back the sweep of Communism over the world," Mr. Arkwright declared.

Speaking to the civic body as state co-chairman of the Finnish Relief Fund, the power official said:

"Realizing that we have a good deal of need for help at home, I wouldn't be here asking support if it would detract one bit in our attempt to solve our local problems.

"But sometimes there are causes that a heart can't resist. Causes where the qualities of character are accompanied by such sacrifices that we can't let them go by. "A little country whose people possess all those traits of character we admire most has been invaded by its Russian Communist neighbor. The sacrifices of the people of Finland have excited the admiration of the world.

"We can't take part in their war. We can't take part in any foreign war.

"But there is something we can do. There must be something we can do, for how can we sit by feeling as we do, and do nothing about it.

"The Finnish Relief Fund is appealing for aid to give to the destitute women, children and aged that the brave Finnish soldiers have left at home.

"The Finns are fighting for their liberty, their freedom and their religion.

"The Finnish Relief Fund, organized at the request of the premier of Finland, is doing what it can to alleviate the sufferings that have come upon this brave people.

"Every dollar collected will be forwarded to Finland, Mr. Arkwright said. All clerical expenses of the Relief Fund are being borne by private citizens.

Ryburn G. Clay, member of the advisory board of the Federal Reserve Bank, is state co-chairman of the fund. Former President Herbert Hoover is national head.

Atlanta offices of the group are located in the Henry Grady hotel.

FINNISH DRIVE HERE HEADED BY RICH

Walter H. Rich, business and civic leader, will head the committee of prominent Atlantans who will have charge of the campaign here for the Finnish relief fund, Preston S. Arkwright and Ryburn G. Clay, state co-chairmen, announced yesterday.

Those who have already accepted invitations to serve on the committee include Mayor Hartsfield, T. K. Glenn, J. D. Robinson Sr., H. Lane Young, F. W. Blacklock, Robert T. Jones Jr., DeSales Harrison, Hughes Spalding, Clark Howell, George Biggers, H. T. Dobbs, W. E. Mitchell, Dr. L. D. Newton, J. H. Hines, Arthur Lucas, Jere A. Wells, E. S. Papp, Rabbi David Marx, Rabbi Harry Epstein, Dr. E. G. Mackay, Dean Raimundo de Oviés, Dr. Robert W. Burns, Dr. William V. Gardner, Dr. John L. Yost, Victor Todd, Faber Bollinger, J. W. Humphreys, Joe Asher, Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, Baxter Maddox, Dewey Johnson, J. C. Malone, Charles B. Gramling, A. Stair, Ed. Almand, Cicero Kendrick, Wiley L. Moore, T. Guy Woodford, Lambda Kay, Simon Selig, Robert Schwab, John C. Grabbe, Norman Elsas, Harry Sommers, Harold Ebersole, Samuel C. Dobbs, R. B. Pegram and Dr. Herman L. Turner.

Names of other Atlantans who will serve on the committee will be announced shortly by Mr. Rich.

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

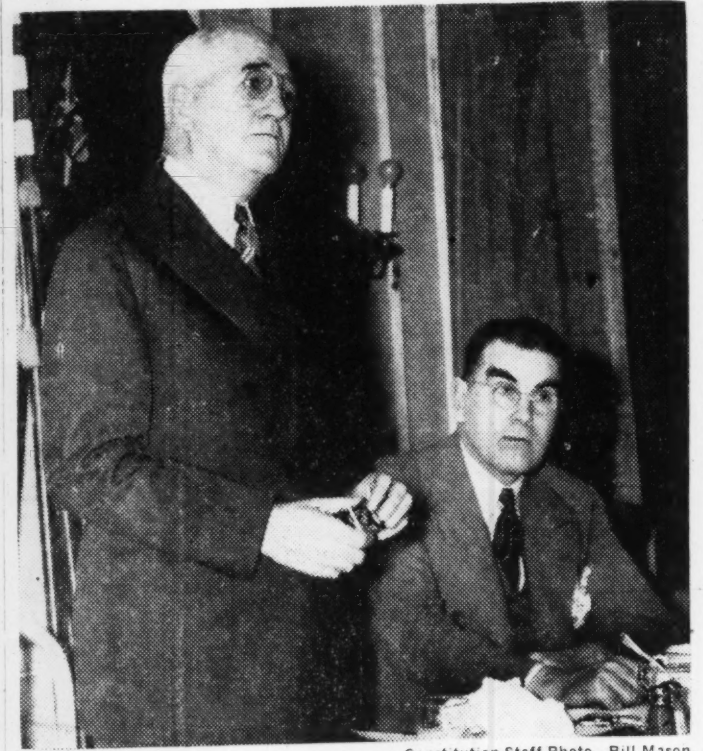

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

The campaign to raise funds for Finland will be officially launched at a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock today in Rich's tea room.

"No one can ignore this cause," Mr. Rich pointed out yesterday. "The movement in the state is only two days old but it has become apparent that the people are in full sympathy with the Finnish people and that their admiration for the little nation's courage will find practical and substantial expression.

"It is highly encouraging to know that people whom I have talked to are not only willing but anxious to pitch in and help them. The appeal is irresistible to the big-hearted impulses of Atlantans."

Finns Termed Buffer Against Communism

Preston S. Arkwright (left) told the Civitan Club of Atlanta yesterday that if Finland can hold back the Russians, she will hold back the spread of Communism over the world. With Mr. Arkwright is Jere Wells, superintendent of Fulton schools.

Roosevelt's Loan Proposal Assailed by Senator George

Georgian Declares All His Sympathy With the Finns But Opposes Policy of U. S. Lending Money to Belligerent Nations.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—President Roosevelt's proposal for making a loan to Finland through increasing facilities of the Federal Export-Import Bank was vigorously assailed on the floor of the upper chamber today by Senator George, of Georgia, who asserted that a vital phase of American foreign policy was involved.

The Georgia senator's attack was not directed at the President personally, nor against Finland, for which he said he had the greatest sympathy in its conflict with Russia, but rather at the policy of lending money to belligerent countries.

Senator George took the floor after Senator Tom Connally of Texas, had suggested that the President's letter be referred to the foreign relations committee instead of the banking and currency committee.

"I do not think any loan," the Georgian said, "should be made to a foreign government for the benefit of a foreign government by any mere creature of the congress."

He was objecting to either the Export-Import Bank or the Reconstruction Finance Corporation making such a loan without it being first authorized by the congress. Under the new executive reorganization setup the RFC is a subsidiary of the Federal Loan Agency, of which Jesse Jones is administrator, and the Export-Import Bank is a subsidiary of the RFC.

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR AID TO FINNS

Continued From First Page.

the hour approaches when the pressure will be doubled and redoubled to break down the restrictions in the case of Great Britain.

"Up to Congress," George said that if a loan was to be made to Finland, congress ought to make the decision itself and not pass the buck to some lending agency created by congress. Declaring that a loan would be an unequal act, he added:

"It is no different, on the basis of international law, than if we sent an American battleship to Finland. If you want to do that, let's do it, but let's stop whipping the devil around the stump and take the responsibility for it ourselves."

How extensive the opposition was could not be determined, although it was understood that a number of the senators who were in the President's neutrality act revision bill were apprehensive lest a loan to Finland be used later as a precedent for loans to other warring nations.

Foresee Assistance.

The general feeling was, however, in view of the widespread American sympathy for the little Baltic state in its conflict with Russia, Mr. Roosevelt would ultimately have his way and assistance to Finland be approved.

The chief executive wrote: "An extension of credit at this time does not in any way constitute or threaten any so-called 'involvement' in European wars. That much can be taken for granted."

"It seems to me the most reasonable approach would be action by the congress authorizing an increase in the revolving credit fund of the Export-Import Bank, in order to provide for additional loans to increase our trade with South and Central America, is also within the discretion of congress."

The latter point he raised incidentally, noting that applications for Export-Import Bank loans would be filed soon by small countries in Scandinavia and South America, which might make it advisable to give the bank additional funds.

During the day, Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, introduced a resolution which would have congress apply the restrictions of the neutrality bill to the Russo-Finnish war. President Roosevelt, he said, was apparently the only one who did not know a war was going on. The President has authority to invoke the act, but has not yet done so. Under it a loan to Finland would be forbidden. Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, introduced a second resolution to apply the act to the hostilities between China and Japan.

During the day, Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, introduced a resolution which would have congress apply the restrictions of the neutrality bill to the Russo-Finnish war. President Roosevelt, he said, was apparently the only one who did not know a war was going on. The President has authority to invoke the act, but has not yet done so. Under it a loan to Finland would be forbidden. Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, introduced a second resolution to apply the act to the hostilities between China and Japan.

During the day, Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, introduced a resolution which would have congress apply the restrictions of the neutrality bill to the Russo-Finnish war. President Roosevelt, he said, was apparently the only one who did not know a war was going on. The President has authority to invoke the act, but has not yet done so. Under it a loan to Finland would be forbidden. Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, introduced a second resolution to apply the act to the hostilities between China and Japan.

During the day, Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, introduced a resolution which would have congress apply the restrictions of the neutrality bill to the Russo-Finnish war. President Roosevelt, he said, was apparently the only one who did not know a war was going on. The President has authority to invoke the act, but has not yet done so. Under it a loan to Finland would be forbidden. Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, introduced a second resolution to apply the act to the hostilities between China and Japan.

During the day, Senator Danaher, Republican, Connecticut, introduced a resolution which would have congress apply the restrictions of the neutrality bill to the Russo-Finnish war. President Roosevelt, he said, was apparently the only one who did not know a war was going on. The President has authority to invoke the act, but has not yet done so. Under it a loan to Finland would be forbidden. Senator Gillette, Democrat, Iowa, introduced a second resolution to apply the act to the hostilities between China and Japan.

FINNS HOLD LINE ON RED TERRITORY

Continued From First Page.

criss-cross, jigsaw fashion and barbed wire strung helter skelter in the woods. One large section has been cleared of trees to facilitate artillery fire. The tree trunks form a barrier to Soviet tanks.

Such are the main fortifications on the Finnish side of this snow-covered, frozen landscape.

They have been constructed in the last month to guard against a repetition of the Russian invasion of November 30 which caught the Finns here by surprise.

Few Finnish troops were on hand then, the commanding colonel here said, since there had been an agreement on a demilitarized zone 30 miles on either side of the frontier.

The area now, however, is guarded by strong detachments with artillery and daily increasing fortifications.

Winding slowly up a narrow road we crossed a strong bridge under which the soldiers were laying mines. A little further along were the first tank barriers and wire entanglements.

30-Minute Drive.

A 30-minute drive and our car passed a village which was on the Soviet line in mid-December.

A wind that froze you to the marrow swept through the forest catching up little swirls of snow. The thermometer read 30 degrees below, Fahrenheit.

Finally, we found ourselves in Russia.

For more than an hour we prowled about a plateau-like clearing beside a frozen lake. Not a shot was fired, although two days ago there was brief skirmishing at this spot.

Red Companies Routed by Finns

HELSINKI, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Russian warplanes again struck at Finland today as 51-degree below zero (Fahrenheit) cold brought new suffering to civilians in bomb-blasted towns and the Finns reported dispersing two Soviet companies in fighting near Salla.

The worst cold wave in 25 years caused intense suffering, particularly in smaller villages where bombs demolished and burned homes, leaving inhabitants without shelter.

A dispatch from the Salla front told how brother was fighting brother in Finnish lapland. Salla was one of the most Communist areas in Finland six or seven years ago and many Communist sympathizers who jumped across the border into Russia are returning with Russian troops.

Finds Brother.

An officer reported one of his men discovered his brother, who had fled to Russia seven years ago, among a group of Soviet prisoners.

"Brother, look what you have done," the officer quoted the Finnish soldier as saying.

Then, the officer said, the Finnish soldier drew a gun and shot his brother.

Soviet bombing planes were reported to have blown most of the small village of Ekenas, on the southwest tip of Finland, to pieces yesterday. More than half of the 700 homes were said to have been destroyed.

The Finnish communists reported that a Russian attack at Tjapala on the Karelian isthmus was "repelled with heavy losses," a Finnish official added.

On the eastern frontier, in the direction of Salla, our troops dispersed a couple of enemy companies."

The Finnish authorities said that between 70 and 80 Red army warplanes took part in yesterday's raids on a half dozen Finnish cities outside the village of Ekenas.

The communists declared no lives were lost, but private sources asserted the loss of life had been heavy. A traveler from Turku said a bomb had dropped on an air raid shelter and killed more than 100 people, he added.

Three persons were reported killed by bombs and four wounded at Viipuri, ancient Finnish city in Karelian isthmus war zone.

The intense cold made fire fighting almost impossible in smaller villages after bombing raids because hose lines froze quickly.

The Finns reported their fighting planes and anti-aircraft batteries brought down four enemy aircraft flying today.

Of the war itself, Chamberlain said, significantly in view of recent extreme precautions in the low countries, that the position of the Netherlands and Belgium "is not enviable." They are, he added, "undoubtedly wise to neglect no measure which may contribute to their security."

British war material aid to Finland, will be "substantial."

The Western Allies, he went on, had signed economic and financial agreements with Turkey, their Mediterranean ally, in Paris on January 8. These included a 25,000,000-pound ($100,000,000) loan to Turkey for the purchase of armaments. A French announcement said the Allies had made a total of about $174,000,000 in armament and other loans to Turkey.

Reds Smash Finns Vainly

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY IN LAPLAND, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Four hundred Russian soldiers, urged on by fiery pep talks from their Communist commissars, attempted vainly to smash an opening through Finnish lines in the Salla sector today and left their dead and wounded to freeze on the snow-covered ground.

Shortly before midnight, the Finns heard the loud voices of the commissars crashing through the frozen silence of 20-degree-below-zero (Fahrenheit) weather. The commissars were attempting to lead the frost-bitten soldiers to a battle pitch.

Under cover of heavy artillery fire, the Russians attacked, some of them yelling "Uraa! Uraa!" in response to the spirited send-off of the political spokesmen. The commissars, who accompany Red soldiers all the time, remained behind, firing catchwords out of the trenches.

An official Tass agency dispatch from Stockholm said that Sweden was solving her unemployment problems by persuading her jobless to enlist with the Finnish armies.

The newspaper outburst, re-

Two Things That Stopped Invading Russians Cold

Deep in a frozen valley, camouflaged with snowy branches, a giant Finnish artillery piece pokes its snout to the south, primed and ready to give it to the Russians again when they come in range. Such guns were reasons why the Red drive stopped on the Karelian isthmus.

More faithful than was Poland's "General Mud," Finland's "General Winter" swept in rapidly from the north to aid the cause of the defenders. This long view down a snowy road shows one of Helsinki's army cars, camouflaged in white, proceeding along a path strewn with wreckage—trucks and carts left behind by a Russian column whipped into retreat from Salla by a deadly combination of Finnish bravery and bitter cold.

Norway and Sweden Defy Russia; Rush Men, War Materials to Finns

Scandinavians Scorn Test of Nerves With Increased Shipments to Finland; Reds Begin Broadcasts Saying Nations Are Deluding Unemployed.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Sweden and Norway, defiant in the face of a "war of nerves" with Soviet Russia, today speeded up their shipments of men and war materials to Finland and advertisements appeared in newspapers calling upon young men to do their duty and enlist with the Finnish armies.

The exact number of Swedish volunteers has not been revealed, but informed quarters said they numbered more than 10,000 men.

A contingent of Norwegian volunteers will leave Bergen tomorrow for Finland and carload after carload of Norwegian goods—clothing, food and flour—are leaving Norway's cities.

Both nations seemed to be striving to show that they have no intention of submitting to Russia's protest against Scandinavian aid to Finland and warning that further shipments of arms and volunteers to the Finns will lead to "undesirable complications."

Already rebuffed by protests to Sweden and Norway, the Russians countered today with a Swedish-language radio broadcast from Moscow saying that the Swedish government was participating in the recruiting of volunteers and men for the Finnish army.

The broadcast asserted that the Swedish government was concealing the facts of unemployment ing to statements that both the morale and equipment of the Russian soldiers are poor, was made on the occasion of the decoration of more than 3,000 officers and soldiers for valor on the Finnish fronts.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, gave the house naval committee figures showing that the navy hoped to complete 145 additional warships between now and 1945, the total estimated cost of which was $2,276,000,000. First appropriations to start work on 19 of the 145 ships already have been requested in the pending naval appropriation bill for the year starting July 1.

In a room across the street, Secretary Woodring told the house military committee that deficiencies of "critical ordnance and engineer items" to supply the so-called protective mobilization force of 750,000 men would cost at least $300,000,000, none of which, he added, was to be included in the army's regular appropriation bill soon to be submitted to congress.

Figures Include Full Fleet Program and Military Men, Ordnance Items.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Two congressional committees received testimony today that at least $2,500,000,000 more than President Roosevelt recommended for national defense in the coming fiscal year would be required to complete the existing programs of the army and navy.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, gave the house naval committee figures showing that the navy hoped to complete 145 additional warships between now and 1945, the total estimated cost of which was $2,276,000,000. First appropriations to start work on 19 of the 145 ships already have been requested in the pending naval appropriation bill for the year starting July 1.

In a room across the street, Secretary Woodring told the house military committee that deficiencies of "critical ordnance and engineer items" to supply the so-called protective mobilization force of 750,000 men would cost at least $300,000,000, none of which, he added, was to be included in the army's regular appropriation bill soon to be submitted to congress.

Figures Include Full Fleet Program and Military Men, Ordnance Items.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Two congressional committees received testimony today that at least $2,500,000,000 more than President Roosevelt recommended for national defense in the coming fiscal year would be required to complete the existing programs of the army and navy.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, gave the house naval committee figures showing that the navy hoped to complete 145 additional warships between now and 1945, the total estimated cost of which was $2,276,000,000. First appropriations to start work on 19 of the 145 ships already have been requested in the pending naval appropriation bill for the year starting July 1.

In a room across the street, Secretary Woodring told the house military committee that deficiencies of "critical ordnance and engineer items" to supply the so-called protective mobilization force of 750,000 men would cost at least $300,000,000, none of which, he added, was to be included in the army's regular appropriation bill soon to be submitted to congress.

Figures Include Full Fleet Program and Military Men, Ordnance Items.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Two congressional committees received testimony today that at least $2,500,000,000 more than President Roosevelt recommended for national defense in the coming fiscal year would be required to complete the existing programs of the army and navy.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, gave the house naval committee figures showing that the navy hoped to complete 145 additional warships between now and 1945, the total estimated cost of which was $2,276,000,000. First appropriations to start work on 19 of the 145 ships already have been requested in the pending naval appropriation bill for the year starting July 1.

SUBMARINE LOST, BRITAIN ANNOUNCES

Continued From First Page.

1,875 lives, were announced shortly before Prime Minister Chamberlain was in a war report to parliament declared:

"At the moment there is a lull in the operations of war. But at any time that lull may be sharply broken and events may occur within a few weeks, or even in a few hours, which would reshape the history of the world."

"It may well be that the war is about to enter upon a more acute phase. If that should prove the case we are ready for it."

Meanwhile, Britain's acute war cabinet crisis—the ouster of War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha—was smothered in parliamentary reassurances of unity.

The determined hand of Chamberlain accomplished this result, in order that nothing stand in the way of Britain's war effort. The setting was the crowded, vault-like house of commons, meeting for the first time after the holiday adjournment.

The prime minister declined to give specific reasons for the ouster, denied flatly that it was due to pressure from the army, repudiated the suggestion that Hore-Belisha's Jewish race was involved, and said in very general terms:

"I had become aware of the difficulties arising out of the very great qualities of my right honorable friend which, in my view, made it desirable that a change should occur."

Unity Chorus.

The leadership of both Labor and Liberal opposition joined softly in the unity chorus at the close of the prime minister's statement.

Hore-Belisha's short speech was the customary personal statement expected of retiring ministers. He told the members with pride that his reorganization and democratization of the army had been carried out with a "remarkable" degree of agreement with his colleagues, but said the prime minister must be free to make appointments as he sees fit.

Reich, Hungary Agree on Trade

BUDAPEST, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Germany and Hungary tonight agreed upon a new trade schedule calling for increased exports of foodstuffs to Germany and amounting to a German "fait accompli" in the face of French-Hungarian trade talks scheduled to begin in Paris within two weeks.

It was reported without confirmation that, in the new three-month agreement, Germany had obtained a 10 per cent increase in the exchange value of the German mark in relation to the Hungarian pengo. It was understood that the agreement, which probably will be announced officially tomorrow, calls for an increase of about 7 per cent in Hungarian exports to Germany. Germany likewise will increase exports to Hungary, it was said.

Oil Tanker Breaks in Half

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—An unidentified oil tanker caught on fire and broke in half off the southwest coast of England tonight. The cause was not known. The tanker appeared to be of about 10,000 tons. Coast guards saw the vessel break into flames and launched lifeboats. They were unable to find any survivors immediately, however. Flames fed by oil licked the sea around the sinking wreckage.

Loan Soars in Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Bank of Canada officials announced that a mid-afternoon tabulation today showed subscriptions totalling $136,717,950 on Canada's $200,000,000 war loan for which orders were opened yesterday.

The first day's subscriptions amounted to $114,650,600 with 45 Canadian mining companies applying for $200,000,000 worth of the 12-year, 3 1/4 per cent bonds offered at par.

Nordies Deny British Offers

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Norway and Sweden, desiring to emphasize their neutrality, issued formal denials today that Great Britain had offered to guarantee their integrity.

VISITORS' BUREAU TO HOLD BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

Distribution of Booklet, 'What To See and Where To Go in Atlanta,' To Be One of Features.

The 27th annual meeting and banquet of the Atlanta Convention and Visitors Bureau will be held at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Ansley hotel.

Principal speaker at the meeting will be Harold Cole, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the chamber, who will talk on "Another Cash Crop."

One of the features of the evening will be distribution of the newly prepared booklet, "What To See and Where to Go in Atlanta."

The High Points. The pamphlet, whose cover shows in photograph illustration some of the high points of interest, contains in concise form information of value to visitors.

Included is a list of the city's transportation facilities, civic clubs, dining and dancing establishments, office buildings, public golf courses, and merchants who are members of the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

A large map, showing the city's principal points of interest and all highways in and out of the city, is also included.

To Install Officers. Business of the meeting will be confined to the installation of new officers by Judge Robert Carpenter. The 1940 slate includes Mike Benton, president, who will talk on "Looking Ahead"; A. L. Zachry, vice president; C. Haynes, secretary; W. W. Crowley, treasurer, and Faber A. Bollinger, executive vice president.

The program will also include the 1939 president's report by A. L. Belle Isle. The invocation will be delivered by Dr. Herman L. Turner.

Last year's banquet brought 300 guests. This year, according to Mr. Bollinger, special tables of eight or more for special groups may be reserved.

APPOINTEES OF F. D. R. APPROVED BY SENATE. WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Attorney General Frank Murphy is expected to take his seat on the supreme court a week from next Monday as the result of his unanimous confirmation by the senate today.

He will probably take his oath of office as President Roosevelt's fifth appointee to the high court late this week or early next week and arrange to turn his present office over to Robert H. Jackson, now solicitor general. Jackson also was unanimously confirmed today.

The senate also confirmed the nomination of Circuit Judge Francis Biddle to be solicitor general, succeeding Jackson.

Time and tide wait for no man—and neither do Constitution Week Ads.

PRESTIGE. This, New York's largest hotel, offers you the prestige of a fine address, luxury at bargain prices. 2500 rooms from $3.50, each with radio, tub and shower. Private tunnel to Penn. Station. For reservations write or wire.

HOTEL NEW YORKER. 34th Street at River Avenue, New York. LEO A. MOLONY, Manager.

You Are Invited To Attend As Our Guest a DEMONSTRATION MEETING Atlanta Athletic Club Thursday 8:00 P. M. January 18, 1940

The new condensed course can help you gain—

• RECOGNITION • ADVANCEMENT • LEADERSHIP By learning how to

• SPEAK EFFECTIVELY • INFLUENCE PEOPLE More than 30,000 people from all walks of life have benefited from this unique and practical method of training.

Hear Students Speak on "What I Have Gained From This Course" COME—judge for yourself if we can help you. Determine if you want to invest in yourself and your future.

THERE IS NO OBLIGATION HENRY N. CASELL, Director The Dale Carnegie Course Effective Speaking—Human Relations—Personal Development FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG. JACKSON 1615

'The Most Outstanding'

Constitution Staff Photo—Bill Wilson. Miss Beverly Adams, daughter of Mrs. Harriett Adams, of 2840 Peachtree road, N. E., who was chosen by students and faculty as North Fulton High school's "most outstanding student." She will represent the D. A. R. in the national "Best Citizen" contest in Washington.

MRS. ALFRED HAYES DIES AT AGE OF 84

Succumbs at Daughter's Home; Funeral Services To Be Held Today.

Mrs. Alfred Newton Hayes, 84, charter member of the first organized missionary society in Atlanta, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. William T. Sher, of 730 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Daughter of Pleasant Stovall (ancey) and Maria Felton Ellis (ancey). Mrs. Hayes lived in Atlanta prior to her marriage, but since that time had lived in Covington until a few years ago.

PILOTS ARE CALLED EXCELLENT ENVOYS Continued From First Page.

passenger liners from over the world.

Across the marshes from the docks, back in the heart of the city, the contrast is sharper. A white Spanish colonial house with a sagging thatched roof squats next to an office building that is a good example of modern, functional architecture.

Peon Admires Truck. A peon, ambling down the street in his two-wheeled cart stops to admire American trucks in a dealer's window. A taxi honks its horn angrily at a horse-drawn cab in the middle of a narrow street.

A bus stops at a crossing while a man crosses on a bony gray burro half his size. Gray burros are as characteristic of the city as the river boats. Barranquilla is full of them. They walk along the busy streets laden with everything from household goods to fresh vegetables.

The donkey's owner sits on top of the pile, balanced carefully in the middle of the load. To keep his feet from dragging in the street, he holds his legs out and crosses them at the calves on his animal's neck.

Hotels, like everything else here, range from the last authentic copy of the inn at Bethlehem to the del Prado, rapidly on its way to becoming an internationally famous institution.

Designed by Iowan. Designed by an architect from Iowa who must have done a lot of traveling in the tropics and knew what the section needed, the del Prado perfectly fits local needs and has so little of the impersonal character of the average hotel that guests who put up for the night sometimes stay a month.

All rooms open directly on broad, shaded galleries that overlook the six-sided patio, centered by a swimming pool. The floors are cool tile and the ceilings are high. Terraces, furnished with long wicker chairs edge the patio. And the beds are brass, very elegant in these latitudes.

In spite of its modernity and second-home atmosphere, we were asked to pay more for cigarettes on one side of the patio than the other. Tourist tribute.

World Cross-Road. The dining room of the hotel is a minor crossroads of the world. Barranquilla is an important air and shipping center, and travelers who don't put up for the night stop by for a drink and a meal.

Employees of American companies bring their inspecting vice presidents by, fill them with food and drink and laugh at their jokes. Last night, a visiting bishop and two young clerics were entertained in solemn state by a Colombian family.

By not paying too much attention to food (which is the best thing to do in the tropics anyhow) a guest with good ears can pick up useless but interesting information on all South America, part of Europe, the United States and the West Indies.

Argentines Pro English. We heard last night that cars drive to the left in Panama, to the right in Brazil, that the government in Ecuador is not too steady, that Argentines like the English, but despise Americans, that Cuba, that papayas are good for the digestion, and the employees of Pan-American airlines are better diplomats and have made more friends for the United States than all the career men in the state department.

We heard, too, that all South America admires Secretary Hull, and would like to see him in the White House. Because of Hull's excellent work, the damning phrase, "Colossus of the North," is now out of fashion in every country except Argentina.

The authority on Argentina remarked that that country was irrevocably sold on Great Britain, and that while England was undoubtedly a friend of the United States in some parts of the world, she did all she could to foster our unpopularity in Argentina.

"In a nice, polite way, of course," he added bitterly.

During dessert, we learned that in addition to its thriving legitimate export and import trade, Barranquilla does a rushing business in smuggling money out of the country. The government has placed severe restrictions on the export of capital in an effort to develop native industries with native funds.

But there are people here who for a commission will see to it that your money gets abroad. If they are caught the punishment is severe. But in the meanwhile, it's a very profitable business.

Artistry of Scars Doesn't Fret Atlantans-- As Long as Swim Suits Don't Bare Marks

'A Little Bird' Indicates Conventional Patients Won't Follow Ann Sothorn.

Ann Sothorn's crescent-shaped scar notwithstanding, it appears to women here, for the time being at least, will be conventional about the mementos of their operations.

To date no Atlanta patient has been emphatic about the shape which her scar should take, at least according to the usually reliable "little bird" which tells things, when local doctors will not talk for publication.

But a time may come when women, gathering for an afternoon of bridge, may not content themselves merely to talk about their operations; they may turn the sessions into a sort of private striptease, should the fad started by blond Miss Sothorn, of the movies, take hold in Atlanta.

Shopped Around. The actress, as related in yesterday's Constitution, said: "I shopped around for scars. I learned that they come in all sizes and shapes—square, long, round, jagged and even V-shaped. The crescent shape appealed most to me and that's what I insisted upon."

Continuing on the basis of the report of the "little bird," it was learned that women, nervous and upset at the prospect of the operating table, often talk about scars to their physicians, but their requests generally are for small, smooth scars, regardless of location or geometrical classification. The ladies emphatically don't want jagged looking scars, and they want to feel that their scars will be private even in a bathing suit.

Medically speaking, the crescent-shaped scar which Miss Sothorn ordered is something of a luxury, doctors say. Such a scar, they point out, would take longer to heal than the ordinary straight incision. It is cut on the bias, as it were. But with plenty of time to stay in bed, there should be little difficulty or danger of hernia, they declared.

Styles Change. Styles in appendix scars have changed, however. There was a time when the small diagonal incision in which "exploratory" work is done. Meanwhile, a survey of friends who were willing to talk about their operations (and who isn't?) brought forth the fact that few scars are alike, even as Miss Sothorn discovered. They may be

Annual Ministers' Week at Emory Expected To Bring 200 From Dixie Rally January 22 to 27 Will Feature Lectures, Discussion Groups and Parties; Principal Speakers Will Be Dr. Coffin, of New York, and Dr. Smart.

The annual Ministers' Week at Emory University, which will attract over 200 preachers and theologians from all southern states, will be held January 22-27, featuring lectures, discussion groups and parties.

Principal speakers on the program, which will be held in conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week, will be Dr. L. Sloan Coffin, president of the United Theological Seminary in New York, and Dr. W. A. Smart, of Emory.

Tea for Visitors. Members of the Candler School of Theology faculty at Emory will entertain the visiting ministers at a tea January 23 in the Florence Harris home.

Receiving will be Dean and Mrs. H. B. Trimble, Dr. F. N. Parker, Dr. Coffin, Dr. Smart, Dr. and Mrs. Boone Bowen, the Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Parker, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Rowlandson, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

Assisting in entertaining will be a group of the members of the Emory Women's Club which include W. H. Jones, Matthews, Henry Quillian, Sam Shiver, E. L. Jackson, R. R. Kracke, I. W. Brock, J. C. Lester, S. B. Haynie, R. C. Mizell, W. B. Baker, John Venable, Hugh Fuller, Pearl Hyde and Alice Turner, and Misses Margaret Jemison, Nell Parker, Mary Torrance, Geraldine Le May and Maude Hilley.

Party for Wives. January 24 wives of Atlanta Methodist ministers will entertain del Prado perfectly fits local needs and has so little of the impersonal character of the average hotel that guests who put up for the night sometimes stay a month.

All rooms open directly on broad, shaded galleries that overlook the six-sided patio, centered by a swimming pool. The floors are cool tile and the ceilings are high. Terraces, furnished with long wicker chairs edge the patio. And the beds are brass, very elegant in these latitudes.

In spite of its modernity and second-home atmosphere, we were asked to pay more for cigarettes on one side of the patio than the other. Tourist tribute.

World Cross-Road. The dining room of the hotel is a minor crossroads of the world. Barranquilla is an important air and shipping center, and travelers who don't put up for the night stop by for a drink and a meal.

Employees of American companies bring their inspecting vice presidents by, fill them with food and drink and laugh at their jokes. Last night, a visiting bishop and two young clerics were entertained in solemn state by a Colombian family.

By not paying too much attention to food (which is the best thing to do in the tropics anyhow) a guest with good ears can pick up useless but interesting information on all South America, part of Europe, the United States and the West Indies.

Argentines Pro English. We heard last night that cars drive to the left in Panama, to the right in Brazil, that the government in Ecuador is not too steady, that Argentines like the English, but despise Americans, that Cuba, that papayas are good for the digestion, and the employees of Pan-American airlines are better diplomats and have made more friends for the United States than all the career men in the state department.

We heard, too, that all South America admires Secretary Hull, and would like to see him in the White House. Because of Hull's excellent work, the damning phrase, "Colossus of the North," is now out of fashion in every country except Argentina.

The authority on Argentina remarked that that country was irrevocably sold on Great Britain, and that while England was undoubtedly a friend of the United States in some parts of the world, she did all she could to foster our unpopularity in Argentina.

"In a nice, polite way, of course," he added bitterly.

During dessert, we learned that in addition to its thriving legitimate export and import trade, Barranquilla does a rushing business in smuggling money out of the country. The government has placed severe restrictions on the export of capital in an effort to develop native industries with native funds.

But there are people here who for a commission will see to it that your money gets abroad. If they are caught the punishment is severe. But in the meanwhile, it's a very profitable business.

Constitution Staff Photo—Bill Mason. Miss Dale Adams, of Toronto, Canada, has a word to say about appendectomy scars created abroad. She has the conventional type scar, nothing fancy like the crescent-shaped mark ordered by Actress Ann Sothorn.

was an emergency operation, Miss Adams, unlike Miss Sothorn, was not concerned with the shape of the scar. And now that it is all over, she doesn't worry because the movie star may have a more artistic moment of her visit to the operating room. In fact, Miss credit of the school system is listed as amounts due the city schools from unpaid 1938-39 state school appropriations, but even the most optimistic city officials would not even hazard a guess that the state will pay it during the year.

MILLION BALANCE EXPECTED BY CITY Continued From First Page.

School Expectations. No meeting of the Georgia legislature is scheduled for this year, and Governor Rivers has taken the position that none of the funds against which the grandfather clause has run can be paid without a special act of the assembly. No special session of the legislature is in prospect at this time, it was said.

Attorney General Ellis Arnall yesterday said the grandfather clause, adopted by Georgia in 1931, has run against both state school appropriations for the years 1938 and 1939.

Clift pointed out that anticipated receipts from the city for 1940 are $260,000 short of the actual amount received by the schools from the city for 1939, and added "we can reasonably expect to get as much this year from the city as we got last year."

More School Money. Thus it was indicated that Clift himself believes city revenues will justify the inclusion of the $236,000 fund even though the state fails to pay any of the obligation.

Inclusion of the defunct state school fund in 1940 assets of the Atlanta schools in the 1940 municipal budget was regarded as definite intention of the administration to provide more school money before the end of the year, it was said yesterday.

If 1940 collections are around those of 1939, the $1,000,000 bank balance in December is expected, and it was reported, if conditions improve, it will exceed that figure.

For years, the mayor of Atlanta has been empowered to veto the school budget when it is submitted to him if allocations exceed expenditures, and the 1940 school finance sheet probably will be sent to Hartsfield next week.

The mayor approved yesterday the 1940 city budget with the state school fund included.

Tops 1939 Expenses. Clift said yesterday that the school department has available for appropriation about $3,820,386.73 from all sources, including the $236,000 from the old state school funds and the $60,000 council authorized in a special resolution.

This sum exceeds 1939 expenditures carried at $3,689,558.91 by $130,827.82. Clift explained that the difference between the amount available and the amount to be appropriated in the 1940 school budget will be used to pay some 1939 bills which were not due for payment when 1939 expenditures were listed.

The new school budget will be submitted to individual members of the board of education probably tomorrow, Clift said. A special board meeting to adopt it probably will be held Friday or early next week.

It costs you money every time you don't read Want Ads in The Constitution.

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN MOROLINE 5c and 10c WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

BALLIET INDUCTED BY ATLANTA CLUB

Transportation Group Holds Its Annual Banquet Here.

Members of the Transportation Club of Atlanta, with their wives and friends, gathered in the Ansley hotel last night for their 18th annual banquet and installation of 1940 officers.

Incoming president was Leo M. Balliet, who succeeded Joseph W. Mahanay. Mr. Mahanay presided over the banquet and dance which followed and inducted the new officers. Also taking office were E. L. Setzer, first vice president, and George Leyhe, second vice president.

The banquet program included a humorous monolog by Charles Newcomb and musical selections by the Emory Glee Club. Dancing followed.

ROBERT DOUGHTON TO LEAVE CONGRESS

Chairman of Ways, Means Committee Announces Plan To Retire.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Representative Robert L. Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, 76, a member of the house for 30 years and chairman of the powerful ways and means committee since inauguration of the Roosevelt administration in 1933, tonight announced that he will retire next December 31 when his current term ends.

The tall, heavy-set North Carolina explained in a formal statement that "my long-neglected private business badly needs attention" and he feels he should "take life easier than the arduous duties of my present position will allow."

PRESIDENT REGRETS DOUGHTON DECISION WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would be awfully sorry if Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, did not seek re-election. He said he would hate to lose Doughton from the house, as he was a very valuable member of congress.

GAINESVILLE WOMAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH Special to THE CONSTITUTION. GAINESVILLE, Ga., Jan. 16.—The body of Miss Nina Smith, member of a prominent Gainesville family, was found in the bathroom of her home here early tonight a bullet wound in her left temple and a pistol lying in the bathtub near by, Deputy Sheriff Mell Clark reported.

Miss Smith was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith. Coroner J. B. Vickers said an inquest will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Hubert Funeral Home. He said no note was found.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY AUGUSTA BANK AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Lee Etheredge was elected president of the Realty Savings Bank at the annual meeting of officers and directors here today.

Other officers named are A. B. Von C. Kamp, vice president; Leroy W. Lyette, vice president and cashier, and J. R. Owens Jr., assistant cashier.

President Etheredge said deposits at the end of last year amounted to $1,168,684.64, as compared to $580,277 at the end of 1934.

OHIO DELEGATION WILL BACK F. D. R. Continued From First Page.

President Roosevelt for a third term. At the same time, the President actively sidestepped questions asked at a press conference as to just what his plans were.

A reporter called the President's attention to an article in the United States News, a magazine published by David Lawrence. This article said that the President would announce on January 20 or March 4 that he does not choose to run for a third term.

Mr. Roosevelt laughingly inquired whether the article was copyrighted and whether other papers had picked it up and paid for the privilege. He added that it was slick technique on Lawrence's part—a new way of making money.

Lawrence said later that all those who asked permission to use the story were authorized to do so free of charge.

IS IT GOOD AT PARTIES

Want a tall thirst-quencher? Here's the way to fix'er. Use the brand new drink That's a perfect mixer.

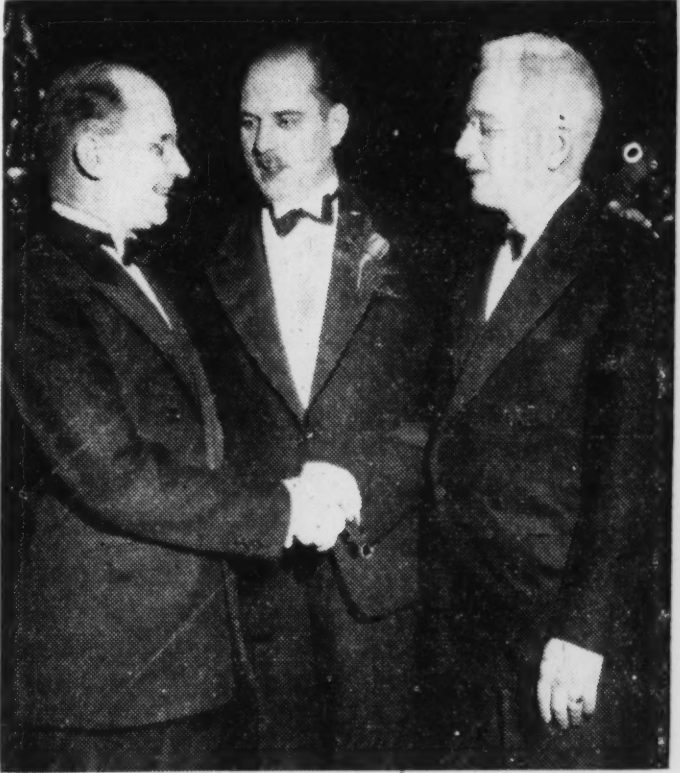

7c and 10c

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN MOROLINE 5c and 10c WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Want a tall thirst-quencher? Here's the way to fix'er. Use the brand new drink That's a perfect mixer.

7c and 10c

Congratulations to Transportation Club Head

Constitution Staff Photo—Pete Roton. Joseph W. Mahanay (left), retiring president of the Transportation Club of Atlanta, congratulates his successor in office, Leo M. Balliet (right). In the center is E. L. Setzer, newly elected first vice president. The new officers were installed at the annual banquet last night.

Benefit Bridge Party Is Planned To Raise Funds for Fight on Polio

Fulton County Women Urged To Attend Saturday Rally At Henry Grady To Arrange Details; Other Events for President's Birthday Celebration Developing.

Plans for a benefit bridge party to be held at the Henry Grady hotel on Friday, January 26, to raise funds for fighting infantile paralysis will be discussed at a meeting called by Mrs. Max E. Land, co-chairman of the Fulton county committee for the celebration of the President's birthday, for 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Land asked all women in Fulton county who are able to attend to meet her on the mezzanine floor of the Henry Grady Saturday morning to help in arranging the bridge party. County Chairman Ivan Allen Sr. joined in urging a large attendance at Saturday's conference.

Children's Floor Show. Another benefit event planned for the infantile paralysis drive will be the seventh annual children's matinee and floor show to be given at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, January 27, in the Dixie ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel by Janet and Dorothy Anne Smith, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. DeFord Smith, of 281 Rumson road.

Net proceeds of the bridge party and the children's matinee and floor show will go half and half to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and to its Georgia chapter. The half of the proceeds kept in Georgia will be used in the care and treatment of victims of poliomyelitis in this state, and the other half which goes to the national foundation will be used for research into the cause and prevention of infantile paralysis.

Four Dances Scheduled. Four top-flight bands will play for Atlantans at the Ansley, Henry Grady and Biltmore hotels and the Shrine Mosque on the President's birthday, January 30. Tickets will be $1 a couple.

Plans for observance of Fulton Week next week were being formed yesterday. The American

BAILEY'S SUPREME COFFEE Double Your Money Back Guarantee

OHIO DELEGATION WILL BACK F. D. R. Continued From First Page.

President Roosevelt for a third term. At the same time, the President actively sidestepped questions asked at a press conference as to just what his plans were.

A reporter called the President's attention to an article in the United States News, a magazine published by David Lawrence. This article said that the President would announce on January 20 or March 4 that he does not choose to run for a third term.

Mr. Roosevelt laughingly inquired whether the article was copyrighted and whether other papers had picked it up and paid for the privilege. He added that it was slick technique on Lawrence's part—a new way of making money.

Lawrence said later that all those who asked permission to use the story were authorized to do so free of charge.

IS IT GOOD AT PARTIES

Want a tall thirst-quencher? Here's the way to fix'er. Use the brand new drink That's a perfect mixer.

7c and 10c

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN MOROLINE 5c and 10c WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

Want a tall thirst-quencher? Here's the way to fix'er. Use the brand new drink That's a perfect mixer.

7c and 10c

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN MOROLINE 5c and 10c WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

VISITORS' BUREAU TO HOLD BANQUET TOMORROW NIGHT

Distribution of Booklet,
'What To See and Where
To Go in Atlanta,' To Be One of Features.

The 27th annual meeting and banquet of the Atlanta Convention and Visitors Bureau will be held at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Ansley hotel.

Principal speaker at the meeting will be Harold Cole, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the chamber, who will talk on "Another Cash Crop."

One of the features of the evening will be distribution of the newly prepared booklet, "What To See and Where to Go in Atlanta."

The High Points.
The pamphlet, whose cover shows in photographic illustration some of the city's high points of interest, contains in concise form information of value to visitors.

Included is a list of the city's transportation facilities, civic clubs, dining and dancing establishments, office buildings, public golf courses, and merchants who are members of the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

A large map, showing the city's principal points of interest and all highways in and out of the city, is also included.

To Install Officers.
Business of the meeting will be confined to the installation of new officers by Judge Robert Carpenter. The 1940 slate includes Mike Benton, president, who will talk on "Looking Ahead"; A. L. Zachry, vice president; J. C. Haynes, secretary; W. V. Crowley, treasurer; and Faber A. Bollinger, executive vice president.

The program will also include the 1939 president's report by A. L. Belle Isle. The invocation will be delivered by Dr. Herman L. Turner.

Last year's banquet brought 300 guests. This year, according to Mr. Bollinger, special tables of eight or more for special groups may be reserved.

APPOINTEES OF F. D. R. APPROVED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Attorney General Frank Murphy is expected to take his seat on the supreme court a week from next Monday as the result of his unanimous confirmation by the senate today.

He will probably take his oath of office as President Roosevelt's fifth appointee to the high court late this week or early next week and arrange to turn his present office over to Robert H. Jackson, now solicitor general. Jackson also was unanimously confirmed today.

The senate also confirmed the nomination of Circuit Judge Francis Biddle to be solicitor general, succeeding Jackson.

Time and tide wait for no man—and neither do Constitution Want Ads.

PRESTIGE

● This, New York's largest hotel, offers you the prestige of a fine address, luxury at bargain prices. 2500 rooms from $3.50, each with radio, tub and shower. Private tunnel to Penn. Station. For reservations write or wire

HOTEL NEW YORKER

34th Street at 5th Avenue, New York
LEO A. MULLER, Manager

You Are Invited

To Attend As Our Guest a

DEMONSTRATION MEETING Atlanta Athletic Club

Thursday 8:00 P. M. January 18, 1940

The new condensed course can help you gain—

- RECOGNITION
 - ADVANCEMENT
 - LEADERSHIP
- By learning how to
- SPEAK EFFECTIVELY
 - INFLUENCE PEOPLE

More than 30,000 people from all walks of life have benefited from this unique and practical method of training.

Hear Students Speak on

"What I Have Gained From This Course"

COME—judge for yourself if we can help you. Determine if you want to invest in yourself and your future.

THERE IS NO OBLIGATION
HENRY N. CASELL, Director

The Dale Carnegie Course

Effective Speaking—Human Relations—Personal Development
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG. JACKSON 1615

PILOTS ARE CALLED EXCELLENT ENVOYS

Continued From First Page.

passenger liners from over the world.

Across the marshes from the docks, back in the heart of the city, the contrast is sharper. A white Spanish colonial house with a sagging thatched roof squats next to an office building that is a good example of modern, functional architecture.

Peon Admires Truck.
A peon, ambling down the street in his two-wheeled cart stops to admire American trucks in a dealer's window. A taxi honks its horn angrily at a horse-drawn cab in the middle of a narrow street.

A bus stops at a crossing while a man crosses on a bony gray burro half his size. Gray burros are as characteristic of the city as the river boats. Barranquilla is full of them. They walk along the busy streets laden with everything from household goods to fresh vegetables.

The donkey's owner sits on top of the pile, balanced carefully in the middle of the load. To keep his feet from dragging in the street, he holds his legs out and crosses them at the calves on his animal's neck.

Hotels, like everything else here, range from the last authentic copy of the inn at Bethlehem to the del Prado, rapidly on its way to becoming an internationally famous institution.

Designed by Iowan.
Designed by an architect from Iowa who must have done a lot of traveling in the tropics and knew what the section needed, the

Annual Ministers' Week at Emory Expected To Bring 200 From Dixie

Rally January 22 to 27 Will Feature Lectures, Discussion Groups and Parties; Principal Speakers Will Be Dr.
Coffin, of New York, and Dr. Smart.

The annual Ministers' Week at Emory University, which will attract over 200 preachers and theologians from all southern states, will be held January 22-27, featuring lectures, discussion groups and parties.

Principal speakers on the program, which will be held in conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week, will be Dr. L. Sloan Coffin, president of the Union Theological Seminary in New York, and Dr. W. A. Smart, of Emory.

Tea for Visitors.
Members of the Candler School of Theology faculty at Emory will entertain the visiting ministers at a tea January 23 in the Florence Harris home.

Receiving will be Dean and Mrs. H. B. Trimble, Dr. F. N. Parker, Dr. Coffin, Dr. Smart, Dr. and Mrs. Boone Bowen, the Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Parker, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Rowling, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson.

Assisting in entertaining will be a group of the members of the Emory Women's Club which include Mesdames W. H. Jones, Robert Whitaker, Warren Matthews, Henry Quillian, Sam Silver, E. L. Jackson, R. R. Kracke, I. W. Brock, J. G. Lester, S. S. Haynie, R. C. Mizell, W. B. Baker, John Venable, Hugh Fuller, Pearl Hyde and Alice Turner, and Misses Margaret Jemison, Nell Parker, Mary Torrance, Geraldine Le May and Maude Hilley.

Party for Wives.
January 24 wives of Atlanta Methodist ministers will entertain del Prado perfectly fits local needs and has so little of the impersonal character of the average hotel that guests who put up for the night sometimes stay a month.

All rooms open directly on broad, shaded galleries that overlook the six-sided patio, centered by a swimming pool. The floors are cool tile and the ceilings are high. Terraces, furnished with long wicker chairs edge the patio. And the beds are brass, very elegant in these latitudes.

In spite of its modernity and second-home atmosphere, we were asked to pay more for cigarettes on one side of the patio than the other. Tourist tribute.

World Cross-Road.
The dining room of the world, Barranquilla is an important air and shipping center, and travelers who don't put up for the night stop by for a drink and a meal.

Employees of American companies with a stake in South America bring their inspecting vice presidents by, fill them with food and drink and laugh at their jokes. Last night, a visiting bishop and two young clerics were entertained in solemn state by a Colombian family.

By not paying too much atten-

STUBBORN HEAD COLDS

RELIEVE stuffiness and misery this proved way: Melt a spoonful of Vicks VapoRub in boiling water, then breathe in the steaming medicated vapors.

THEN AT BEDTIME, rub VapoRub on throat and chest to get full benefit of its long-continued action while you sleep. And you will be delighted with VICKS VAPORUB credit of the school system is listed as amounts due the city schools from unpaid 1938-39 state school appropriations, but even the most optimistic city officials would not even hazard a guess that the state will pay it during the year.

MILLION BALANCE EXPECTED BY CITY

Continued From First Page.

School Expectations.
No meeting of the Georgia legislature is scheduled for this year, and Governor Rivers has taken the position that none of the funds against which the grandfather clause has run can be paid without a special act of the assembly. No special session of the legislature is in prospect at this time, it was said.

Attorney General Ellis Arnall yesterday said the grandfather clause, adopted by Georgia in 1901, has run against both state school appropriations for the years 1938 and 1939.

Cliff pointed out that anticipated receipts from the city for 1940 are $260,000 short of the actual amount received by the schools from the city for 1939, and added "we can reasonably expect to get as much this year from the city as we got last."

More School Money.
Thus it was indicated that Cliff himself believes city revenues will justify the inclusion of the $236,000 fund even though the state fails to pay any of the obligation.

Inclusion of the defunct state school fund in 1940 assets of the Atlanta schools in the 1940 municipal budget was regarded as definite intention of the administration to provide more school money before the end of the year, it was said yesterday.

If 1940 collections are around those of 1939, the $1,000,000 bank balance in December is expected, and it was reported, if conditions improve, it will exceed that figure.

For years, the mayor of Atlanta has been empowered to veto the school budget when it is submitted to him if allocations exceed expenditures, and the 1940 school finance sheet probably will be sent to Hartsfield next week.

The mayor approved yesterday the 1940 city budget with the state school fund included.

Tops 1939 Expenses.
Cliff said yesterday that the school department has available for appropriation about $3,820,386.73 from all sources, including the $236,000 from the old state school funds and the $80,000 council authorized in a special resolution.

This sum exceeds 1939 expenditures carried at $3,689,558.91 by $130,827.82. Cliff explained that the difference between the amount available, and the amount to be appropriated in the 1940 school budget will be used to pay some 1939 bills which were not due for payment when 1939 expenditures were listed.

The new school budget will be submitted to individual members of the board of education probably tomorrow, Cliff said. A special board meeting to adopt it probably will be held Friday or early next week.

It costs you money every time you don't read Want Ads in The Constitution.

SOOTHES CHAFED SKIN
MOROLINE
WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

BALLIET INDUCTED BY ATLANTA CLUB

Transportation Group Holds
Its Annual Banquet
Here.

Members of the Transportation Club of Atlanta, with their wives and friends, gathered in the Ansley hotel last night for their 18th annual banquet and installation of 1940 officers.

Incoming president was Leo M. Balliet, who succeeded Joseph W. Mahanay. Mr. Mahanay presided over the banquet and dance which followed and inducted the new officers. Also taking office were E. L. Setzer, first vice president, and George Leyhe, second vice president.

The banquet program included a humorous monolog by Charles Newcomb and musical selections by the Emory Glee Club. Dancing followed.

ROBERT DOUGHTON TO LEAVE CONGRESS

Chairman of Ways, Means Committee Announces
Plan To Retire.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Representative Robert L. Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, 76, a member of the house for 30 years and chairman of the powerful ways and means committee since inauguration of the Roosevelt administration in 1933, tonight announced that he will retire next December 31 when his current term ends.

The tall, heavy-set North Carolinian explained in a formal statement that "my long-neglected private business badly needs attention" and he feels he should "take life easier than the arduous duties of my present position will allow."

PRESIDENT REGRETS DOUGHTON DECISION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would be awfully sorry if Chairman Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, did not seek re-election. He said he would hate to lose Doughton from the house, as he was a very valuable member of congress.

GAINESVILLE WOMAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
GAINESVILLE, Ga., Jan. 16.—The body of Miss Nina Smith, member of a prominent Gainesville family, was found in the bathroom of her home here early tonight a bullet wound in her left temple and a pistol lying in the bathtub near by. Deputy Sheriff Mel Clark reported.

Miss Smith was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith. Coroner J. B. Vickers said an inquest will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the Hubert Funeral Home. He said no note was found.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY AUGUSTA BANK

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—(AP)—J. Lee Etheredge was elected president of the Realty Savings Bank at the annual meeting of officers and directors here today.

Other officers named are A. B. Von C. Kamp, vice president; Leroy W. Lyeth, vice president and cashier, and J. R. Owens Jr., assistant cashier.

President Etheredge said deposits at the end of last year amounted to $1,168,684.64, as compared to $589,277 at the end of 1934.

OHIO DELEGATION WILL BACK F. D. R.

Continued From First Page.

President Roosevelt for a third term.

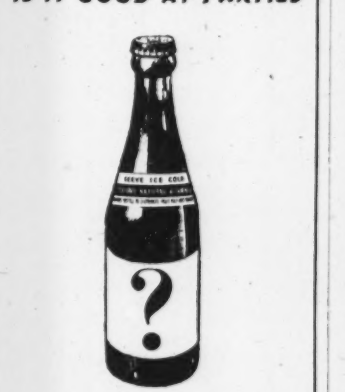

At the same time, the President acridly stepped questions asked at a press conference as to just what his plans were.

A reporter called the President's attention to an article in the United States News, a magazine published by David Lawrence. This article said that the President would announce on January 20 or March 4 that he does not choose to run for a third term.

Mr. Roosevelt laughingly inquired whether the article was copyrighted and whether other papers had picked it up and paid for the privilege. He added that it was slick technique on Lawrence's part—a new way of making money.

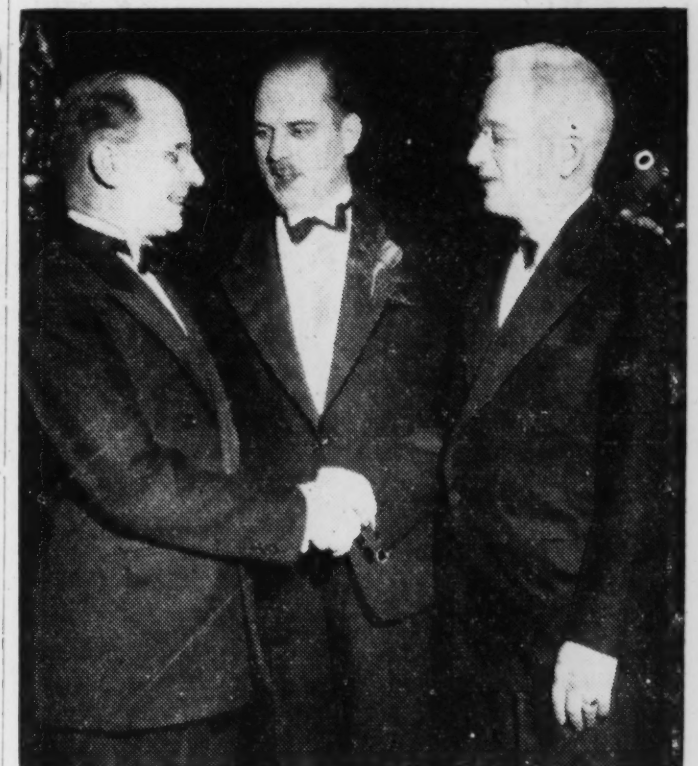

Lawrence said later that all those who asked permission to use the story were authorized to do so free of charge.

IS IT GOOD AT PARTIES

Want a tall thirst-quencher?
Here's the way to fix'er.
Use the brand new drink
That's a perfect mixer.

Congratulations to Transportation Club Head

Joseph W. Mahanay (left), retiring president of the Transportation Club of Atlanta, congratulates his successor in office, Leo M. Balliet (right). In the center is E. L. Setzer, newly elected first vice president. The new officers were installed at the annual banquet last night.

Benefit Bridge Party Is Planned To Raise Funds for Fight on Polio

Fulton County Women Urged To Attend Saturday Rally
At Henry Grady To Arrange Details; Other Events for President's Birthday Celebration Developing.

Plans for a benefit bridge party to be held at the Henry Grady hotel on Friday, January 26, to raise funds for fighting infantile paralysis will be discussed at a meeting called by Mrs. Max E. Land, co-chairman of the Fulton county committee for the celebration of the President's birthday, for 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mrs. Land asked all women in Fulton county who are able to attend to meet her on the mezzanine floor of the Henry Grady Saturday morning to help in arranging the bridge party. County Chairman Ivan Allen Sr. joined in urging a large attendance at Saturday's conference.

Children's Floor Show.
Another brilliant event planned for the infantile paralysis drive will be the seventh annual children's matinee and floor show to be given at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, January 27, in the Dixie ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel by Janet and Dorothy Anne Smith, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. DeFord Smith, of 281 Rumson road.

Net proceeds of the bridge party and the children's matinee and floor show will go half and half to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and to its Georgia chapter. The half of the proceeds kept in Georgia will be used in the care and treatment of victims of poliomyelitis in this state, and the other half which goes to the national foundation will be used for research into the cause and prevention of infantile paralysis.

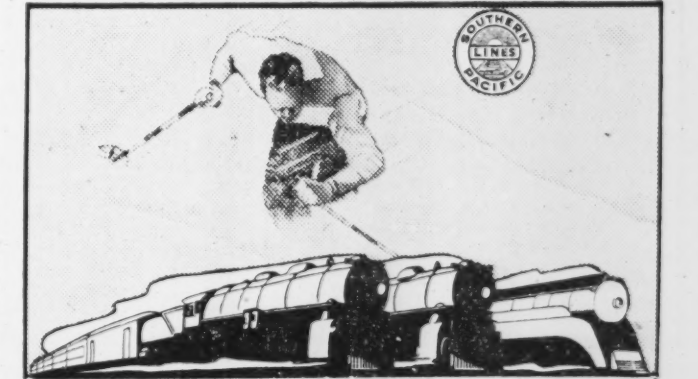

Four Dances Scheduled.
Four top-flight bands will play for Atlantans at the Ansley, Henry Grady and Biltmore hotels and the Shrine Mosque on the President's birthday, January 30. Tickets will be 51 a couple.

Plans for observance of Fulton Week next week were being formed yesterday. The American

BAILEY'S
SUPREME COFFEE

Double Your Money Back
Guaranteed

Like a visit ABROAD—Your trip to California

"Go abroad" over SP's famed Sunset Route and in Mexico this winter. You commence with a fascinating visit in the atmosphere of a town in Southern France, New Orleans' Old French Quarter. At El Paso, cross the Rio Grande for a bit of Old Spain. Then, Old Mexico. Make a side-trip to Carlsbad Caverns. Then, wild, rugged scenery and scenic grandeur as you speed to the winter sports of Switzerland, the Ski Slopes of the Sierra, the Cascades, Mt. Shasta, Mt. Hood and Yosemite. Explore Chiantoin in San Francisco.

And enjoy the air-conditioned comfort of famed limiteds—

SUNSET LIMITED—leave New Orleans 11:00 A. M. (through to San Francisco—no change of cars).

ARGONAUT—leave New Orleans 11:00 P. M. (through to Los Angeles; no change of cars—connect with Streamliner Daylight for San Francisco).

Return another great SP route, if you wish—see twice as much.

Round Trips From Atlanta to
SAN DIEGO	LOS ANGELES	SAN FRANCISCO
$74.50	$83.10	$91.20	$106.70
In Chair Cars Limit 6 Months.	In Chair Cars Limit 6 Months.	In Standard Sleepers to New Orleans; Tourist Sleepers beyond.	In Standard Sleepers.
Berth charge extra in Standard and Tourist Sleepers. Return limit 3 months.

See exotic MARDI GRAS—New Orleans, Feb. 1-4
Inquire about "All-Expense" trips to California and Mexico
Visit Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Southern Pacific
A. K. SWANN, General Agent,
419 Volunteer Bldg., Phone Walnut 4889
Atlanta, Ga.

EDUCATION BOARD PRAISES GOVERNOR ON SCHOOL FUNDS

State Group Promises Continued Support of Program; Resolution Calls Attention to Crisis

Resolutions praising Governor Rivers for making funds available for a complete public school term and promising continued support to his educational program were passed yesterday by the state board of education.

The board's resolution called attention to the financial crisis which existed until recently when the Governor made available funds for full payment of the school appropriation, and went on record as "enthusiastically approving Governor Rivers' action and commending his continued, pronounced and unwavering interest and fidelity to the children and teachers of Georgia."

In its regular monthly session yesterday, the board appointed a committee to set standards for law schools which make application for charters and to set up a method of rating these schools.

On the committee are the deans of law schools at the University of Georgia, Mercer, Emory, Atlanta Law school and the Woodrow Wilson Law school; M. E. Thompson, assistant state superintendent of schools, and Judge A. H. Freeman, vice chairman of the school board.

G. C. Daugherty, of Valdosta, served his first time as a member of the board. He was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. L. Patten, named chairman of the State Highway Board by Governor Rivers.

JOAN BENNETT 'EX' SWALLOWS DRUG

Took Overdose Because He Didn't Like Her Marriage, Police Report.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(P)—Three-year-old Joan Bennett, a three-year-old former husband took an overdose of sleeping tablets, police reported, because he "didn't like the idea" of the film actress' latest marriage.

Detectives said John Marion Fox, 35, member of a prominent Seattle family, told them he swallowed 100 tablets containing a hypnotic drug shortly before last midnight, then summoned an ambulance.

Hospital authorities said today he had a good chance to recover. "I didn't like the idea of Joan Bennett being married to that other guy," Dr. A. A. Trotter, police surgeon, quoted Fox.

Miss Bennett and Film Producer Walter Wanger were married at Phoenix, Ariz., last Friday. The actress referred all queries to her attorney, Neil McCarthy.

"When Miss Bennett learned of his poisoning last night, she arranged for him to be taken from the police receiving hospital to a private hospital, and also engaged a physician," McCarthy said.

WOMAN BURNED AS DRESS IGNITES

Miss Victoria Hammond Is in Critical Condition.

Miss Victoria Hammond, 30, of 1409 Moxley drive, S. W., was in a critical condition at Grady hospital last night as a result of burns sustained when her dress ignited from a heater shortly after noon.

Her mother, Mrs. Clurp Hammond, her mother, was treated for minor burns she received in attempting to aid her daughter. Miss Hammond was burned about the face and back. Her mother beat out the flames with a rug.

SKINNER NAMED HEAD OF CARRIER DIVISION

Josh P. Skinner has been named director of the motor carrier division of the Georgia Public Service Commission, Chairman Walter M. McDonald announced yesterday.

Skinner, formerly administrative assistant in the state office of the WPA, succeeds J. H. Ellis, who was recently named secretary and court reporter of the Augusta circuit of Richmond superior court.

At the City Hall

Mayor Hartsfield yesterday approved city council resolutions revoking permits to sell beer at 12 Georgia avenue, S. W., and 70 Fair street. City council voted the revocations on recommendation of the police committee.

H. H. Perkins and Phillip Moore, air engineers of the CAA, visited Mayor Hartsfield yesterday and told him that plans are virtually completed for start of work on the DeKalb county airport on the site of old Camp Gordon. They were accompanied by Jack Gray, Atlanta airport manager.

Mrs. Etta Rhamstine, secretary to Mayor Hartsfield, yesterday was back at her desk after an attack of influenza.

ASPIRONAL
DELICIOUS PALLIATIVE for COLDS

Takes Education Post

Constitution Staff Photo—Bill Mason.
G. C. Daugherty, of Valdosta, was sworn in yesterday by Governor Rivers as a member of the State Board of Education, succeeding L. L. Patten, resigned.

Three-Act Play To Be Staged In Installments

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Jan. 16.—

(P)—The Brenau College play production class announced a mystery play, "Time by the Clock," is in rehearsal.

The first act will be presented January 12, the second a week later, January 19, and the third act February 2.

A different director for each night and different casts, with one or two exceptions, will seek to mystify the audience until the final scene.

EMORY HONOR ROLL HAS 32 ATLANTANS

Decatur, College Park Students Also Listed.

Registrar J. G. Stipe, of Emory University, yesterday announced that 32 Atlanta students attained honor roll grades during the fall quarter.

They are Tom Addison, John Boyle, Gerald Cohen, Tom Foster, Jean Hampton, W. A. Hodges, John Hoge, John Loftis, Collier Minor, Sidney Moldow, Fincher Powell, Willie Simpson, Marion Walker, Chappell White, Curtis Benton, Mike Chakins, Milton Edgerton, Count Gibson, David Kalvin Kyle, Dan Newberry, E. D. Reisman, A. Eugene Reisman, Albert Henry Sturges Jr., Richard Rohrer, John Wilson, Wade Atkinson, Albert Crenshaw, Thomas Few, Robert Mitchell, Irvine Sunshine, Bennett Willafore and Meyer Zimmerman.

Also listed on the quarterly roll are Charles C. Antione, William Sledd, William Stead, Harry Cordes and Rutherford Poats, all of Decatur, and J. V. Ruppersburg, of College Park.

BAPTIST EVANGELIST WILL OPEN REVIVAL

Karl F. Wittman, of Toledo, Ohio, Baptist evangelist, will begin a series of revival meetings in the Pine Tabernacle at Peachtree and Linden streets, beginning at 2:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon, it was announced yesterday.

Evangelist Wittman, who was converted at a Billy Sunday rally 28 years ago, has preached in several southern cities. His wife, their daughter, Rachel, and their son, Karl F. Wittman Jr., assist.

Georgia Baptist Hospital Treated 8,254 In 1939, Superintendent Barker Reports

Many Improvements Added,
He Reveals, But Says More Space Is Needed.

A total of 8,254 patients were treated at Georgia Baptist hospital during 1939 and many new improvements were completed, W. D. Barker, superintendent, reported last night at the annual banquet of the hospital's medical and surgical staff given by the hospital commission.

Superintendent Barker said 7,252 patients were admitted during the year, 606 cases were given emergency treatment and 396 were treated at the cancer clinic. He also expressed appreciation for the new cancer clinic dedicated October 6, the new building for interns, and the generous donations received during the year.

New officers of the medical and surgical staff are Dr. Thomas P. Goodwyn, president; Dr. George Fuller, first vice president; Dr. Hal M. Davison, second vice president, and Dr. Henry W. Minor, secretary. Dr. Stephen T. Brown, outgoing president, was presented with a silver platter.

"Although the Georgia Baptist hospital has just closed its most successful year and is enjoying the best patronage of its existence, the need for additional space is our greatest challenge," Barker said in his report.

Dr. S. V. Sanford, chancellor of the University System of Georgia, was principal speaker at the banquet. His subject was "The Challenge of Our Modern Age."

Here are four of the principals at last night's annual banquet of the medical and surgical staff of the Georgia Baptist hospital as they talked over the hospital's progress. Left to right (seated) are Dr. S. V. Sanford, principal speaker, and Dr. Stephen T. Brown, retiring president. Standing are W. D. Barker, left, hospital superintendent, and Dr. Thomas P. Goodwyn, new president of the staff.

Jaundice Gives Of Cure for Ailment Mysteriously Ends Arthritic Pains, Research Shows Dr. Smith.

By HAROLD MARTIN.

The common old jaundice—the "yellow janders" of Grandpa's day—has provided the medical profession with a clue which some time may lead to a cure for that relentless bevilier of the old, rheumatism, and its more dread brother which strikes young and old alike, chronic arthritis.

How jaundice helps arthritic persons nobody knows. But ever since that day 11 years ago when a jaundiced patient walked into the office of Dr. Philip Showalter Hench at Mayo Clinic and said: "Doc, I've got the jaundice and my rheumatism is gone," medical men have known that unpleasant but non-fatal old liver trouble possesses some strange power to alleviate the pain of rheumatism.

Jaundice Goes—Pain Returns. It is no cure. When the jaundice goes away the arthritis comes back. But for the time that the patient is jaundiced, his rheumatism is gone.

Now, rheumatism is one of the world's oldest diseases. Kneecaps dug from prehistoric caves showed that our Pittdown ancestors knew its pains. The dinosaur, dead these million years, suffered from it, as his bones today will attest. Ever since man first started treating himself with herbs and roots and rough surgery he has been fighting against its racking pain. The fight goes on today—heat therapy, X-ray, bone puncture, massage, injection of gold salts into the veins—a thousand things are tried.

Twenty-three million people over the age of 50 today suffer from plain old hypertrophic rheumatism, "Grandmother's rheumatism," the type that is not a family but a nuisance. And two to three million suffer from atrophic rheumatism, arthritis, that hurts like the dickens and may eventually cripple.

They spend untold millions with reputable doctors and get some relief. And they spend, these arthritic sufferers alone, about $105,000,000 a year with quacks and cultists and faddists and phonies for 600 different kinds of patent medicines that won't help a bit.

Patiently and doggedly, year after year, good doctors have sought to learn the secret of arthritis. Some things they tried helped others. Some things they tried failed to help at all. There was no one thing discovered which held out any hope that arthritis could ever be relieved except by slow and probably costly treatments that might or might not work, after all.

Atlanta Group Hears Story. When the jaundiced man walked into the office of Dr. Hench, and as he told the third annual gathering of the Atlanta Graduate Medical Assembly in conference at the Biltmore hotel yesterday, "a new lead and a new hope was given us, a door was opened to a field of research."

Dr. Hench got busy. He dug back through old medical records and here and there, in dusty tomes, he found a sentence revealing that other doctors, long ago, had noted the strange power of jaundice to relieve rheumatism. They were fragmentary, but they were there.

He began to talk it around, and other doctors began hunting for evidence among their own cases which might indicate that the case of the jaundiced man at Mayo clinic was not some rare freak of medicine.

He found other cases. Four of them, in 11 years, came to him at his office in Rochester. Some of their statements he flashed on the screen at the assembly yesterday.

"I would trade my rheumatism for jaundice anytime, if it wouldn't come back," one said. And another:

"Since the jaundice came my rheumatism's been cured. At least the jaundice done that much good. The way to cure rheumatism is to give a fellow a case of the jaundice and then cure his jaundice."

So Dr. Hench began his re-

What he wants to know, what doctors today in New York, Boston, Tucson, in England and France are working to find out is—what is the strange chemical change that jaundice causes with in the body which kills the pain of arthritis almost overnight?

Well Worth Effort. When they finally find that answer, and find it they will, Dr. Hench believes, people will at last be free of a disease that has racked them since time began.

"It's just a clue, a new lead, a hope, today," he told his hearers at the medical assembly. "But it's great news to us who are interested in arthritis because it tells that there is, within the human body, some power to control a disease which we ourselves cannot control. It tells us that arthritis is not relentless, not forever beyond our ken, not something from which we must always suffer. "There is a secret lying behind the yellow skin of the man with the jaundice. Some day we'll find it."

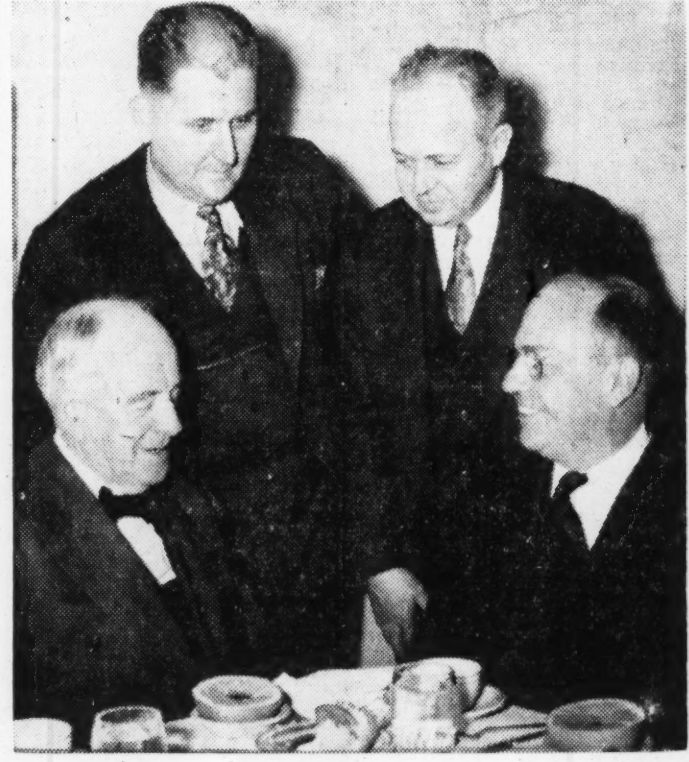

COUPLE IN VIDALIA SLUGGED, ROBBED

Woman Beaten Unconscious
Despite Illness.

VIDALIA, Ga., Jan. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Brantley were robbed and brutally assaulted while they slept at their home here early Sunday, according to a report made to Police Chief J. H. Yarn.

A pocketbook containing $33 was taken, along with other articles.

Both Mrs. Brantley, who has been suffering from an attack of influenza, and her husband were beaten unconscious. Mrs. Brantley received several wounds about the head, and several stitches were required. Her husband was less severely wounded, but was unconscious about 30 minutes.

Constitution Staff Photo—Bill Wilson.
Here are four of the principals at last night's annual banquet of the medical and surgical staff of the Georgia Baptist hospital as they talked over the hospital's progress. Left to right (seated) are Dr. S. V. Sanford, principal speaker, and Dr. Stephen T. Brown, retiring president. Standing are W. D. Barker, left, hospital superintendent, and Dr. Thomas P. Goodwyn, new president of the staff.

Amusement Calendar Stage Shows

CAPITOL—"Jeepers Creepers," with the Weaver Brothers and Elvira. Roy Rogers, etc., at 11:45, 2:20, 4:55, 7:30 and 10:05. "America Swings," all-star revue, on the stage at 1:25, 3:35, 6:35 and 9:05. Newsreel and short subjects.

PARAMOUNT—"Ric," with Basil Rathbone, Victor McLaglen, Sigrid Gurie, Robert Cummings, etc., at 11:30, 2:12, 4:47, 7:25 and 10:11. "La Vie Paree," International Revue, on the stage at 1:09, 3:44, 6:20 and 9:08. Newsreel and short subjects.

ROXY—"Cowboy Quarterback," with Marie Wilson, Bert Wheeler, etc., at 12:15, 2:42, 5:14, 7:46 and 10:10. Hal Kemp and his orchestra, with The "Smoothies," Bob Allen and Janet Blair, on the stage, at 1:32, 4:24, 6:56 and 9:20. Newsreel and short subjects.

Downtown Theaters

FOX—"Swanee River," with Don Ameche, Andrea Leeds, Al Tolson, etc., at 1:24, 3:25, 5:32, 7:35 and 9:40. Newsreel and short subjects.

LOEW'S GRAND—"Gone With the Wind," with Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard, Olivia de Havilland, etc., Matinee, 1:30; evening, 8:00.

RIALTO—"Music in My Heart," with Tony Martin, Rita Hayworth, Andre Kostelanetz and His Music, etc., at 11:30, 1:38, 3:42, 5:46, 7:50 and 9:54. Newsreel and short subjects.

RHODES—"They Shall Have Music," with Jascha Heifetz, Andrea Leeds, etc., at 2:35, 4:48, 7:01 and 9:14. Newsreel and short subjects.

CAMBO—"The Days of Jesse James," with Roy Rogers.

CELEST—"Tartan Finds a Son," with Maureen O'Sullivan.

Night Spots

HENRY GRADY HOTEL—Spanish Room, featuring King and his orchestra, featuring Gay Nichols, Bud Dowling and Virginia Mauch. Girls as vocalists, playing dinner-dance music, with two shows, at 8 p. m. and 11 p. m.

ANSLEY HOTEL—Rainbow Roof—Johnny Hamp and his orchestra, featuring Laine Whitney, as vocalist and McDonald and Ross, dancers, playing dinner-dance music nightly from 7 p. m. until midnight.

ATLANTA BILTMORE HOTEL—Main Dining Room—Al Apollon, featuring Troubadours, playing dinner-dance music nightly, 7 p. m. to midnight, except Sunday and Monday.

HANGAR RESTAURANT—The Troubadours, featuring Billy James and Connie Parsons, playing dinner-dance music.

Neighborhood Theaters

ALPHA—"Sundown on the Prairie," with Tex Ritter.

AMERICAN—"Jackey, the Kid," with Bruce Cabot.

AVONDALE—"The Rains Came," with Tyrone Power.

BANKHEAD—"Come and Get It," with Joel McCrea.

BROOKHAVEN—"Streets of New York," with Jackie Cooper.

BUCKHEAD—"Nurse Edith Cavell," with Anna Nagle.

CASCADE—"Eternal Yours," with Loretta Young.

COLEGE PARK—"The Salt Stripes Back," with George Sanders.

DEKALB—"Million Dollar Legs," with Betty Grable.

EMORY—"Dramatic School," with Louise Rainer.

EMPIRE—"20,000 Men a Year," with Randolph Scott.

FAIRFAX—"Buildup Drummond's Bride," with John Howard.

FAIRVIEW—"The Gorilla," with the Ritz Brothers.

FULTON—"Grace Allen Murder Case," with Grace Allen.

HANGAR—"Tough Kid," with Frank- le Darr.

HILAN—"Hell's Kitchen," and "They Asker for It."

KIRKWOOD—"The Adventures of Marco Polo," and "My Wife's Relatives."

PALACE—"They Made Her a Spy," with Sally Eilers.

PLAZA—"Babes in Arms," with Mickey Rooney.

POPE DE LEON—"The Forgotten Woman," with Sigrid Gurie.

SYLVAN—"Down in Arkansas," with Weaver Brothers and Elvira.

TECHWOOD—"Angels Wash Their Faces," with Dead End Kids.

TEMPLE—"Mr. Moto Takes a Vacation," and "Uncle Ned on the stage."

TENTH STREET—"Hotel Imperial," and "Grand Jury Secrets."

WEST END—"Starmaker," with Bing Crosby.

Colored Theaters

ASHBY—"Honeydew in Bali," with Fred MacMurray.

BL—"While New York Sleeps," and "Big Fella."

ROYAL—"Kid From Kokomo," with Wayne Morris.

STRAND—"Rolling Caravans," with Hal- lem—"The Mummy," with Bo- le Karloff.

LINCOLN—"Stunt Pilot."

One Week From Today CAB CALLOWAY and his COTTON CLUB BAND CITY AUDITORIUM

Wednesday, Jan. 24, 8 P. M.
(WHITE PATRONS)

Adv. Tickets $1; Box Office $1.10. Advance Ticket Sale Begins at Warren's Music Store, 62 N. Broad St., Saturday, January 20.

Thursday, Jan. 25, 8 P. M.
(COLORED PATRONS)

General Admission, 75c

Due to the LARGE Crowds in the Evenings We Advise You To At- tend the Matinees

Lucas & Jenkins' Paramount NOW PLAYING

A. B. MARCUS Presents

La Vie PAREE

Sensational INTERNATIONAL REVUE

70 PEOPLE

31 SPECTACLES

48 Beautiful GIRLS

On the Screen

"RIO"—Basil Rathbone

AMONG OUR FRIENDS

Are You the Peppy Type?

Some folks are rain' to go all the time—ready for action, whether work or play is just ahead.

Active, lively, mentally alert people find solid enjoyment at this shrine of good living. Good food, good drinks and good music give them opportunity to enjoy amusement at its best. And our prices are moderate enough to make them come back often.

George King's N. B. C. Band and Show

Where Stars of Stage, Screen, Radio Gather Nightly

Spanish Room

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

STARTS FRIDAY ANOTHER SMASH HIT COMEDY FROM THE STUDIOS OF COLUMBIA

Cary Grant
ROSALIND RUSSELL
"HIS GIRL FRIDAY"

Good Seats Are Available for This Week's Performances, Especially Matinees.

SEATS NOW SELLING THROUGH JAN. 26

Twice daily at 1:50 and 8:00 p.m. Matinees: 75c. Evenings: $1.10. This production will not be shown elsewhere except on advanced prices—at least until 1941.

AUDITORIUM DANCE FRIDAY NITE ARTIE SHAW ORCHESTRA

Advance Tickets, 50c Per Person At Door, 75c Per Person

On Sale at Bame's

The ANSLEY presents...

JOHNNY HAMP

And His Orchestra

DIRECT FROM RADIO CITY

Featuring McDONALD and ROSS

Diversified Dancers

Dancing from 7 O'Clock

RAINBOW ROOF

No Cover Charge

Lucas & Jenkins' Starts Paramount FRIDAY

In Person Phil SPITALNY

and his 'HOUR OF CHARM'

ALL-GIRL Orchestra

Featuring EVELYN MAXINE

THREE LITTLE WORDS ROSALINDA & LOLA

We've Got It

A Stage Show So Packed With Real Entertainment That It's the Talk of Atlanta!

HAL KEMP

HIS ORCHESTRA

The Smoothies

Bob Allen

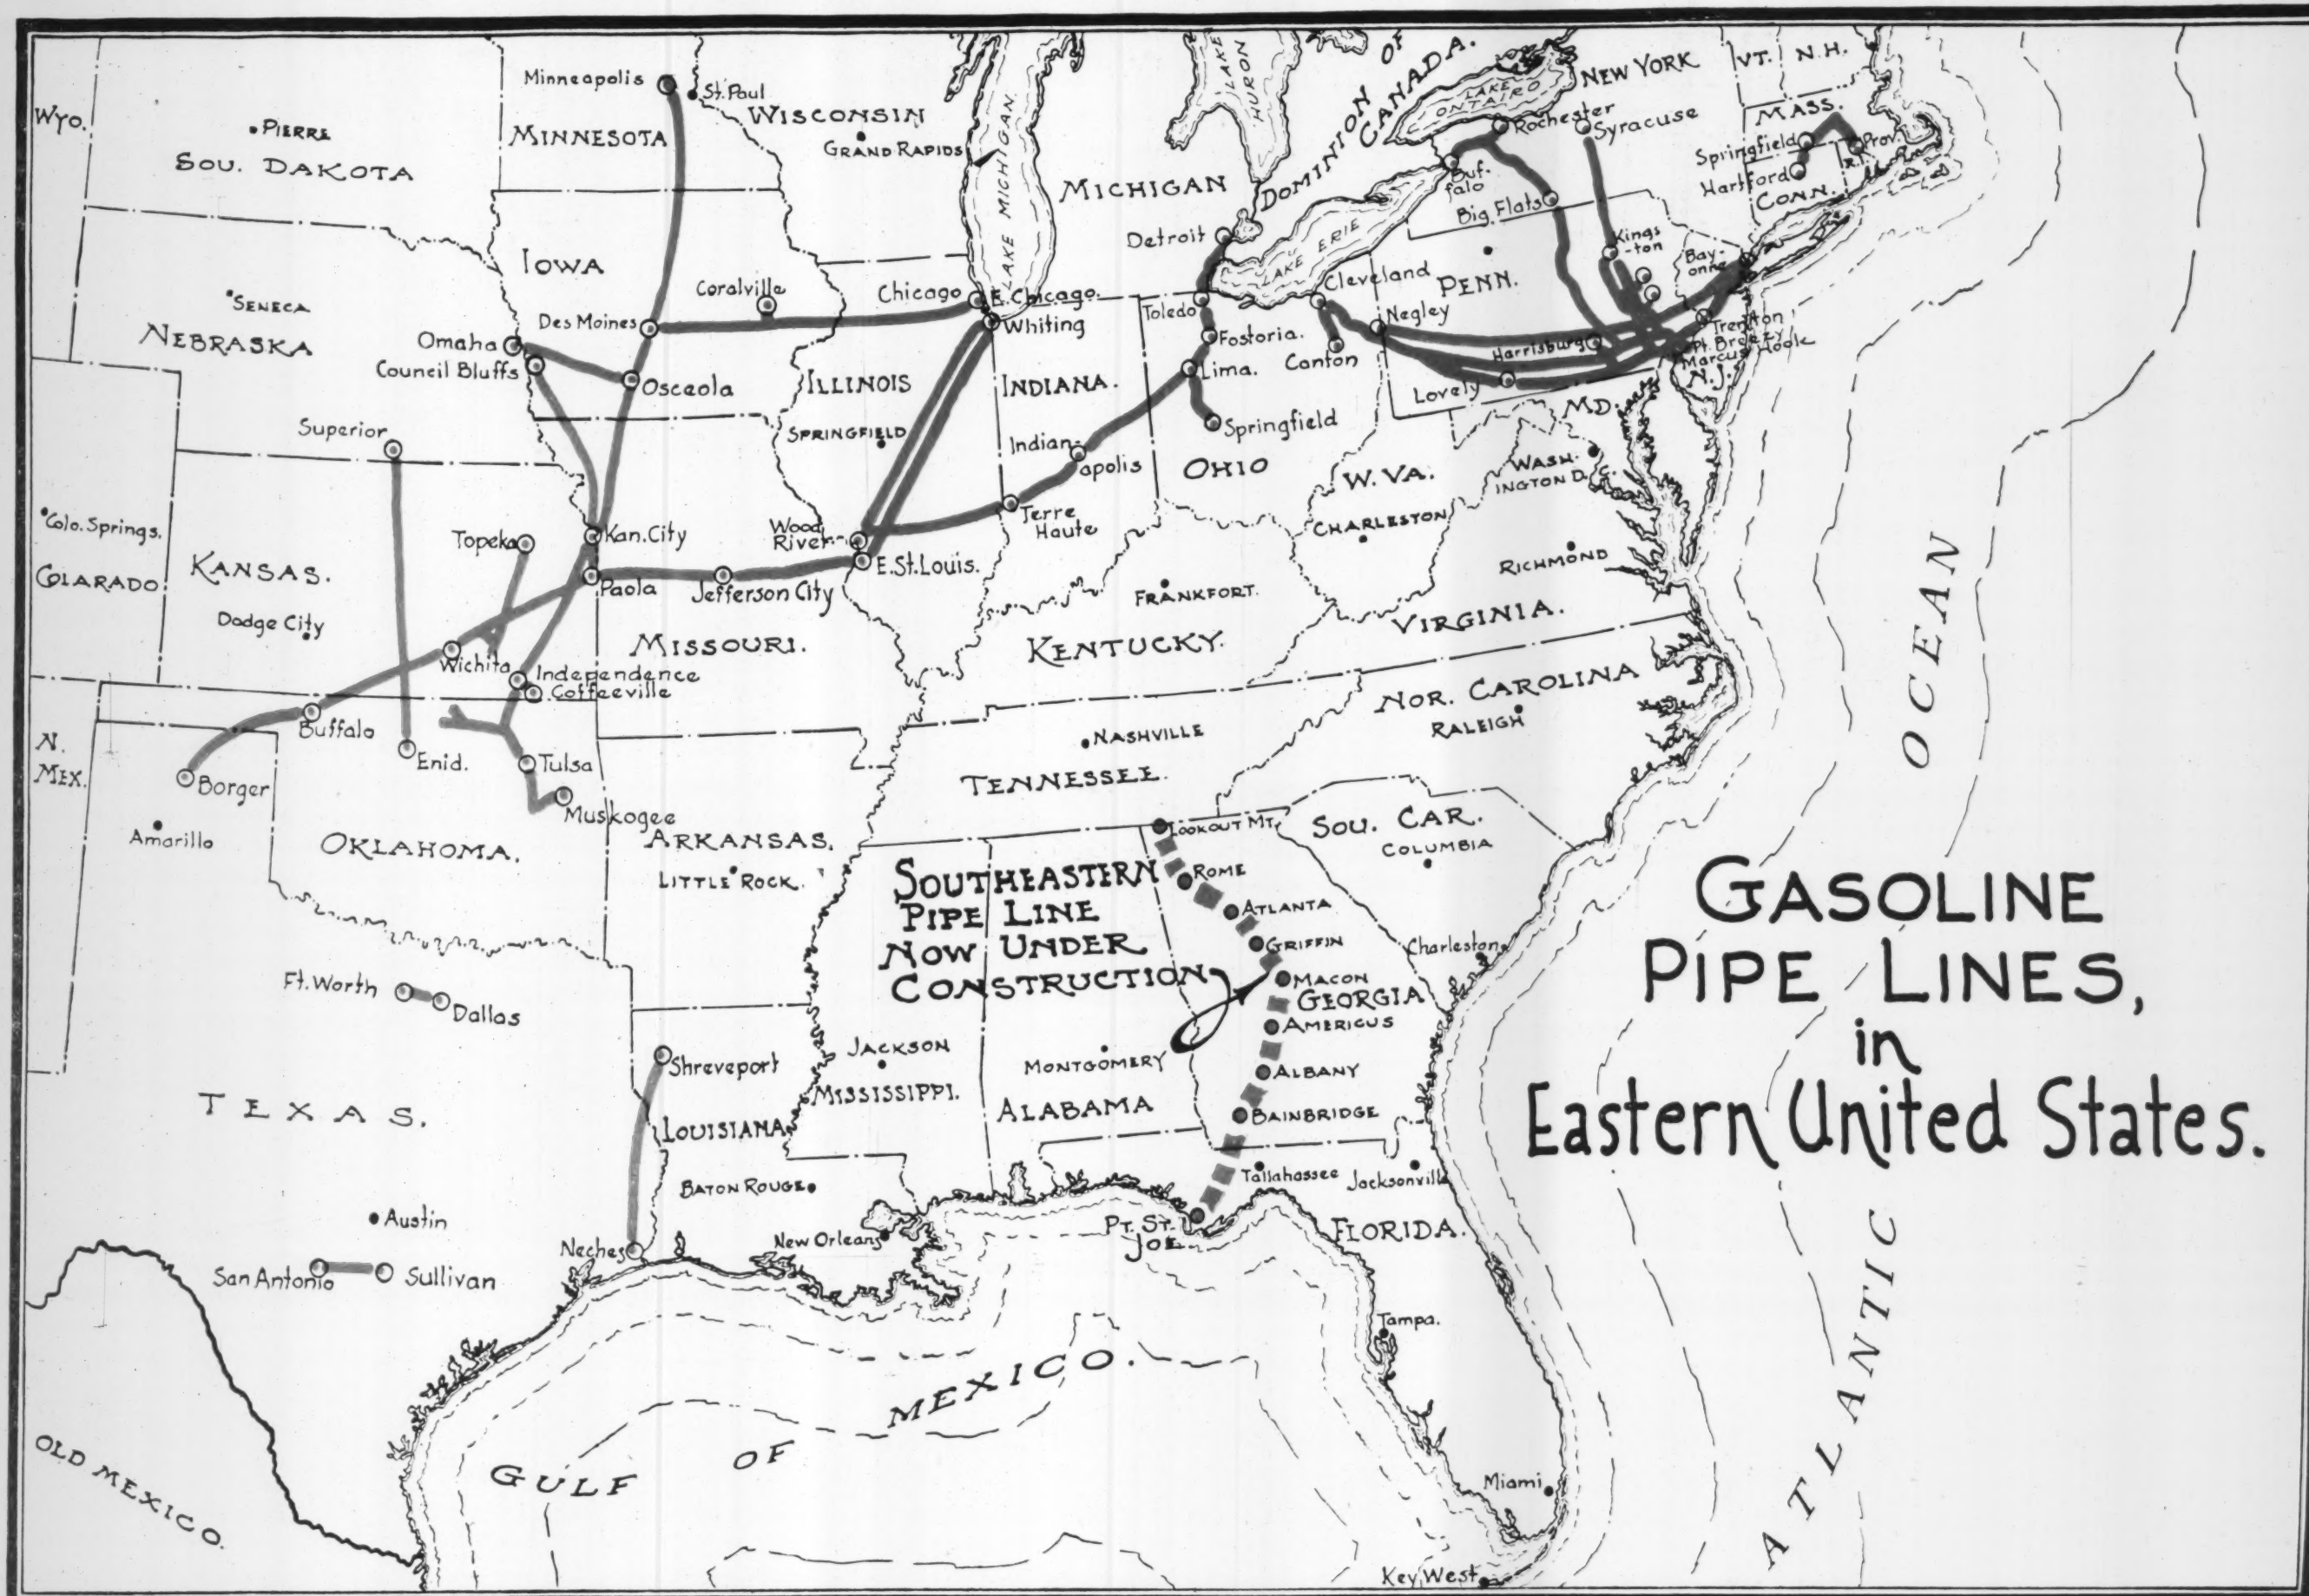

Janet Blair

Jack Lemaire

In Person!

ROXY

NOW!

Another Great Step Forward in Transportation PIPE LINES AND PROGRESS

For the first time in history a gasoline pipe line is now under construction in the southeastern states. When completed it will run from Port St. Joe, Florida, through Georgia to the Tennessee line near Chattanooga.

Although more than 7,000 miles of gasoline pipe lines are now in successful and safe operation in this country, not one of them is in the southeastern states.

That this progressive movement will be popular with gasoline consumers in this part of the country is obvious to all forward-looking citizens. It is a modern step that has proved to be uniformly successful wherever tried. Twenty-five years of gasoline transportation have demonstrated that pipe lines are the SAFEST means known to science.

Experience everywhere pipe lines are used has proved, beyond doubt, that this means of transportation is the safest method. During the entire history of the operation of the 7,000 miles of gasoline pipe lines in the United States, there has never been one casualty.

To cite one expert, among many, this statement of Edward Shearwood, assistant fire chief of the city of Cincinnati, Ohio, is offered:

"We feel that the transportation of petroleum products by means of a pipe line, installed in a safe and proper manner, is far safer than by tank cars and that in the future for safety and fire prevention all petroleum and its products will be transported in this manner."

Any progressive step in our country's history has always met obstructionists, and the development of this country has been one step after another of progress. Progress has always won. It was said of the first labor saving machines that they would throw thousands of people out of work. Time and experience have shown they created more work. Any progressive step makes more work for more people.

The gasoline industry owes it to the public to take advantage of the best plan for transporting its product. The consuming public deserves every possible price concession that can come through the operation of a safe and economic, as well as progressive system of transportation.

The pipe line in Georgia is being constructed for this reason—in order that the consuming public may be granted every possible price concession on gasoline that can come through the operation of a safe, practical, effective means of transportation.

It is not being constructed at the expense of the taxpayers. And it will bring, through the taxes it pays, new revenue to the state and to each county and school district in which it operates.

Many people will be employed in the construction of the Southeastern Pipe Line in Georgia and when it is finished many more people will be employed in its permanent operation.

Terminals of the new line will be located at Bainbridge, Albany, Americus, Macon, Griffin, Atlanta, Rome and Lookout Mountain, Georgia, near the Tennessee border. In all these places, as well as at other points on the line, people will be given permanent employment when it is in full operation.

We say, therefore, that for the GREATEST SAFETY in transporting gasoline, and for the CHEAPEST COST of such transportation, the building of this pipe line in Georgia is a genuine public service and one that should appeal to every gasoline consumer, not only in Georgia, but in the entire southeast.

We acknowledge the active support and influence of gasoline consumers in this territory and of other citizens who may not use gasoline but who are aware of the benefits that will come from the employment of many people in this industry.

We thank all forward-looking people who welcome this progressive and constructive method in gasoline transportation, which has been used for years in other states and which, hitherto, has not been employed in this section of the country.

Southeastern Pipe Line Company Atlanta, Georgia

A New Industry for Georgia

Farewell Party Fetes Mrs. W. T. Colquitt

A seaside setting featured the decorations at the luncheon at which Mrs. Bernard Neal was hostess. Monday at her home on West Peachtree road for Mrs. Walter T. Colquitt Jr., who, with Mr. Colquitt, leaves today to make her home in Miami, Fla.

The table was centered by a mirror plaque representing the ocean, surrounded by a beach formed of sand. Placed at intervals were miniature figures sitting under tiny beach umbrellas. At one end of the table was a small race track representing Hialeah Park, in Miami, and at the other was another mirror plaque with a miniature United States fleet lined up to protect the harbor. A doll trunk, filled with amuse-ing gifts, was presented the honoree. Covers were laid for ten close friends of the hostess and honor guest.

Miss Boykin Fetes Miss Nancy Moody.

Miss Nancy Moody, whose marriage to Blanton Smith will be a brilliant event of January 26, was honor guest yesterday at the bridge tea at which Miss Isabel Boykin entertained. The affair took place at the hostess' home on Myrtle avenue.

The tea table was overlaid with a dainty lace cloth centered with a silver bowl containing an artistic arrangement of narcissi and lavender sweet peas. Present were the members of the Moody-Smith wedding person-

Worthy Matron

Nebbett Studio Photo.

Mrs. Gladys Weir Scruggs was recently elevated to the station of worthy matron of Atlanta Chapter No. 57, O. E. S. Since coming to Atlanta from Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Scruggs has taken an active part in Eastern Star and church work. In addition to this, she is an active member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of this city and a charter member of Eta chapter of the International Delphian Society. She also holds honorary membership in John B. Garrett chapter, O. E. S., of Nashville, where she was an active member before coming to Atlanta.

Shorter Alumnae Club

Group 2 of Atlanta Shorter Alumnae Club meets today with Mrs. R. E. Irwin, 597 Martina drive, at 3 o'clock. Miss Rebecca Yeargan will have charge of the program.

Mrs. R. Beverly Irwin, the chairman, announces that plans for the new year will be discussed, and urges every Shorter girl to attend.

Announcing A Spring Showing of Custom Craft Shoes

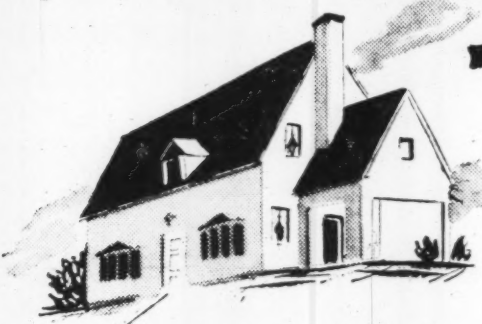

For two days, Wednesday, January 17th and Thursday, January 18th, the special representative of Custom Craft will be in our shoe department. At this time the complete Custom Craft line for Spring will be shown. The public is cordially invited to attend.

SHOE CENTER

STREET FLOOR

RICH'S

"Our goal is a HOME," they said

We showed them... and can show
YOU the way!

It wasn't a mansion we helped them furnish. (They were young things, bravely starting out.) Neither did we recommend the "be-it-ever-so-humble" principle, just because they had little to spend. We advised Rich's Budget Furniture. Good furniture at good low prices, hand-picked with so much distinction. And, then we showed them how easy it was to pay for their furnishing via Rich's liberal Club Plan. A small deposit delivered everything from rugs to china and now they're paying the balance in small monthly payments.

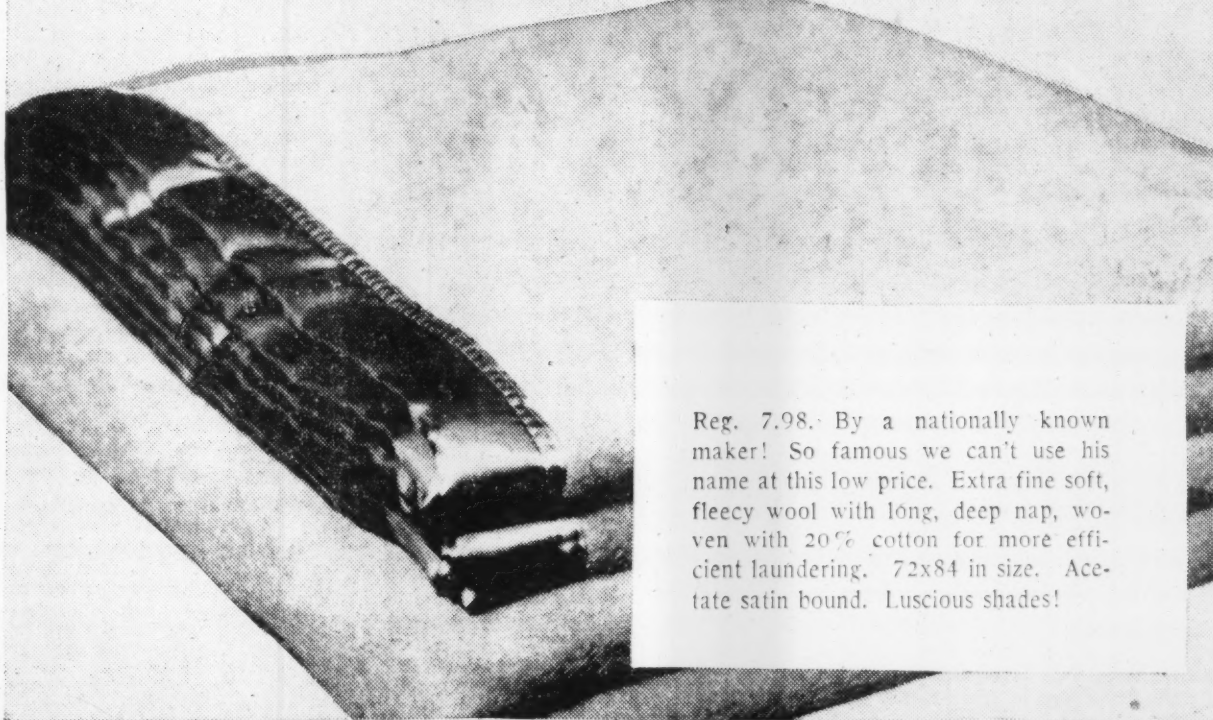

"Nothing cheap" is our first warning to young home-makers. Buy homefurnishings that are going to last... furnishings that will stand up and still spell good taste when you've given up your small apartment for your big Colonial house. If we can help young people furnish a couple of rooms, we can help you, too, whether it be furnishing a home or adding a single piece.

Watch for Rich's Semi-Annual Sale... it's coming soon... and bringing you values so great there was never a better time in our 73-year history to buy homefurnishings. Plan to attend! See our Budget rooms! Convince yourself that you CAN afford a nice comfortable home... and during the Semi-Annual Sale, save tremendously!

RICH'S

RICH'S ANNUAL SALE! LINENS AND BEDDING

PURE VIRGIN WOOL FILLED
BLANKET - 5.98

Reg. 7.98. By a nationally known maker! So famous we can't use his name at this low price. Extra fine soft, fleecy wool with long, deep nap, woven with 20% cotton for more efficient laundering. 72x84 in size. Acetate satin bound. Luscious shades!

Thomaston Percales Sheets and Cases

Made in Georgia. Finely woven from select carded yarns, bleached snow-white. Torn sizes, neatly hemmed. January special!

Plain Hemmed Percales

Size	Regularly	January Sale, Each
72x99	1.59	1.29
72x108	1.69	1.39
81x99	1.69	1.39
81x108	1.79	1.49
90x108	1.99	1.69
42x38 1/2 Cases	38c	32c
45x38 1/2 Cases	42c	34c

Hemstitched Percales

Size	Regularly	January Sale, Each
72x99	1.79	1.49
72x108	1.89	1.59
81x99	1.89	1.59
81x108	1.99	1.69
90x108	2.19	1.89
42x38 1/2 Cases	55c	47c
45x38 1/2 Cases	60c	49c

RICH'S "Silver Bleach" Sheets and Cases

Our famous quality bed linen at wonderful savings! Expertly woven from fine, strong yarns. Snow-white! Heavy tape selvage. Torn sizes. Cellophane wrapped.

Size	Regularly	January Sale, Each
63x99	1.14	.84
63x108	1.24	.94
72x99	1.24	.94
72x108	1.34	1.04
81x99	1.34	1.04
81x108	1.44	1.14
90x108	1.54	1.34
42x36	.29	.24

Rich's Linens and Bedding
Second Floor

IRISH LINEN DAMASK

Fine quality, double woven damask cloths and napkins. Handsome patterns—Satin Band, Rose Chrysanthemum! French hems—done by hand!

Size	Regularly	Sale Each
72x72	8.95	5.98
72x90	9.85	6.98
72x108	10.85	7.98
72x126	12.85	9.98
72x144	14.85	11.98
22x22 napkins, regularly 10.85, dozen		7.98

MARTEX BATH
TOWELS
29¢ ea.

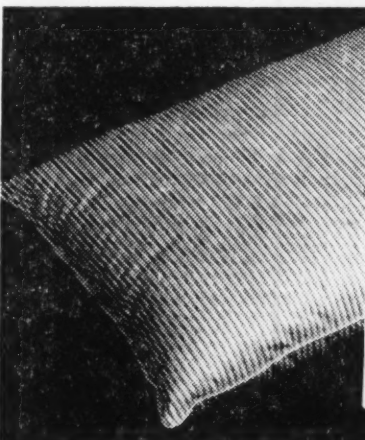

Reg. 44c Extra Heavy! So absorbent they fairly lap up the water! Large 22x44 size. Strongly woven—they wear like iron! All white with borders in blue, green, red, gold, peach, orchid.

25c Matching Guest Towels, 16c
10c Matching Wash Cloths, 6 for 39c

Goose Down Pillows
9.85

Regularly 14.85 Pair

21x26-in. Plumply filled with 100% Bohemian goose down! Luxuriously covered with narrow blue stripe imported fabric. Corded edges.

Linen Huck Towels
39c

Regularly 59c

17x32-in. Fine Irish linen! Hemstitched satin damask borders. Space for monogram or floral design. They're a real January special!

Mattress Pads

Quilted!
Regularly 1.89

1.49

Add comfort and protection to your bed! Soft, white cotton padding. Close zig-zag stitching. Sizes: Twin beds, 42x76-in. Double, 52x76-in.

Embroidered Cases

Regularly 1.49 Pair

$1

300 pairs fine Chinese hand-embroidered pillow cases! Handsome, elaborate designs. Hand-scarloped edges. Long-lasting material! Save 49c!

It's Wife's Job to Keep Heartened the Husband Who Has No Job

Allow Calories For Difference In Taste

By Ida Jean Kain.

The psychologists claim that it is possible to account for anyone's actions by his or her childhood. Looking back at my Scotch Presbyterian upbringing, I can see that there were no compromises with life. Black was black and white was white and there were no gray tones.

We were expected to eat our vegetables. The fact that we might not like spinach had nothing to do with the case. And it didn't occur to us to ask for a second helping of dessert. We knew we wouldn't get it! And "no candy between meals" didn't mean we could have a piece!

Perhaps that helps to explain why, when I put you on a diet, I really put you on a diet! At any rate, one reducer is protesting at what she calls my failure to compromise! She says:

"I am absolutely convinced that 50 per cent of the people who begin a diet and then give it up would not do so if you would meet a few of the 'must haves' half way!"

And she goes on to explain. . . "After all, my middle-aged women have been doing about as well as we please for a long time. And self-control along food lines can't be developed immediately. It gets easier in time, of course—so I'm really pleading for the possible."

Take coffee, for example! She writes:

"The craving for coffee on a diet becomes even greater than usual, perhaps because it is a stimulant. You give the reducer coffee, but often without cream and sugar, and clear coffee is poison to me! So why not explain the calories and food value of canned milk in place of cream, and the fact that one-fourth of a grain of saccharine will sweeten a cup of coffee nicely?"

All right! There are no calories in saccharine. If you wish to use it to sweeten your coffee, why not let me ask that you do not take saccharine in your coffee and then eat two sugared doughnuts—as I sometimes see people doing—

Evaporated, unsweetened milk contains only 20 calories a tablespoon. But 18 per cent cream contains only 30 calories a tablespoon. If black coffee is "poison" to you, by all means take it the way you like it!

This particular reducer made concessions to her own likes and dislikes, stayed on her diet, and lost 10 pounds. But as the result of her experience she is convinced that not enough dietary allowance is made for the difference in individual taste. On that score she is right! Reducing diets are made for the average person and to some degree your preferences should be taken into consideration. That, however, is up to you!

First, make sure that all the protective foods are included for the sake of health and looks. It takes a minimum of 800 calories to include this list. If you are on a 200-calorie diet, you then have 400 calories left over—plenty for cream and sugar in your coffee and dessert!

Send a large return envelope to Miss Kain, in care of "Protective Diet Chart and the 'Calorie Chart.' After you have included the protective foods, juggle the remaining reducing calories to suit yourself.

Jedn Calney, featured opposite Joseph Allen in Paramount's "All Women Have Secrets," came to Hollywood a year ago and worked in amateur stage shows most of the time in order to be "discovered." She refused the aid of her brother, Jimmy, who also got his start without "pull," she boasts.

A Changeable Princess Frock

By Barbara Bell.

Charming and changeable are the words for this very simple princess frock (1898-B). Charming, because it is so slim-waisted and flare-skirted, with wide shoulders gathered at the top. Changeable, because you can make the neckline two ways—either with the round tailored collar, or with the collarless square neckline. As a matter of fact, if you once get it on, and see what nice things it does to your figure, you'll want it both ways, and make it up time and again, in daytime cottons. It's a very adaptable style, too, becoming to misses' and women's sizes alike. Of course, the button front coat type is becoming, more popular as the months go by.

For home wear, choose crisp cottons like gingham, percale or calico. For street or office wear, feile, flat crepe or gay silk print will be pretty with collar and cuffs of pique, linen or sharkskin. Barbara Bell pattern No. 1898-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42; Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 4-2 of 35-inch material without nap; 3-8 yard contrast.

It's smart to sew your own! It's easy to do! Send for our fascinating pattern book. Choose from more than 100 new designs for all occasions and all sizes. With these simple patterns. Step-by-step sew chart with each one. Price of patterns, 15 cents; price of pattern book, 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Mail orders to Barbara Bell Pattern Dept., The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Bananas baked in cranberry sauce are fine with meats.

An Improperly-Led Card Becomes a Penalty Card

By Harold Sharpsteen.

Dear Mr. Sharpsteen: Please settle two questions of law for me.

(1) What to do when it is found that one player holds 14 cards and another 12 cards, originally. (2) When both opponents make the opening lead simultaneously?

From M. J. H. Stockton, Cal. Answer: (1) There must be a new deal.

PENALTY CARD. (2) The proper lead stands. The improperly-led card becomes a penalty card and must be left face up on the table until played. Whenever it is offender's turn to play, he must play it, subject to his duty to follow suit.

Dear Mr. Sharpsteen: My partner opened the bidding with two notrump. What is the proper response, holding:

S-J 6 5 4 D-7 5 4 H-2 C-3 2 From Mrs. A. R. D. Jacksonville, Fla.

SHOW HEART SUIT. Answer: Take out with three hearts. If partner goes on to three hearts, pass. The hand is not suitable to raise immediately to three no-trump, lacking protection in two suits.

Dear Mr. Sharpsteen: I am a comparatively new player and I am not certain I understand the meaning of a "hold-up" play, unless it means to wait until the third round of a suit, as declarer, holding only the ace and two small in the suit. Am I correct about this?

From C. B. Racine, Wis. DEFENSIVE PLAYS.

"Hold-up" play is correct, but the play is not restricted entirely to declarer holding A X X. The following are typical defensive "hold-up" plays, made with the hope of blocking establishment of a suit.

N-S-A-Q 10 6 3 2 E-S-K 7 4

(1) South leads the spade jack, intending to finesse if West plays a low spade. If East wins with the king all of dummy's spades will be good. East holds up the king until the second round. Unless South has another means of reaching dummy, North's spades are rendered useless by East's holdup. KING HOLD-UP.

North S-A-Q 10 6 3 2 West S-9 5 4 South S-K 7 S-J 8

(2) South again finesesses the spade jack. If East covers, all of dummy's spades are good. If East plays the king he must abandon all hope of preventing declarer from cashing these five spade tricks in dummy hand, so in desperation he refuses to win, because to win is surely a losing play for defender's side.

Mail your bridge problems to Harold Sharpsteen, in care of The Atlanta Constitution, enclosing a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope.

Picture Features Every Glamor Girl in Studio By Sheila Graham. HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—Orson Welles breakfasts at 11:30 a. m. in the R-K-O commissary. He consumes three double lamb chops and a huge dish of fruit. At 12:30 he is back again and orders a large hamburger. "But don't put any butter on it," he tells the waitress, "I'm dieting!"

By the way, that gag whereby Mr. Welles was supposed to be Christened-gifted by Errol Flynn with a ham that had a beard attached, recently boomeranged right back into Errol's lap. A New York picture critic told the publicity stunt seriously and told his readers that if they really wanted to see some "ham" he could refer them to "Elizabeth and Essex."

To get back to the R-K-O eatery, I lunched there a couple of days ago. Tete-a-tete at the next table were Cary Grant and Phyllis Brooks. No, the romance has not been resumed. My guess is, that in view of the fact of both working for the same studio they decided it is much simpler to be friends.

United Eddy has a large map of the United States hanging on the wall of his dressing room—not to study military maneuvers—but to see where he is going on his imminent concert tour. . . . Evolution of the movie titled, "Ziegfeld Girl." William Anthony McGuire worked on it for 12 months during which period he received $5,000 weekly. Then Mervyn Le Roy took it over. He was not satisfied with the script and hired a junior writer to work on it for $50 per week. "This is excellent," said Mervyn at the end of 10 weeks. But Mervyn's boss must have thought otherwise, because now a $15,000-a-week writer is rescripting it. The finished product will feature every glamour girl in the studio, including Margaret Sullivan, Hedy Lamarr (whose "I Take This Woman" will be previewed this coming week), Lana Turner, Rosalind Russell, etc.

Louis Hayward is notoriously late for his appointments. To cure himself of this habit he recently adorned his person with three time-pieces—a lapel watch, one for his vest pocket and a wrist watch. Now I suppose he'll forget to look at them.

Lamour groans as she listens to the play-back of her voice recording "Your Kiss." Nothing like hearing yourself sing—or speak—to give you that old inferiority complex. (I'll never forget my own anguish after hearing my voice on a record.) It must be a sensation similar to watching your celluloid self on the screen. All the flaws scream for attention.

BALLET FAVORITE As star of the Russian ballet, Irina Baronova is not only a Continental favorite but has appeared in 120 cities in the United States and Canada.

Try Oven Meals During Cold Weather

By Sally Saver.

Oven meals are a particular joy on cold days. Try this one, designed for four persons:

Tomato Juice Cocktail
Baked Stuffed Pork Chops
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Cole Slaw
Whole Wheat Rolls
Bananas Baked in Cranberry Sauce
Tea or Coffee

The pork chops are put into the oven one hour before dinner, as are the sweet potatoes. The bananas will bake in 15 minutes. The rolls may be freshly baked or reheated. The cabbage for the slaw may be shredded earlier in the day and kept in the vegetable fresher, or crisped in ice water at the last minute.

BAKED STUFFED PORK CHOPS.

4 double rib pork chops.
1 1/2 cups bread stuffing.
Salt and pepper.
2 tablespoons fat.
4 strips bacon or salt pork.
Wipe chops, slit each between the bones to make a pocket for stuffing. Lightly pack in stuffing, season chops with salt and pepper and brown on both sides in hot fat. Place in roasting pan with a strip of bacon over each. Bake uncovered for one hour in moderate oven.

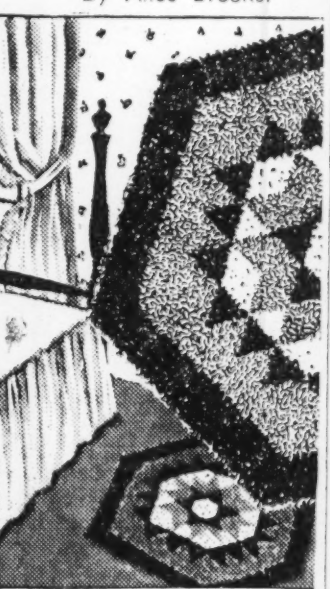

BANANAS IN CRANBERRY SAUCE.

Press 1-2 cup cranberry sauce through a sieve. Mix with 1-2 cup water. Bring to a boil, and cook rapidly five minutes. Halve four bananas lengthwise. Place in baking dish. Spread with cranberry mixture. Bake in moderate oven 10 to 15 minutes.

Questions about foods, recipes and services will be answered personally by Sally Saver. Write or phone The Constitution or WA. 6565.

Use the Loop Stitch

By Alice Brooks.

PATTERN 6586.

Combine economy and beauty—transform a room with this 36-inch rug—it can be made larger or smaller, too. It's entirely in diamonds crocheted in loop stitch (you can clip it if you wish). Use four strands of string. Pattern 6586 contains instructions for making rug; illustrations of it and stitches; materials needed; color schemes.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in coin to Household Arts Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

BRADNA REVERSES CAREER. Lovely Olympe Bradna, currently featured in Paramount's "The Night of Nights," is accounted one of the most feminine of all Hollywood's feminine players, but was signed to her current contract because she stopped the show at the French casino in New York, wearing a man's sailor suit.

Encouragement Is What This Man Needs

By Caroline Chatfield.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

We've had terrible luck since we were married and it has about wrecked our romance. In a few months after we began to keep house my husband lost his job. We hadn't saved but a few dollars and when they were gone we had to shut up and move in with our two families. I went back to my home and he to his. His parents are lovely to me, but they aren't well-to-do, and we decided that they shouldn't have the burden of feeding both of us when my parents wanted me to come to them. My husband was too proud to come with me, and here we are separated.

The worst part of it is that my husband hasn't been the same to me since. He is cold and doesn't seem to care whether or not we ever get together again. I have tried to overlook things because I know he's worried, but you can't take just so much and then you can't take any more. Please tell me what to do. B. E. R.

Maybe you young things are to be excused for the unwise plans you've made. But not your two pair of parents who are old enough to understand what this sort of a separation can eventuate in. So my advice to you is to get together at one home or the other and make the necessary financial adjustment. There's no reason why your parents shouldn't give you money to pay board at the in-laws' table, or the other way around if paying his way will relieve your husband's embarrassment at putting up on his wife's family.

Pretty hard for a young wife to realize what loss of his job means to a young husband who has just promised love and support to his bride. His pride is hurt; he's humiliated. He can't strut before her as the big, strong man on whose arm she can lean. He's flat on his face, asking mama and papa to give him something to eat and a place to sleep, and he's sending his wife back home to do likewise.

Yet, only if she realizes what's going on inside her husband's unhappy mind can she give him the sympathy he needs and at the same time the pat of encouragement that makes him believe in his ability to get a job and reinstate himself. It's a queer thing that women belonging to the so-called weaker sex have always, in emergencies, to furnish the courage for their beaten and discouraged men of the so-called strong sex.

Another queer thing: When a man is reduced in purse and wounded in pride, you'd think he would be doubly affectionate with his wife. But no, he's frequently in a state of irritation with her because she's the reminder, always before him, that he has failed; and angry with himself and feeling a twinge of guilt toward her he's cold and cross and careless.

You hold the trump card, young wife. Now play it well. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Useful Phrases Add Sparkle To Your Talk

No, it's not very clever of a girl to leave her talk to chance.

When meeting an attractive new man, for want of something to say you may blurt out such a "boner" as "My, you look tired," or "Are you the man who made that funny error in last week's game?"

So, smart to be ready with a stock of gracious phrases. Deftly you start a conversation with "This is a nice party, isn't it?" or "Have you met the guest of honor yet?"

And when you know vivid word combinations which won't go more brightly repeated, "Bored?" No, that's just my airy indifference." "A little bird tells me you're not all little sweetness."

On more serious occasions, too, a store of forceful word combinations helps you make a good impression. Giving a report at your club, urge "eager co-operation" and "active understanding," speak of "prestige and influence."

And how important to have effective expressions ready for important business interviews—in which the least word may count for or against you. Be prepared with "I have unusually good training. . . . I believe I am capable and efficient. . . . My firm had exceptionally high standards."

There's no occasion in business or social life which won't go more happily when you know the pleasant, poised thing to say.

When refusing an invitation, say "I'm sorry I can't accept." To a departing guest—"It was good of you to come." To a prospective employer—"May I telephone you?"

Talk with ease wherever you are! Our 40-page booklet, 1,500 Useful Phrases, has hundreds of effective phrases for social and business use, lively word combinations to add sparkle to your talk, help you win friends.

Send 15 cents in coin for our booklet, 1,500 USEFUL PHRASES, to Home Institute, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

MY DAY Provide for Every Child At Every Level

By Eleanor Roosevelt.

NEW YORK CITY.—What an odd thing it is to find, according to the newspapers, that a group of people who say they belong to the "Christian Front," whatever that organization may be, were planning to overthrow our government by force. The elimination of the Jews and the installing of a dictator! A "Christian Front" might reasonably be supposed to indicate that the members are followers of Christ, and he was a Jew. He never used force to overthrow evil. How strangely muddled in their thinking people of this kind must be, or else how easily they must be led by people who can make them think whatever they desire.

Yesterday was drizzly and damp in the country. We had a good walk in the morning. I managed to pay all of my bills, to read the Sunday papers and a number of magazines which I have wanted to read some time and which in Washington I have never been free to sit down and enjoy.

The Ladies Home Journal is beginning what promises to be a very interesting series of articles. In different parts of the country it is picking out typical families and trying to introduce them to its readers, so that everyone will really know how these families live and what they do with their lives. This particular family of four is in the middle west in a small town and in the income group below $2,000 a year. I hope that a variety of income levels will be covered, as well as different localities, different types of educational background and various occupations. If this is done, I think this series might prove of great value in introducing us to people throughout the nation, and making us really feel that we know our neighbors.

Another article in the Atlantic, written by Dean Holmes, of Harvard University, on the problems of our public school education, was extremely interesting to me. He evidently believes in equality of opportunity for all of our children brought about through state and federal aid to localities. He sees this equality of opportunity, however, not as resulting in a cut-and-dried curriculum through which every child must pass, but as a school system which will provide for every child at every level the best the child is able to assimilate.

This entails giving greater guidance at all times and recognizing the fact that each individual must develop himself or herself in accordance with their gifts. This, of course, emphasizes again the changed conception of what a teacher really should be able to do, and will require a recognition on our part of the value of the teacher. I have often thought that in our concentration on building we have almost lost the conception which we once held that a good teacher with poor tools was better than the best of tools without a good teacher.

It cleared today and we had a beautiful drive down the Hudson river. We left Hyde Park about 8 and I am glad to have a pleasant day in New York city, for I have a number of appointments which I shall tell you about tomorrow.

Sigrid Gurie delights in a winter perfume not too heavy, but pungent and lasting. Miss Gurie is currently starring in Universal's "Rio."

Here's a Lasting Fragrance For Winter Wear and Furs

By Lillian Mae.

A fragrance that's not too heavy, and yet gives a touch of elegance to your wardrobe. That's what you want during the winter weather.

In the summertime the heat of your body helps to give off a delicate odor to a mild perfume, but when the weather is cold, you need a heavy perfume—one that will add a certain dignity to your furs and yet, in spite of the crisp air, retain its pungent fragrance.

I've found—it must be new—a somewhat heavier than usual perfume with a delicate, lasting fragrance just right for winter wardrobes—one that seems to have been created especially for furs.

The beautiful triangular-shaped bottle would be the pride of any woman's dressing table. But I know from experience that it is hard for a woman with a man around the house, to have sole use of her bottle unless she takes the precaution to keep it hidden.

It's not an oriental odor, but an exotic, pungent, lasting fragrance which is just as suitable for a man as for a woman. And whether or not they like to admit it, men do like perfumes and colognes. The numbers of male voices that make inquiry over my office telephone when I write about a new or particularly attractive fragrance bears this out.

This MUST for your winter wardrobe and delight-to-the-heart of your husband sounds expensive, and you'll probably be shocked when I tell you that the bottle may be purchased for only one dollar.

Phone me, and I'll tell you the name and where it may be bought. Write me if you do not

Test Vitamin A As the Possible Curative Factor

By Dr. William Brady.

Cutis asnerina (gooseflesh to you—and to me if I hadn't a medical dictionary at my elbow) is ordinarily a temporary or passing occurrence (almost said phenomenon again) provoked by exposure to cold or by horror or sudden terror.

What happens is simply contraction of the arrector pili muscle. This is a minute involuntary muscle attached to each hair follicle (pod, cup or depression from which the hair shaft grows) in such a way that contraction of the muscle makes the hair stand more nearly upright or "on end." As the hair follicles or wells around the hair shafts serve also as the orifices of the sebaceous or oil glands, contraction of the arrectores pili muscles has the effect of making these "pores" stand out, so that the appearance suggests the flesh of a goose after the feathers have been plucked.

Gooseflesh from cold passes as soon as you exercise, play or work hard enough to stir up your circulation. Gooseflesh from sudden terror passes as soon as the banshee goes along about her business.

In certain skin diseases or derangements the affected areas of skin assume an appearance of permanent gooseflesh. Conforming with an old medical custom, the malady being comparatively trivial, we call it keratosis pilaris, which in ordinary language is a formation of papules of horny character around the hair follicle openings, most noticeable over the sides of the thighs and arms, where the skin resembles a nutmeg grater.

Associated with the horny papules or chronic gooseflesh there is usually an abnormally dry state of the skin, deficient secretion of sebum or skin oil, and more or less harshness and irritation or some itching.

Hitherto physicians have had only vague ideas as to the cause of chronic gooseflesh once they have attached a $10 name to the complaint.

Recently students of nutrition have thrown light on the problem. From many parts of the world have come reports of studies which show fairly conclusively that vitamin A deficiency is an important factor of such skin trouble in a great many cases. In fact such investigators have learned that the peculiar nutmeg-grater-like appearance of the skin of the body (seldom the face) associated with abnormal dryness of the skin (xerosis) is generally evident long before manifestations of xerophthalmia, night-blindness and other other serious nutritional disturbances develop, in persons who get insufficient natural vitamin A.

When I say natural vitamin A I mean the vitamin obtained from fish or animal sources, not carotene or pro-vitamin A, as it is usually called. Carotene, a possible curative factor, needed, should supplement his diet with a daily ration of not less than 100,000 international units of natural vitamin A for two or three weeks—that means taking four capsules daily, each containing 25,000 units—and after that taking two such capsules daily for several months. At the same time, of course, he should see to it that his diet includes liberal proportions of the foods rich in vitamin A, such as milk, cream, butter, yellow cheese, mammalian liver, egg yolk, escarole (chicory greens), spinach, dandelion greens, beet greens, carrots, bananas, oranges, tomatoes, yellow squash, sweet potato, spinach, head lettuce, Romaine lettuce, kale.

While the normal body can manufacture vitamin A from carotene, I suggest that any one who wishes to test vitamin A as a possible curative factor, needed, should supplement his diet with a daily ration of not less than 100,000 international units of natural vitamin A for two or three weeks—that means taking four capsules daily, each containing 25,000 units—and after that taking two such capsules daily for several months. At the same time, of course, he should see to it that his diet includes liberal proportions of the foods rich in vitamin A, such as milk, cream, butter, yellow cheese, mammalian liver, egg yolk, escarole (chicory greens), spinach, dandelion greens, beet greens, carrots, bananas, oranges, tomatoes, yellow squash, sweet potato, spinach, head lettuce, Romaine lettuce, kale.

Front, Back Panels Are Slenderizing

By Lillian Mae.

There's not-to-be-equalled, casual rightness about a shirtwaister style that will carry you smartly through a busy day of shopping, calling for the children, visiting a friend and working. Lillian Mae's Pattern 4305, a trim matron's shirtwaister, is quick as a flash to stitch up with the Sewing Instructor's assistance. See what tall-and-slim lines the front and back panels give. Neat darts at your waistline and more at your shoulders release plenty of soft freedom through the bodice. Don't you like the unusual shape of the wide collar? Trim it with ruffling or ric-rac, if you like, and you might also have it in contrast, with cuffs to match.

Pattern 4305 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4 1/2 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coin for this Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

"How do you manage to have so many smart-looking clothes?" people will ask if you use our new brilliant Lillian Mae Pattern Book before planning your spring wardrobe. It's a complete fashion picture, with day and night glamor frocks, spring bridal wear, charm for forty-plusses, town and country modes. There's a budget wardrobe, spring season for the young set and carnival-gay costumes. All yours—for the easy saving! Order a copy now! Book 15 cents. Pattern 15 cents.

Send your order to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

4305

Kate Robinson Butler Organizes Knitting Unit in Buffalo, N. Y.

By Sally Forth.

TOUCHED by the plight of French soldiers at the front, that former Atlanta, lovely Kate Robinson Butler, has organized a unit to knit wool sweaters and socks to alleviate their misery. As you know, Kate married Edward H. Butler, that distinguished gentleman who is editor and publisher of the Buffalo Evening News. She is the sister of that distinguished banker, James D. Robinson, and of Mrs. Belle Robinson Leigh, a well-known Atlanta. Thrice weekly she opens her palatial home at 672 Delaware avenue, in Buffalo, N. Y., as headquarters for the unit, and supplies wool and two experts to teach volunteers to knit. Kate calls her group the "Au Bonheur du Soldat," and arrangements have been made with the French government to ship garments to the French minister of war. Back of the formation of the unit is Kate's long acquaintance with France, where she received part of her education and where she spent many of her vacations. More than 200 Buffalo women answered to her call for volunteers, to knit for the soldiers, who are shivering in the raw winds of France's bitter winter in a decade rip through their inadequate clothing.

In speaking of her project, Kate sounded a very womanly note in giving the reason for organizing Au Bonheur du Soldat in Buffalo, N. Y.

She says: "Women, from time immemorial, feel so helpless when war comes. They are so eager to do something to help, are so handicapped, and are so afraid there is no place for their energies. That is why I feel a project like this should enlist the interest of all women with hearts. It is so definitely a woman's job."

"SON" and Catherine Norcross Richardson took themselves off Friday on an interesting motor trip through Florida, from which they should derive a great deal of pleasure. Their plans include motoring down the west coast and returning via the east coast, with stop-offs at fashionable resorts, where they will join in the festivities among the members of the Atlanta colonies.

During their 10-day absence, their brother, Leonard Richardson, is "bitching it" at their home on Chatham road. ELOISE ALLEN-BLACK, who is doing a marvelous job as president of the Atlanta Flower Show Association, is determined that since there was no show last year, the one this spring will surpass anything of its kind ever held here. She has been making plans for the past two years and is ambitious to present the show on a grand scale—especially since the "recent 'Gone With the Wind' festival set a precedent in things to come."

To the layman it may seem a bit early to be worrying about an event that will not take place until May 8-9. But to those initiated into such matters, three and a half months can pass by as swiftly. And already Eloise has begun to bother her pretty head about weather conditions at the time of the show. Or, rather, she did until Sunday night, when she awoke her husband, Grady Black, in her excitement to explain a really brilliant idea.

The result was resorting to the farmers' stand-by, the old-fashioned almanac! She's been purring contentedly since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

since, too, for she discovered that for two weeks before the show the south will enjoy spring-like conditions, with clear, mild weather predominating.

And for the week of the flower show itself, the almanac states that "pleasant weather will be enjoyed all over the south."

Not only is this good news to Eloise, but no doubt it will relieve a number of prominent garden club members who are expected to be among the show's exhibitors!

Mr., Mrs. Anderson Feted in Marietta

MARIETTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Bolan Glover will entertain at a dinner Friday honoring Mr. and Mrs. James T. Anderson Jr., who recently returned from their wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McNeel will be hosts at a dinner Saturday complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. Tuesday evening, Miss Emma Katharine Anderson and Mrs. L. L. Blair were hostesses at a reception at the Marietta Golf Club for the young couple. Mrs. Robert Fowler will compliment Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Norman Hill, at Gardner, Mass., the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Masey, at a tea Saturday at the Marietta Golf Club.

Mrs. S. D. Hewlett, of Atlanta, and her daughter, Mrs. Tom Perkinson, of Amarillo, Texas, will be the luncheon guests Wednesday of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Perkinson. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnold, Miss Dorothy Ann Braswell, Ben Parham, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Dorsey, of Savannah, and Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Swift, of Macon, will be among the out-of-town guests Saturday at the party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Madison Fowler for Mr. and Mrs. Brannon Morris, of Atlanta.

Mrs. W. H. Perkinson will entertain January 22 at a luncheon complimenting Mrs. Tom Perkinson, of Amarillo, Texas, and Mrs. James T. Anderson Jr. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roberts are visiting in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Minter, of Soochow, China, announce the recent birth of a son, who has been named David Minter. Mrs. Minter formerly Miss Elizabeth Manget, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Manget, of Hwchow, China.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fulton, of Cochran, formerly of Marietta, announce the birth of a daughter January 10. The baby has been named Milly for her mother, the former Miss Mildred Moore, of Elberton.

Mrs. Marion Dobbs will entertain at bridge Wednesday at her home on Church street. Miss Nell Mullins, of the University of Georgia, spent the week end with Miss Beth Blanchard.

Misses Wylene Collins and Marjorie Randall will spend the week end with friends at Charlotte, N. C. Miss Leila Anderson is visiting relatives in Macon, Ga.

W. J. Black Sr., has returned from a visit with the family of Ben Black, in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Pierce Latimer will entertain at a bridge-luncheon Thursday at her home in Dallas and the guests will include the members of her Marietta bridge club.

Mesdames D. L. Little and C. D. Elder will entertain at a luncheon Thursday for the members of the Flower Garden Club.

Mrs. Lowry Arnold returns Sunday from New York city, where she spent the holidays as the guest of her sisters, Mrs. St. Julian Ravenel and Mrs. Harvey Johnson at their home there. Mrs. Arnold will be accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, who will be her guest for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Daniel have returned from a trip to Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKenzie and their son and daughter, Harold Jr. and Susan Ann, are visiting Mrs. McKenzie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tanner, in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Cason Callaway, of Blue Springs, spent yesterday in the city.

Mrs. Joe Atkinson, of Senola, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vallebona, on Pelham road. Before her recent marriage Mrs. Atkinson was Miss Gladys Vallebona.

Mrs. J. B. Suttles and Miss Anne Suttles departed yesterday for Miami, Fla. En route to their destination, they will visit Miss Ernestine Witte, of Kansas City, who is wintering at Ormond Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Russell Porter has returned from Richmond, Va., where she visited Mrs. Sedden Jones, her sister.

L. W. Robert Jr., of Washington, D. C., is at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. Hobson Arnold is spending a week with her sister, Mrs. E. E. Nicholson, in Charleston, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan Nichols announce the birth of a daughter on January 11 at Crawford W. Long hospital, whom they have named Evelyn Juanita. Mrs. Nichols is the former Miss Evelyn Mae Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond Andrews announce the birth of a daughter at Crawford W. Long hospital on January 12, who has been named Sylvia Elaine. Mrs. Andrews is the former Miss Eugenia Hough.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Bee Newman announce the birth of a son on January 12 at Crawford W. Long hospital, who has been given the name Bobbie Hubert. Mrs. Newman is the former Miss Gladys Viola Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Worthington Griswold announce the birth of a daughter at Crawford W. Long hospital on January 12, whom they have named Judith. Mrs. Griswold is the former Miss Julia Eudora Nasworthy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Zimmerman, of Marietta, announce the birth of a daughter on January 12 at Crawford W. Long hospital, who has been named Jeanenne. Mrs. Zimmerman is the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Harbin.

Mrs. Nat Harrison Jr., formerly of Pensacola, Fla., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Grover Bell, left Sunday to Popular Valdosta Matron and Son

Mrs. William Joseph Barnes and her handsome young son, William Joseph Barnes Jr., of Valdosta. Mrs. Barnes, with her son and Mr. Barnes, recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crawford, at their home in Decatur.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Morrissey, of Nashville, Tenn., announce the birth of a son on January 11 at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville. Mrs. Morrissey is the former Miss Frances Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ten Eyck Brown, of Atlanta. Mrs. Brown is in Nashville visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey and her grandson.

Mrs. E. W. Grove Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., arrives today to visit Mrs. William Akers at her home on The Prado in Ansley Park. Mrs. Grove and Mrs. Akers were classmates at Hollins College in Hollins, Va. Mrs. Grove has hosts of admiring friends here made upon former visits to Mrs. Akers.

Mrs. C. E. Griffin, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Hightower.

Miss Helen Rathbone, popular debutante of New Orleans, La., arrives Friday to visit Miss Marthat de Gollan at her home on Howell Mill road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank West are in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. A. H. Houston, of Hendersonville, N. C., arrived yesterday to visit Mrs. A. B. Thompson, in West End.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Haden are touring the east coast of Florida and will spend a few weeks at Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKnight have returned from a month's visit to Jacksonville and Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. A. A. Pearson, has returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where she spent the last three months.

Mrs. Annette Peoples Dickey and her sister, Mrs. Florence Peoples Whitcher, have returned to Chattanooga, Tenn. They attended the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams Jr., which took place in the chapel of All Saints Episcopal church.

Judge and Mrs. Vivian Stanley are visiting in Thomasville, Ga.

Mrs. John Mullin is in Miami for several weeks.

Dr. William R. Dancy has returned to his home in Savannah, after a visit with his sister, Mrs. Fred Hoyt, on Peachtree Battle avenue.

Mrs. Fred Patterson and Mrs. Forrest Fisher are spending several days in Mobile, Ala.

Carlton Parshall Jr., of Tucker, continues ill at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Columbus Nuptials Are Announced

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Johnston announce the marriage of their niece, Mrs. Mable Marshall, to W. R. Reeves, both of Columbus. The ceremony being performed by Rev. J. E. Franklin.

The bride wore a spring ensemble of beige wool and brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses and valley lilies.

Mr. Reeves and his bride will reside in Thomasville after a wedding trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Laura Griffin, to James Pitts De Ford Jr., of Jackson, Tenn., the ceremony taking place on October 3, 1939.

The bride, who was graduated from the Columbus High School with the class of 1939, attended the University of Tennessee this fall where she was pledged to Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Mr. DeFord is a member of the senior class of the University of Tennessee, is a member of the S. A. E. social fraternity, and of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity.

Mr. DeFord and his bride are residing in Knoxville, Tenn.

University Women To Meet on Saturday

Atlanta branch of the American Association of University Women hold a luncheon meeting on Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Mrs. Frank J. Henry, president, will preside, and W. W. Woolfolk speaks on the "Development of Character Through Recreation."

Miss Augustus M. Roan is luncheon hostess chairman, and will be assisted by Mesdames Irvin Hyatt, William E. Arnaud, Emma Garrett Morris, Roger T. Lively, Hillyer Rudisill, Dr. Amy Crabapple, Misses Annabel Horn and Anne Clark.

Miss Azile Parker, a graduate of Wesleyan Conservatory and the Juillard School of Music will present a special program of violin music, accompanied by Mrs. Augustus Roan.

All university women desiring affiliation with this organization may call Mrs. George P. Dean, Hemlock 2218-J. Anyone desiring transportation should communicate with Mrs. Henry Wright, Crescent 1729. Reservations for the luncheon may be made by calling Mrs. Augustus Roan, Dearborn 5322.

Society Events

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17. Mrs. W. D. Taulman gives a luncheon at the Capital City Club for Miss Nancy Moody, bride-elect.

Peter Mock entertains at a theater party at "Gone With the Wind" for Miss Martie Edwards, of Dallas, Texas, the guest of Miss Nancy Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Martin entertain at a dinner party at their home in Garden Hills for Mr. and Mrs. William Benedict, recent bridal couple.

Mrs. M. E. Foster gives a bridge-luncheon at her home on Oxford road.

National Council of Catholic Women sponsors a card party at the Ashley hotel for St. Thomas Vocational school.

Miss Julia Carter entertains the Phi Pi sorority at her home at 3 o'clock.

Miss Eva Morrison entertains the O. B. X. sorority at her home on Arlington place at 3 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Langston entertains the Pi Pi sorority at the East Lake Country Club.

"E" and "D" Club, composed of 12 young matrons in Hapeville, will be entertained at a dinner and theater party.

Atlanta Bird Club Elects New Officers

At the January meeting of the Atlanta Bird Club the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Maurice Abercrombie; first vice president and program chairman, Ray C. Werner; second vice president and field chairman, Bill Griffin; third vice president, Mrs. Arthur Tufts; recording secretary, Mrs. Lewis F. Gordon; corresponding secretary, Miss Loreta Chappell; assistant corresponding secretary, Miss Martha Persons; treasurer, Miss Louise Girardeau; publicity, Mrs. George S. Hames; scrapbook, Mrs. J. Eugene Boyd; custodian, Robert Gordon.

The club announces a field trip for January 20 and those wishing to attend will meet at the Fourteenth street entrance to Piedmont park at 2 o'clock. Transportation will be arranged.

Millen W. M. S. Installs Officers

MILLEN, Ga., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Chappelle Chandler was installed as president of the W. M. S. of the Millen Methodist church by the Rev. T. H. Thomson, pastor, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Corbett on Monday.

Other officers installed were Mrs. F. S. Boyer Jr., vice president; Mrs. James Lee, recording secretary; Mrs. Edna Bell, conference treasurer; Mrs. S. F. Daniel, local treasurer; Mrs. Milton Carlton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. W. Graham, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. L. Warren Sr., director of the spiritual life groups; Mrs. John Bates, director of young women's circles; Mrs. Charles Anderson, director of baby specialists; Mrs. H. Roy Phillips, director of children's work; Mrs. F. S. Boyer Sr., chairman of Christian social relations; Mrs. J. F. Bates, chairman of study; Mrs. W. H. Edfield, chairman of supplies; Mrs. D. W. Harrison, superintendent of programs; Mrs. C. H. Cooper, superintendent of magazines; Mrs. G. C. Humphrey, superintendent of publicity; Mrs. Julia Posey, superintendent of local work; Mrs. F. S. Boyer Jr., Mrs. Chester Ryals, Mrs. Ernest Tinley, Mrs. Tom Belcher, directors of pledges.

Duo of Hostesses Fetes Mrs. Wilson

Mesdames Harrison Hines and Faison Hines were co-hostesses at a luncheon recently in the Mirador room of the Capital City Club, honoring Mrs. R. H. Wilson, of New York city, the guest of Mrs. Milton Dargan.

Pine needles and winter berries formed the centerpiece which was in the form of a hunting scene, flanked with brass candelabra holding green tapers.

Invited to meet Mrs. Wilson were Mesdames Paul Hulfish, Lloyd Wheeler, E. N. O'Beirne, A. H. Turner, B. K. Klapp, Sims Bray, Charles Bickertstaff, Hinton Hopkins, John W. Clarke, Calvin Prescott, Dowdell Brown, Russell Michael, Lewis Jerry, Charles Jerome and Clark Broward.

Mrs. Weems Weds Nelson Gilreath At Quiet Ceremony in Carrollton

CARROLLTON, Ga., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Katherine Tanner Weems became the bride of Nelson Gilreath, of this city, formerly of Cartersville, at a quiet ceremony taking place here this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the bride's home. The Rev. Zach C. Hayes Jr., read the marriage service which was witnessed only by members of the bridal couple's immediate families.

The bride is the lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Tanner, of Daytona Beach, Fla., prominent former citizens of Carrollton. Mr. Gilreath is the son of Mrs. Paul Gilreath and the late Mr. Gilreath, of Cartersville.

The charming bride chose for the ceremony a modish spring suit of aquacade blue, with a collar of platinum fox. A matching turban and navy blue alligator shoes and bag were worn with the costume which was completed by a shoulder cluster of purple-throated orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilreath left for a wedding journey which will include Williamsburg, Va., and Baltimore, Md. on their return they will reside at 17 Dixie street in Carrollton.

Guests from a distance who attended the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weaver and James Tanner, of Macon; Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKenzie, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tanner Jr., of Palatka, Fla.; Mrs. Paul Gilreath, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilreath Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gilreath, Misses Pauline and Henrietta Gilreath, all of Cartersville, and Mr. and Mrs. Seth Newsom, of LaGrange.

Alliance Francaise Plans Meeting

L'Alliance Francaise d'Atlanta will meet Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. O. K. Lewis, 100 Inman circle, with Mrs. M. J. Powell as co-hostess.

Mrs. Leonora Raines will repeat her lecture on "Ce Que J'ai Vu en Turquie Cet Ete" and will exhibit some of her souvenirs purchased on a recent trip to Turkey. Miss Laure Larendon will give a short talk and lead games on "La Parfumerie Francaise."

A short play, "Un Client Serieux" by Serg Weber, will be presented with Mrs. Jack Pappeneheimer, Charles Loridans, W. Strozier and R. Harlepp taking part.

Reservations should be made with Miss Frank Taylor, Walnut 3921 or Walnut 9728, Bass Junior High school, by Thursday. The dinner will be informal.

Miss Hearn To Honor LaGrange Alumnae

Miss Janie Hearn entertains the LaGrange Alumnae Friday at her home at 915 Williams Mill road. Miss Hearn will be assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Hearn, of Eatonton, and Mrs. S. E. McConnell.

Dr. J. Sam Guy, of Emory University, will be speaker. His theme will be "The Progress of Science." Dr. Guy will be introduced by Mrs. Thomas M. Campbell, program chairman. Members of Circle No. 1 Alumnae group are invited.

LEARN!

How to Increase Your Income ATTEND FREE Demonstration Meeting DALE CARNegie COURSE Atlanta Athletic Club 8:00 P. M. Thursday, January 18th trim this first winter-into-Spring Dress!

PARIS POCKETS

It's the Peg Pocket dress for swirling skirted Southern belles—after the fashion furore launched by Schiaparelli! Black or navy crepe with fastidious lingerie trim of pink orandy, etched with white lace. Misses' sizes.

$22.95

We've many new arrivals... each representing important trends from the fashion front.

Dresses Second Floor

it's new!
AT REGENSTEIN'S
Atlanta's Fashion Corner
Gay Ninety
Shirtwaist
3.98
The frilly shirtwaist brought into the limelight by the "Life of the Great Victor Herbert" is here shown in all its feminine daintiness. Snowy white batiste as exquisitely done as a baby's christening robe. Overblouse style.
It's a "first Spring Fashion" ... and you always see first fashions at Regenstein's Peachtree ... first.
STREET FLOOR
Regenstein's
Peachtree Store
Atlanta

WANT TO CHECK A FACT?
When you turn the dial of your radio and get the program on which your favorite radio performer is coming over the air, do you often wonder what he or she looks like, whether the star is married or single, whether he or she uses a "stage name," what the individual did before becoming a star—in other words do you want to look up the facts about the personalities who are only voices over the ether waves?
Our Service Bureau at Washington has ready for you one of its interesting and authoritative booklets, "Popular Radio Stars," that gives brief biographies of outstanding radio performers, orchestra leaders and announcers.
Send for your copy by using the coupon below:
F. M. KERBY, Dept. B-139, Atlanta Constitution Service Bureau, 1013 Thirteenth Street, Washington, D. C.
I want a copy of the booklet, "Popular Radio Stars," and enclose a dime (carefully wrapped) to cover return postage and other handling costs:
Name
Street and No.
City State
I am a reader of The Atlanta Constitution.
WEARY DESPONDENT GIRLS: Crying spells, irritable nerves due to functional "monthly" pain should find a real "woman's friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 77¢

WEARY DESPONDENT GIRLS: Crying spells, irritable nerves due to functional "monthly" pain should find a real "woman's friend" in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 77¢

Patrons Announced For Mardi Gras Ball Here on February 6

Announcement is made today of the prominent Atlantans who have been selected by the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Junior Guild as patrons for the Mardi Gras ball to be sponsored by this organization on the evening of February 6 at the Piedmont Driving Club.

The patrons will be Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Alden, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brooke, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chandler, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Clark, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cordes, Mr. and Mrs. William Fulham, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hynds, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loe, Mr. and Mrs. Haines McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seydell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snavel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snavel, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woolford, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Winship, Judge E. E. Pomeroy, Mesdames Mel Wilkerson, A. W. Waldman, Willis Westmoreland, Howard Motley, J. E. Hays, C. A. Conklin and Charles A. Bickelstaff.

Mrs. Evans To Speak To Decatur Club

Mrs. John D. Evans, president of the Fifth District Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, will speak at the meeting of the Decatur Woman's Club Friday at 3 o'clock in the assembly room of the club.

Mrs. Charles O. Duval, president, will preside and special guests who have been invited include Mrs. Hinton Blackshear, student aid chairman; Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Tallahassee Falls chairman; Mrs. Homer Cheshire, chairman for the blind; Mrs. John S. MacDougal, chairman of Ella S. White Foundation, and all officers of the fifth district.

Mrs. Clay Penick has arranged the musical program and will present Mrs. Jerry Taylor in piano selections.

The hostess committee is headed by Mrs. A. L. Wade, chairman, assisted by Mesdames David O'Neal, Clay Penick, Claude H. Blount, Ed Moorehead, Lamar Flowers, Jack Johnson, R. E. Neveberry, Floyd Sanders, W. P. Smith, John Moore, A. J. Smith, Russell Johnson, Miss Susie Johnson and Miss Louisa Thornley.

The Junior Music Study Club will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the club. All music teachers who wish to enter their pupils in this program may do so by calling Mrs. Charles Johnson, Dearborn 3249, and making the proper arrangements with her.

Mary La Rocca Grove To Install Officers

Mary E. La Rocca Grove of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, will hold installation of officers with American Grove No. 217, this evening at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel.

National director and state manager, Mrs. Clara B. Cassidy, will preside as installing officer. Mrs. Elizabeth McWaters, of Cedar-town, past state president, will serve as installing attendant.

The officers of La Rocca Grove are: guardian, Mrs. Jeannie Brown; past guardian, Mrs. Beatrice Owen; advisor, Mrs. Edna Pyron; chaplain, Mrs. Daisy Moultrie; attendant, Mrs. Kate Thompson; assistant attendant, Mrs. Rosa Scifres; first auditor, Mrs. Lavonia Yarian; second auditor, Mrs. Montine Green; third auditor, Mrs. Ola Durden; inner sentinel, W. M. Scifres; outer sentinel, M. M. Brown; corresponding and recording secretary, Mrs. Mae Brown; captain, Mrs. Dorothy Pyron; reporter, Mrs. Daisy Moultrie; correspondent to Tidings, Mrs. Beret Green; financial secretary, Mrs. Helen Shearin.

Lullwater Garden Club Holds Meeting

The January meeting of the Lullwater Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Roy Massey on North Decatur road, with the president, Mrs. H. H. Payne, presiding. The meeting opened with a poem, "The Beauties of Winter," read by Mrs. Thomas M. Campbell. New members welcomed were Mrs. John T. Gore, and Mrs. J. R. Childs.

An interesting lecture on "Soils and Their Needs" was presented by Mrs. Collier, by the use of colored movies. Dr. W. B. Baker introduced the speaker, Mrs. Anne Craven Norton, who was presented with an honorary life membership.

A comprehensive report given by Mrs. Marion Benton on the Christmas home project showed the project to be a financial and artistic success. The club adjourned, to meet again on February 9.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

Real Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking. This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs due to colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it. From any drugstore, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial membranes. Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup

Jewish Leader To Attend Installation Rites Here

Installation services of the Atlanta Jewish War Veterans' Auxiliary No. 112, scheduled for this evening at the home of Mrs. A. Hirsch, will be featured by the visit of the national president of the Jewish War Veterans' Auxiliary, Miss Frances Brahm, of Newark, N. J., pictured at the right, is the national leader and she is shown on her arrival yesterday from Birmingham, with Mrs. Jennie Vrono, national guard and president, at the left, and Mrs. Sari Kensler, president-elect, at center.

Women's Meetings

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17.

The State Council of Church Women meets at 7:30 o'clock at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, 731 Peachtree street.

Atlanta Art Association meets at the High Museum of Art at 3:30 o'clock.

Atlanta Music Club executive board meets at 10:30 o'clock at the Woman's Club.

The Dahlia Society of Georgia meets at 7:30 o'clock in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce.

A patriotic program commemorating the birthday of Benjamin Franklin will be presented over station WSB by two groups of the Joseph Hershman Chapter, D. A. R., at 11 o'clock.

The Civitan Auxiliary meets at 11:30 o'clock at 1050 Ponce de Leon avenue, to be followed by a luncheon at which Mrs. O. H. Williams, Mrs. Earl W. Quillian, Mrs. B. K. Vann, Mrs. Russell Baker and Mrs. Thomas Oastler will be hostesses.

Group 2 of the Atlanta Shorter Alumnae Club meets at the home of Mrs. R. E. Irvin, 597 Martina drive, at 3 o'clock.

Executive board of Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., will hold a bridge party at 2:30 o'clock, at the chapter house on Juniper street.

Business women's division of Decatur Woman's Club meets at 8 o'clock.

The New Era Study Club meets at 10:30 o'clock, 872 Arlington place, N. E.

Gordon Street Baptist W. M. S. meets at the church at 10 o'clock.

The Georgia Tech Woman's Club meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Richard A. Trotter, 28 Thirteenth street, N. E.

The Garden Division of the College Park Women's Club meets at 10:30 o'clock, followed by luncheon.

The Alpha Chi Omega Mothers' Club meets at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. A. Seiman, 760 Penn avenue.

The executive board of the Atlanta Chapter of Senior Hadassah meets at 10:30 o'clock in Rich's conference room. The study group meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Tabory, 545 Washington street.

I. A. to B. of L. E. meets at 2 o'clock at the Red Men's wigwam, 160 Central avenue, S. E.

The Wednesday Morning Study Club meets with Mrs. Stephen C. Hale, 33 Fifteenth street.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Emory University hospital meets at noon at the First Methodist church.

Linwood Garden Club meets at 11:45 o'clock with Mrs. A. N. Anderson, 964 Williams Mill road, N. E.

Young Matrons' Class of Moreland Avenue church meets at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. William W. Mason's group, as honor guests.

American Grove No. 217, of Atlanta, and Mary E. La Rocca Grove No. 264, of Decatur, will hold a public joint installation of new officers at 8 o'clock at the Henry Grady hotel.

The Modern Topics Club meets at 10:30 o'clock, 1233 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Maddox Junior High P. T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the music hall of the school.

Atlanta Lodge No. 230, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, meets at 2:30 o'clock in the Red Men's Wigwam, 160 Central avenue, southwest.

The Althea Garden Club meets at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. A. Hamby, 2381 Gordon road.

The Lambda Chapter of Delphians meets at Davison's Cherokee room at 10 o'clock.

Marion Smith School P. T. A. meets at 2:15 o'clock.

Liberty-Guinn P. T. A. meets at 2:15 o'clock.

Atlanta Council P. T. A. directed study course meets at 9:45 o'clock at Rich's.

Atlanta Council P. T. A. safety conference meets at Rich's at 3 o'clock.

Atlanta Auxiliary No. 1 of the International Association of Machinists meets at 2 o'clock at Sterchi's.

Boys' High P. T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Campbell P. T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Girls' High School Study Group meets at 1:30 o'clock.

A "father and son" meeting will be held at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the Bass Junior High school.

Tech High P. T. A. meets at 7:30 o'clock in the Henry Grady auditorium.

Buckeye Woman's Club will sew for the Needlework Guild at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. S. H. McGuire, 641 East Morningside drive, N. E.

The Emorydale Garden Club meets at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George H. Center on Ridgewood drive, N. E.

Miss Joan Wolfe and Marcus Haas Will Wed February 10 at Temple

Miss Joan Lisette Wolfe and her fiancé, Marcus Loeb Haas, have selected Saturday evening, February 10, as the date of their marriage, which will be a brilliant event taking place at the temple at 7:30 o'clock. Rabbi David Marx will perform the marriage in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives of the couple.

Dr. Charles Sheldon, organist, will render a musical program. The groomsmen will be Henry Bauer, Herbert Rosenberg Jr., Joseph Haas and Simon Selig Jr. The ushers will be Nathan Wolfe Jr., Nathan Kahn Jr., Julian Joseph and Louis C. Long.

The bridesmaids will be Mrs. Frank Myers and Misses Dorothy Sherman and Marie Rice. Miss Mary Simon, of Albany, will be maid of honor for her cousin, and Mrs. Jack Bleich will be matron of honor.

Joseph Bernard Wolfe will give his daughter in marriage. The groom-elect has chosen his brother, Jacob Haas, as his best man.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, the bride's parents, will entertain at a buffet supper at the Standard Club in honor of the members of the bridal party, the immediate families, and the out-of-town guests.

After a motor trip through Florida the popular couple will reside here.

Among the many affairs planned in honor of Miss Wolfe and Mr. Haas will be the small dinner party at which Miss Pat Goldberg and her brother, Jack Goldberg, will entertain on January 28 at their home on Briarcliff road.

On the evening of February 3 Mr. and Mrs. Simon Selig Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Julian Joseph, Henry Bauer and Herbert Rosenberg Jr. will be co-hosts at a dinner party complementing the bride couple. The affair will take place at the Ansley hotel.

A luncheon honoring Miss Wolfe will be given on February 7 by Miss Dorothy Sherman and Mrs. Frank Myers at the home of Miss Sherman on Oakdale road.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haas, the groom-elect's parents, and his grandmother, Mrs. Marcus Loeb, will be co-hosts at a buffet supper on the evening of February 8 following the wedding rehearsal. The affair will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haas on Briarcliff road.

Mrs. Jack Bleich and Miss Marie Rice will complement the bride-elect at a luncheon on February 9 at the Standard Club.

A group of hosts who have honored Miss Wolfe and Mr. Haas includes Mr. and Mrs. C. Long, Miss Florence Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Haas, Nathan Wolfe Jr. and Mrs. Nat Klausman.

Johnson Estates Garden Club Meets.

The Johnson Estates Garden Club met recently with Mrs. J. L. Jackson. The president, Mrs. Paul Charles, presided.

Mrs. Paul Elkins, social service chairman, reported that canned milk and layettes had been given to Grady hospital at Christmas and a letter of appreciation from the superintendent of the hospital was read.

Mrs. William Gage, first vice president, reported on the lighting contest and announced the winners as follows: Mesdames Stewart Carter, first prize; Claude Grizzard, second prize; and B. J. Laperture, third prize. Mrs. Gage also reported on the social activity of the club, announcing Mrs. A. Bayliss as winner of the sweepstakes prize.

Mrs. E. A. Bayliss outlined the program for the year, announcing outstanding speakers of the city.

Kemper Bible Class.

Charlotte Kemper Bible Class met at the home of Mrs. S. W. Newell, 826 Springdale road, on Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock. After a business session, Mrs. W. M. Elliott Jr. presented the devotional, after which Mrs. A. M. Elton gave several readings. Mrs. Newell, assisted by her co-hostesses, Mesdames E. H. Wigand, A. Burdell, L. I. Newton, Keith Culbertson and Earl Mauldin, served luncheon to 50 guests.

Capitol View Club.

The Capitol View Garden Club met recently with Mrs. Marvin Bowen Sr. Mrs. J. F. Pennington, president, presided.

Mrs. E. H. Batchelor gave a reading on shrubbery, which was enjoyed. Mrs. A. L. Harwell gave a talk on "Sweet Peas." The garden club voted to plant shrubbery for its garden project at Capitol View school.

Mrs. E. P. James was co-hostess. She and Mrs. Bowen served luncheon.

Study Club To Meet.

The Young People's Study Club of the Immaculate Conception church meets Thursday at the home of Margaret Mary Weymouth, at 173 Clay street, S. E., at 3 o'clock.

Members will enjoy the talk from their spiritual advisor, Rev. Father Frizell, and members are urged to attend.

Miss Cox Honored.

Miss Wanda Hobby was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Avon avenue Tuesday evening honoring Miss Dorothy Cox, whose marriage to H. L. Black Jr. will be an event of February.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth, the center of which was decorated with miniature dolls representing the bridal party. A color scheme of red and white was reflected in the details.

New York Curb

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Following is list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange giving stocks and bonds traded:

STOCKS.					Net
Sales (in 100s) Div. High Low Close Chg.
3	Ans	200p	20g	4 1/2	1 1/2	-1 1/2
2	Inv	Investors	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	-1 1/2
1.50	Alm	C. A.	148	147	148	147	+1
1.50	Alm	C. A.	148	147	148	147	+1
4	Am	Capital	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
5	Am	Central	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
6	Am	Ex L	85	84	85	84	-1
7	Am	GAE	1.00	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
8	Am	L&T	120	115	115	115	-5
9	Am	Republics	6 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2
10	Am	Super	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
11	Am	Super	15	14	14	14	-1
12	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
13	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
14	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
15	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
16	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
17	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
18	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
19	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
20	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
21	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
22	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
23	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
24	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
25	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
26	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
27	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
28	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
29	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
30	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
31	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
32	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
33	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
34	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
35	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
36	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
37	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
38	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
39	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
40	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
41	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
42	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
43	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
44	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
45	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
46	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
47	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
48	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
49	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
50	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
51	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
52	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
53	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
54	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
55	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
56	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
57	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
58	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
59	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
60	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
61	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
62	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
63	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
64	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
65	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
66	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
67	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
68	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
69	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
70	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
71	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
72	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
73	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
74	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
75	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
76	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
77	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
78	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
79	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
80	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
81	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
82	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
83	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
84	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
85	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
86	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
87	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
88	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
89	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
90	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
91	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
92	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
93	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
94	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
95	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
96	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
97	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
98	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
99	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
100	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
101	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
102	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
103	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
104	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
105	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
106	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
107	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
108	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
109	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
110	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
111	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
112	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
113	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
114	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
115	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
116	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
117	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
118	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
119	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
120	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
121	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
122	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
123	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
124	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
125	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
126	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
127	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
128	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
129	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
130	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
131	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
132	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
133	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
134	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
135	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
136	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
137	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
138	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
139	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
140	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
141	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
142	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
143	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
144	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
145	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
146	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
147	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
148	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
149	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
150	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
151	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
152	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
153	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
154	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
155	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
156	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
157	Am	T & C	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2	1 1/2
158

Nor Easter Frank Captures First Place in Members' Derby

All in the Game

—by Jack Troy

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Jan. 16.—Stories of great appeal often come out of outstanding field trials. And one of the best stories, by all odds, has to do with the famous surgeon performing an operation on a first-day winner here last night.

Tip's Manitoba Jake, owned by Glenna Collett Vare and handled by Eddie Vare, of Philadelphia, provides the finest story of courage probably in the history of the Waynesboro trials.

The big, earnest pointer placed third in the members' all-age stake.

It is a real life story of how bird dogs will give their all in spite of illness or injury.

Almost a week ago at Pinehurst, Eddie Vare, husband of famous Glenna Collett, outstanding woman golfer, looked for Jake one night in his kennel and discovered the dog was not there. He finally showed up with deep and ugly cuts in his upper lip.

Jake ran and placed at Pinehurst and was then shipped to Waynesboro. Mr. Vare didn't see him until the day before the trials. He went out to the kennels and all his other dogs trotted up to greet him. Jake hung back.

Naturally, Mr. Vare wondered about it, and he went into the kennel to see Jake. There was quite a swelling on the dog's face, reminding of a man with the toothache or using climax, but he thought nothing of it at the time.

SO JAKE RAN AGAIN—AND PLACED.

And last night one of the finest surgeons in America, Dr. Sam Orr Black, of Spartanburg, visited the room of Eddie Vare in the Anthony Wayne hotel and lanced a deep infection on Jake's face.

Eddie Vare had been pretty worried about the dog and was preparing to take him in to Augusta for treatment.

He was so relieved when Dr. Black did the operation that he put Jake in the spare bed for the night, and this morning, following a good night's sleep, Jake was up and at 'em and seeking more dog worlds to conquer.

THE YEAR'S ODDEST STORY.

Oddest story of the year along the field trial circuit, which extends from Canada to Florida, also developed here yesterday.

Dr. Sam Orr Black handled his all-age winner, Willing's Dr. Sam, but Dr. Black didn't bring in the dog. Often dogs get lost but seldom is there a case where it happens to the handler.

R. Z. Cates, of Spartanburg, fellow townsman, brought Sam home at the insistence of the judges. Sam's owner was lost. Dr. Black, in looking for Sam toward the end of the heat, got all mixed up in his geographical surroundings, and he did not show up until some time after Dr. Sam was through running.

And so, while Cates' big-going dog, Scuffletown Frances, did not place, the Spartanburg man has had the thrill of bringing a winner home anyway.

Dr. Black's experience is reminding of the young handler who went off into the tall and uncut looking for his dog one day. The judges waited as long as is customary, then yelled—

"Have you found your dog, Mr. —?"

"No," came back the muffled tones of the rider. "And to h—l with the dog, anyway; send someone in here after me."

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

Charley Skinner, who is a man and a half tall and two men wide, probably knows as much about the performance of great bird dogs as any man around.

Charley grew up with the game in Burke county, where some of the greatest dogs in history have either competed in field trials or been trained for national championships.

And so Charley Skinner's opinion is valued.

When he opens his mouth and exercises his vocal chords, he doesn't talk just to hear his voice.

"What," asked the inquiring reporter, "is the difference between amateurs of today and, say, two decades ago?"

"The answer is not very difficult," responded Charley Skinner. "There is a very large difference between the handlers of today and yesterday. In the old days, owners were handlers almost exclusively. They didn't have anyone to look after their dogs. They virtually lived with them. And so the dogs and the owners came to know each other very well."

"Today, owners who go in for field trials extensively have professional handlers to look after their dogs. Owners and dogs don't see very much of each other."

"So they don't get to know each other as in the days of yore. And that, I think, is the big answer. Setters especially do better work for someone they know and trust."

NO NAMES NECESSARY.

I will not mention any names, but a most embarrassing thing happened to the owner handler of one of the big-stepping pointer dogs during yesterday's running.

There had been a cold, steady wind sweeping the course all day and it was in middle afternoon when this pointer dog was streaking across a field.

Suddenly the dog's nose caught the scent on a downwind race. There was galvanized action. The dog "put on the brakes" in a most graceful manner, arched its head a couple of times and then flashed toward some cover on the edge of the sedefield.

Well, sir, when the pigs and chickens scattered the picture was destroyed, but nevertheless, while embarrassing, the actions of the dog upon catching the scent was poetry—in motion personified.

Paychek and Long In Savannah Battle

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 1.—(P)—Johnny Paychek, slugging Des Moines bellhop, polished up his punches here today for his bout Thursday night with Huey Long, of Dallas, Texas.

Paychek, who claims 22 ring victories by knockouts, is seeking a title fight with Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

ATTEND

FREE DEMONSTRATION
DALE CARNEGIE COURSE
Thursday, January 18th
Atlanta Athletic Club. 8 P. M.

Basketball Meeting Scheduled Tonight

Managers of teams playing basketball in City-WPA sponsored leagues will elect official representatives to the Greater Atlanta Amateur Basketball Federation at a meeting to be held at 7:30 tonight in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. No games have been scheduled in order that leagues may elect their officials. There are 35 teams playing in five leagues, of which there are two for girls' teams.

Each league is entitled to one representative on the board of governors of the Greater Atlanta Federation, which will meet in February to discuss plans for the gold medal tournaments to be held here again this season. The Y. M. C. A. sponsored leagues, composed of 24 teams, are also affiliated with the Federation, making a total of 59 teams.

OPERATION IS SUCCESS—PATIENT WELL ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

COTTON PICKER PLACES SECOND AT WAYNESBORO

Winning Setter Is Handled by Fred Jordan, of Atlanta.

By TOM MORA.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Jan. 16.—Nor Easter Frank, white, tan and black setter dog, owned by Dr. Early H. Roberts, of Jacksonville Beach, and handled by Fred Jordan, S. C., to Tip's Manitoba Jake, which won first place this morning in the Members' Derby, in which six braces were put down.

Cotton Picker, white and orange pointer bitch, owned and handled

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Jan. 16.—Twenty-two Atlantans are represented in the 40th annual Georgia Field Trial Association meet. This is the largest number in the history of the event.

They are: J. H. Geffken, Ernest Martin, Elbridge Freeborn, Ralph Morgan, Ray Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Healy, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Healy, Bill Schoen, Julian Schoen, Trammell Scott, Severin Ulmer, Clint Davis, Monie Ferst, Franklin Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Friend, Dillard Lasseter and Gus Leasar.

by Euclid Claussen, of Augusta, was second, and Belleview Nugget, white and black setter dog, owned and handled by H. I. B. Spector, of Philadelphia, was third.

Five braces in the open all-age were put down this afternoon. Nepek Carolina Jake, owned by Dr. W. F. Vail, of Greenwich, Conn., and handled by George Crangle, of Waynesboro, Ga., won the all-age at Pinehurst last week, was in the first brace and came up with two finds.

This was regarded as the best of the day's performances. George M. Rogers, here from American field, was impressed by Dr. Vail's white and liver pointer.

Dr. Noble T. Willing's Dr. Sam, winner of the members' all-age yesterday, Wayside Post, and Ray's Jingo Joe were among those who ran good races but couldn't find birds.

When the open all-age is finished, probably late Friday, it is highly possible that Atlantans may be among the winners.

Ray Carter, president of the Atlanta Field Trial Club, will handle Bourbon Bob, owned by J. M. Williams, of New York. Ray's brace will be the first put down

Continued in Second Sports Page.

Bob Grove, Near 40, Signs '40 Contract

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—(P)—Lonesome for a sight of Boston, Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove stalked into the Red Sox offices today and, without any ado, affixed his signature to a 1940 contract.

The terms of the contract were not disclosed, but, in view of "Lefty's" great record last season, there is no reason to believe that Owner Tom Yawkey was niggardly with his pitching ace.

"Lefty," who admits that he will be 40 next March, pitched 15 victories and lost four games in 23 starts last season to compile the league's lowest earned-run average among regular pitchers for the ninth time in his baseball career.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Jan. 16.—"Sorry, ol' boy, but we'll have to operate," declared Dr. Sam Orr Black (right), of Spartanburg, S. C., to Tip's Manitoba Jake, which won third place in the members' all-age stake here, despite a deep face infection which resulted from fight wounds. Here is the picture of the actual operation.

Owner E. H. Vare, of Philadelphia, husband of Collett Vare, six times national woman's golf champion, is shown at left. Dr. Black is one of the nation's foremost surgeons and apparently the operation was a success. Lower photo indicates that Tip's Manitoba Jake is well on the road to recovery. Now he'll have something to tell all the dogs in his neighborhood back home.

BULLDOGS BEAT GAMECOCKS, 40-33

Lead Changes Hands 13 Times; Dan Kirkland Shoots 17 Points.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 16.—Georgia staged a whirlwind finish tonight and defeated South Carolina, 40 to 33, in a fast basketball game.

The lead changed hands 13 times and was tied five times in the second half. With four minutes to play, the Georgians got a four-point advantage and field goals by Killian and a floor shot and free toss by Moore put the game on ice with seconds to play.

The box:

Team	fg	ft	tp	r	a	pts
Georgia (40)	22	10	3	24	26	40
Kirkland, f	7	0	0	2	6	14
Kirkland, g	7	0	0	2	6	14
Chatham, g	1	0	0	2	2	2
McCaskill, g	3	1	1	7	7	7
Moore, g	3	1	1	7	7	7
Totals	17	6	9	40	40	40

S. CAROLINA (33)

Team	fg	ft	tp	r	a	pts
Westmoreland, f	2	2	1	2	6	7
Kirkland, c	8	0	0	4	10	16
Haynes, c	0	0	0	0	0	0
Dupre, g	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hyman, g	3	1	1	7	7	7
Anderson, g	3	1	1	7	7	7
Totals	13	7	8	33	33	33

Half-time score: Georgia 13, South Carolina 10.

Free throws missed: Kirkland 3, Moore, Alexander 2, Anderson. Referee: Smith (South Carolina); umpire, Purley (Pacific).

Kimbrough, 'Best Back,' Averse to Pro Football

Kinnick, "Player of Year," Hesitant; Kavanaugh, "Best Lineman," All for Pro Game.

By EDDY GILMORE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(P)—Three of the country's most highly valued football players took divergent views today on the professional game as a profession. The three received awards at the Touchdown Club's annual dinner tonight.

John Kimbrough, Texas A. & M.'s 200-pound fullback, honored as the nation's "back of the year," says he wants no part of the game in which they play for pay.

Nile Kinnick, All-American halfback from Iowa, given the Walter Camp Memorial trophy as "the player of the year," says he won't play, but with a reservation. Kep Kavanaugh, the great end from Louisiana State University, who received the Knute Rockne Memorial award as "the lineman of the year," likes professional football and plans to play it.

Kimbrough, who is only a junior and hence not eligible for pro ball, wants to be a rancher or maybe a chance at the movies. "None of the professional football for me," he drawled, "I know how much pay they get. I mean I know how much they don't get."

Kinnick hopes to become a lawyer and says he will turn down an offer to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers next fall. Asked if he'd turn down $15,000 a year, Kinnick said:

"Well, that puts a different angle on the situation."

The Dodgers have been reported as willing to pay $15,000 to get him. "Professional football," said Kavanaugh without hesitation, "is a great game and I intend to play it for the Chicago Bears."

The club presented two other

DeWitt Page, whose Maemere claimed Miss Frances, who Mon-Farm silks have been prominent day outfooted nine other baby rac- at the Hialeah meeting, apparently ers of the filly division in the first made a good investment when he race to win easily.

For Double Reason you'll prefer "Double-Rich" Kentucky Bourbon

(1) IT'S THE "CREAM" OF KENTUCKY

All over the world "Kentucky Bourbon" means America's finest whiskey. "Cream of Kentucky" means just what the words say... a "prize" selection from Kentucky's choicest Bourbon... "double-rich" in the flavor and bouquet that make Kentucky whiskey famous. That's why so many millions say: "Make mine Cream!"

(2) IT'S THE FAVORITE OF THE WORLD

The rich flavor-character that always made Bourbon America's favorite straight whiskey is at the peak of rare goodness in this "double-rich" whiskey... far-and-away the world's largest selling straight Bourbon. That's why the price of Cream of Kentucky is so little—for such exceptional quality. Join the majority who say: "Make mine Cream!"

PINT $1.00 QUART $2.00

At your favorite Package Store

Schenley's
Cream of Kentucky
STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

90 proof. Copr. 1940, Schenley Distillers Corp., N. Y. C.

McCarthy Says Yankees Will 'Stand Pat' With 1939 Lineup

EVEN DAHLGREN IS FAIRLY SURE TO RETAIN POST

Pilot Expects Gomez, Grissom, Chandler To Have Good Years.

By BILL WHITE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(P)—The New York Yankees, like a poker player with a listful of aces, are going to stand pat.

And there is a suspicion that Manager Joe McCarthy's terse statement, "Naturally I plan to start the season with the same lineup I had last year," will bring joy to a lot of Yankee hearts—and to Ellsworth (Babe) Dahlgren's in particular. Joe made that remark yesterday while here to check over the Yanks' rookie list with President Edward Barrow.

Not many of the Yanks, whose fourth-straight World Series championship last fall showed they were practically devoid of weaknesses, were concerned over getting their old jobs back.

DiMaggio, Selkirk, Keller, Gordon, Rolfe, Dickey, Ruffing all appeared certain to start again where they left off last fall. The lone figure of First Baseman Dahlgren seemed to be the exception.

Babe, who took over baseball's toughest job when he replaced Lou Gehrig that fateful day last May, frankly hadn't measured up to the rest of the Yankees at bat. Afield, he is perfection and has made the Yank infield again a coordinated unit almost without a defensive weakness.

BATTING LESSONS.

But McCarthy's statement, plus the knowledge that Babe is seriously trying to improve his hitting by taking lessons from wise old Lefty O'Doul, means that the cavalcade of players who suddenly decided to become the Yanks' first baseman can now go back to the bull pen or to bench.

Babe may get a lot of stiff competition in spring training from the husky Mike Chartak, up from Newark, but it's a pretty good bet that the graceful blond who hit 15 homers and drove in 89 runs won't be robbed now of a job. He almost lost it once to George McQuinn, of the St. Louis Browns, only to be saved by the "no-trading" edict the magnates wrote into the laws at the meetings in Cincinnati.

McCarthy, in town for the first time since the series, also said he was not interested in anyone cut loose from Detroit via the landslide by Commissioner Landis, and he seemed still mightily pleased with the team that brought Lefty Lee Grissom from the Cincinnati Reds.

"Frankly, I think Grissom has a hell of a chance to be a great pitcher for us," Marse Joe thundered. "He's big, and every time I've seen him he was fast. He looked good to me the little bit he worked in the World Series. It's just a chance, but unless his arm is gone I don't see any reason he wouldn't click. If he doesn't we haven't given up anybody we were counting on."

Disintegrating?

As far as McCarthy is concerned, the champions haven't shown any signs of disintegrating, either.

"Gomez at times last year showed me all his old stuff," he explained, and I think a good season for him is just what he's getting a good start. Bill Dickey ought to stay up a long time yet on account of his build. Even when I wanted to rest him last summer, he'd say 'No, I want to catch.' And don't forget Spud Chandler. He's just what we need until midseason, but he looked good at the finish. There's nothing wrong with his arm."

And the rotund pilot scoffed at the thought that his magnificent machine was aging and in danger of developing rheumatism in the joints.

Nobody else thinks so either, but you can't blame seven other American league managers from wishing!

National P. G. A. Title Won by Hackbarth

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 16.—(P)—Otto Hackbarth, Cincinnati golf professional, today won the national P. G. A. senior championship by defeating 57-year-old Jack Hutchinson, of Golf, Ill., on the 18th hole of their second play-off match.

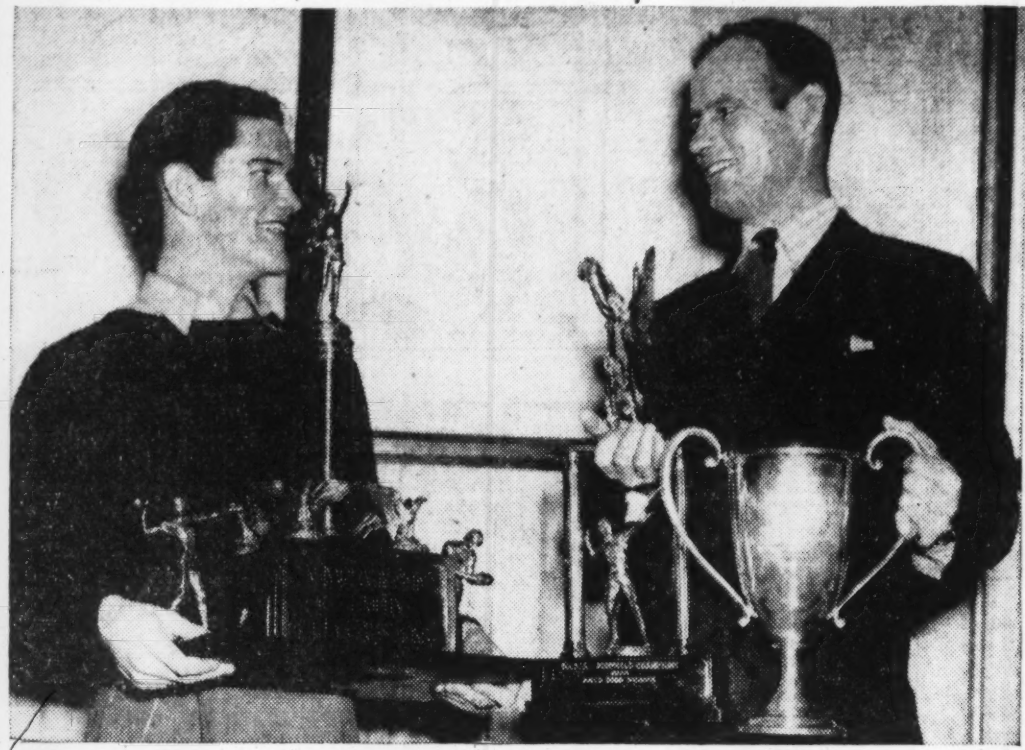

The Ohio professional was 1 up on the short Scot at the end of today's first nine holes, which he shot in 37 or one over par for the outgoing half of the North Shore Country Club course. They finished the 17th all square, but Hutchinson sliced his second shot on the 18th and needed a par 5 for the hole, while Hackbarth was in the cup with 1 under par 4.

That gave Hackbarth a total score of 294 and the title, one not won by Hutchinson's 295. The Cincinnati player lost a playoff for the crown last year to Freddie McLeod, of Chevy Chase, Md. Hutchinson won the title the year before that.

Ladies Vie Today At Candler Park

Candler Park ladies will resume their weekly one-day tournament play this morning at 9 o'clock over the Candler Park course. Prizes are to be awarded for low gross, low net and for putting.

THREE TROPHIES FOR G. I. A. A. GRID CHAMPIONS

It's a bit late, but Alternate Captain Buck Andel (left) and Coach Shorty Doyal, of Boys' High, are proud of three trophies received Tuesday for Boys' High's winning Georgia Interscholastic Athletic Association football team. The trophies, left to right, are Kernaghan G. I. A. A. and Dartmouth Alumni. Boys' High has one leg on both the Kernaghan and Dartmouth trophies, with the G. I. A. A. a permanent one. Boys' High three years ago retired permanently a Dartmouth cup.

Gillem New Grid Mentor At Sewanee

Former Birmingham-Southern Coach Signs Two-Year Contract.

SEWANEE, Tenn., Jan. 16.—(P)—J. E. "Jenks" Gillem, former Birmingham-Southern coach, has been named head football coach at the University of the South, the athletic board of control announced tonight.

J. M. Scott, chairman of the athletic board, said Gillem was given a two-year contract. He will replace H. E. "Hec" Clark, who resigned. Scott indicated that Gillem would come to Sewanee to take over the football team for spring practice.

Gillem played end at Sewanee in 1910, 1911 and 1912, making all-southern all three years. He was captain of the team in 1912. He has had 20 years of coaching experience, three at Howard College and 17 at Birmingham-Southern.

At the latter school his teams won the Dixie Conference championship three times—1932, 1933 and 1937.

EVERYTHING SET FOR 'BOWL' SHOW

All arrangements have been made and everything is set for the Atlanta Touchdown Club's big bowl party Friday night at the Ansley hotel.

Pictures of the four major football bowl games—the Rose, Sugar, Orange and Cotton—will be shown. Many famous figures of sports will attend, including Coach Elmer Layden, of Notre Dame; Sportsman Bill Corum, Coach Bill Alexander, of Georgia Tech; Jess Neely, now of Rice but coach of Clemson's Cotton Bowl champions; Major Bob Neyland, of Tennessee, and Red Dawson, of Tulane. Mayor Hartsfield will also attend.

It's the greatest football party of all time and all tickets have been long gone. In all, there will be about 700 present.

Numerous entertainments have been planned for visiting celebrities.

NOR EASTER FRANK WINS FIRST PLACE

Continued From First Sports Page.

tomorrow morning. The first brace in the morning is regarded as a favorable one.

Dillard Lassiter's Chief Gray is a strong contender. Gray is considered by some bird dog men as the best in Georgia.

Fred Jordan's Rosetime will be handled by the well-known trainer, Bert Black.

Dixie Egyptian Sam, owned by E. L. Bearden, of Atlanta, will have Franklin Daniel, also of Atlanta, as handler.

Monie Ferst's Georgia Breeze will be handled by John Gardner.

Bird-dog men in the lobby of the Anthony Wayne last night admitted that any dog entered may win, but most of them liked the chances of these five:

Bourbon Bob, Chief Gray, Tip's Topsy Top, owned by Raymond Hoagland, of Cartersville; Spunky Creek Boy, owned by E. J. Sheffer, and Dot's Sealy Mo Money, owned by Bob Sealy.

The field in the open all-age is considered strong, with dogs from 20 states.

Today was perfect field trial weather. It was cold, but there was no wind. It warmed up during the day. However, not as many birds were found as yesterday. It was attributed to poor scenting conditions.

Eight heats, each an hour, will probably be held tomorrow. It will probably be Friday morning before the all-age is completed. The open derby will wind up the 40th annual Georgia Field Trials Association meet.

J. P. C., Dixie Aces Clash Here Tonight

Chattanooga Champions Have Won 13 Straight Games Without Defeat.

Dixie Aces, of Chattanooga, bring one of the strongest amateur basketball teams ever to show in Atlanta when they clash with the strong Jewish Progressive Club quintet here tonight. The contest begins at 8:45 o'clock.

The Aces have captured 13 consecutive games, coming here without a defeat against their record. Numbered among their conquests is a large score victory over the strong Peerless Mill quintet, which team defeated J. P. C. in an overtime game here last season.

The Aces have scored 591 points against 294 for their foes, averaging 45.5 points per game against 22.6 for the opposition. The team averages well over six feet in height, with two players reaching six feet, four inches.

Coach Walton Lane's Progressives have won their first eight games this season, and are rapidly rounding into midseason form. So tonight's contest should be a hectic battle, with each five striving to retain its unmarred record.

The Progressives will line up with Morris and Hyman Katz, forward; Steve Browder, center, and Minsk and Greenberg, guards.

The J. P. C. will play Hapeville Aces in a preliminary game at 7:30 o'clock.

WOMEN GOLFERS TIED AT AUGUSTA

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—(P)—A pair of professional 36-hole cards of 170 were cast in a two-way race for the championship of the 1940 Women's Titleholders' golf tournament at the Country Club here today.

Helen Detweiler, of Washington, D. C., the leader at the end of the first 18 yesterday, saw Helen Hicks Harb, Long Island, fashion a second-round 83 today while the former was one over at 84, to give a tie at the halfway mark of the four-day, 72-hole medal-play tourney.

Blonde Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., could do no better than duplicate her opening 87, 12 over par, to hold down third place in the field of a half-dozen performers.

She had been tied with Mrs. Harb for second at the end of the first day's play.

Scores at 36 holes: Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, Long Island, 87-83-170.

Helen Detweiler, Washington, 86-84-170.

Jean Bauer, Providence, 87-87-174.

Mrs. L. G. Gray, Washington, D. C., 92-82-174.

Elizabeth Dunn, Indianapolis, Ind., 97-82-179.

Mrs. Dorothy J. Manice, Augusta, 99-99-198.

Mrs. Reginald Maxwell, Augusta, 100-100-200.

(Withdrew).

BANKS M'FADDEN TO HELP HOWARD

CLEMSON, S. C., Jan. 19.—(P)—Head Coach Frank Howard, of Clemson College, announced today the appointment of his assistants, including W. (Rock) Norman, formerly of the Citadel, and Banks M'Fadden, All-American back on this year's Tiger team.

Howard recently succeeded Jess Neely, who resigned to assume a similar post at Rice Institute after leading the Clemson team to the co-championship of the Southern conference and a victory over Boston College in the Cotton Bowl.

Neely took Joe Davis, assistant football and head basketball coach, with him to Rice.

Howard named Norman head basketball, track and freshman football coach.

M'Fadden will coach varsity football backs with Covington McMillan, who was retained.

The end coach will be Bob Jones, former freshman mentor, who also will coach the boxing team.

Walter Cox, a guard on this year's team, will assist Howard with the linemen.

Tech Ignores Spring Work Until April

Alex Gives 7 Reasons for Putting Work Off Until It's Really Spring.

Coach William Alexander, whose Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets trimmed Missouri, 21-7, in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, came up with a near-revolution in football today—ignoring spring practice until it's really spring.

Unless something changes his mind, he will not begin work on the '40-model Tech machine until mid-April. Practice then will run until school closes.

Most Southeastern Conference coaches—including Wallace Butts at the University of Georgia—begin spring training about February 1. Alexander's reasons:

1. Too much drudgery. Practice does more harm than good.

2. Tech had an extra month of work in December in preparation for the Orange Bowl game.

3. Atlanta's weather usually is pretty cold and rainy in February and March.

4. Football players who also are competent at basketball, baseball and track should be encouraged to participate in those sports.

5. The players will have only three months to get out of hard condition over summer instead of the usual five months of forgetting what they have learned.

6. Tech deferred spring training a month last year—and gave Notre Dame fits the first game of the season.

7. It just seems like a good idea.

MICHAELS MEETS ALLEN THURSDAY

Final workouts for the fighters on Thursday night's program in the East Point auditorium will be held between 6 and 7 o'clock tonight at Bond's gymnasium, corner Edgewood avenue and Boulevard.

The workouts will be light limbering up exercises with most of the drills being devoted to "timing" of punches.

Young Allen, "Pa" Stribling's sensational young heavyweight from Macon and Bob Michaels, Atlanta's most promising youngster, will headline the card in a 10-rounder. Both Allen and Michaels are in top condition as proven in last night's workout.

In the double-header semi-final, both six rounds, Emory Jackson meets Battling Brocade and Benny Johnson fights Young Terry, of Jacksonville. Both Johnson and Terry are regarded as outstanding southern featherweights.

Two four-round bouts will open the program.

Pa Stribling will referee the preliminaries and will be in Allen's corner in the main fight.

Popular prices will prevail and the Sporting Enterprises sponsors of the show, have planned boxing matches semi-monthly for the East Point auditorium.

Cage Results

Georgia 40 South Carolina 33
Davidson 48
The Citadel 40
Washington and Lee 43
Roanoke 40
Hamden-Sydney 29
Wesleyan 37
Otterbein 39
Muhlenberg 37
Butler 39
Notre Dame 55
Drexel 19
Wesleyan 40
Ohio Univ. 35

PURPLES EASILY DEFEAT JORDAN FIVE HERE, 43-28

Tech High Bows to Columbus; G.M.A. Conquers Commercial.

By ROY WHITE.

Boys' High and G. M. A. were winners Tuesday in the third round of the Big Seven prep basketball race. G. M. A. beat Commercial High, 49 to 30, in an afternoon game at College Park and Boys' High beat Jordan High from Columbus, 43 to 28, on the Henry Grady court Tuesday night.

In a preliminary to the Purple-Jordan game, the Boys' High reserve team beat Tech High's reserves 21 to 10.

It was Boys' High's third straight victory and gave the Purples undisputed leadership of the league.

Boys' High took an early lead and was never headed. The Purples were ahead, 7 to 4, at the quarter, 23 to 9 at the half and 34 to 25 going into the last quarter.

The Purples showed a decided improvement over their two previous games and kept the Jordan sharpshooters well guarded throughout the game.

The league's leading scorer to a single foul goal in the first half, but in the second half, particularly in the last 10 minutes of play, he broke loose for a dozen points to lead his team's scoring.

Dese, with 15 points, was high scorer for the game. Doyle was second in the Purples' scoring with 11 points. Clint Castleberry and Cahen played well at guards, holding the Jordan forwards to a couple of foul goals in the first half.

Hendricks at center also played well for the losers and scored 11 points.

In the preliminary game the Purple reserves were well in front all the way after the first two minutes of play. Tech High was able to make but three field goals and two of those came late in the game.

Hambrick, with 10 points, led the Purples' scoring. Hughes played well at center and scored three field goals.

BOYS' HIGH (43) Pos. (28) JORDAN (28) Pos. (28)
Cahen (4) F. (1) Carlie
Doyle (11) G. (1) Hendricks
Dese (15) G. (1) Jackson
Castleberry (7) G. (1) Statham
Hendricks (11) C. (1) Thomas
McAfee (2) C. (1) Childs
Smith (2) T. (1) Newberry
Jordan (2) F. (1) High
Boys' High 21, Jordan 10.

TECH HIGH (49) Pos. (10) HANCOCK (10) Pos. (10)
Brown (1) F. (1) Hamilton
Cahen (1) F. (1) Gaston
Hill (1) G. (1) Hughes
Schutte (1) G. (1) Avery
Weaver (1) G. (1) Roberts
Substitutes: Boys' High, Morris, Brooks, Smith, Winkler, Tech High, Loudmire, West, Lowe, Henderson 2. Score at half, Boys' High 7, Tech High 4.

Tech High Defeated By Columbus, 48 to 32

COLUMBUS, Jan. 16.—With Jim Homer, accounting for 19 points, Columbus High's basketball team defeated Tech High, of Atlanta, 48-32, here tonight in a "Big Seven" League game to extend their victory string to eight in as many starts.

5. Tech trailed at intermission, 32-12, the Smithies came back strong in the third quarter. They held the Blue Devils to four points while racking up 13.

LINEUPS AND SUMMARY.

TECH HIGH FG. TP. FG. TP.
Pounds, f 2 3 0 7
Ammons, f 2 3 0 7
Shadmon, f 2 3 0 7
Weeks, f-c 4 0 8
Ivey, c 1 0 2
Cohen, f 1 2 4
Bowen, g 1 2 4
Totals 13 6 32

COLUMBUS HIGH FG. TP. FG. TP.
Shelton, f 1 2 4
Langford, f 2 0 4
Pennington, f 3 2 8
Homer, c 8 3 19
Homer, c 8 3 19
C. Walters, g 0 0 0
Walters, g 0 0 0
Skipworth, g 0 0 0
Wolf, g 0 0 0
Totals 18 12 48

G.M.A. Beats Commercial To Quit Cellar Berth.

G. M. A. moved out of the cellar position in the Big Seven prep basketball race with a 49 to 30 victory over Commercial High Tuesday afternoon on the College Park court.

The Cadets took an early lead and were never headed. G. M. A. led 15 to 8 at quarter, 22 to 17 at the half and 39 to 22 at the beginning of the final 10 minutes of play.

Ed Oates with 15 points led the scoring for the Cadets, with Carl Anderson only two points back in second place.

THE LINEUPS.

G. M. A. (49) Pos. COMM'L (30) Pos.
Oates (15) F. Najour (3)
Anderson (13) F. Brock (3)
Solley (10) C. Wallace (4)
Finkbeiner (8) G. Jones (1)
Oberle (2) G. Peacock (8)
Substitutes: G. M. A.—Williams, Poole (1), Owens (3), Blizotte (2), Myers, Justice, Commercial—Grice (3), Quinn, Jenkins, Smevov (6).

Semi-Pro Tourneys Carry Microphones

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 16.—(P)—The public is going to be cut in on those hot arguments between managers and umpires in semi-pro baseball tournaments.

The National Semi-Pro Congress ordered a microphone placed on the field so conversations can be relayed to the stands by loud-speaker.

President Ray Dumont hopes this will prevent another incident like the one that happened at the national tournament here last year. A misunderstanding over a ground rule sent 12,000 fans storming out on the field in the game between Duncan, Okla., and Mount Pleasant, Texas.

Crackers, Celtics Play Here Sunday

Pro Title at Stake; Atlanta Machine Battles Strong Nehi Reds Here Tonight.

By THAD HOLT.

In a game which will be billed "for the world's professional basketball championship," the Original Celtics and the amazing Atlanta Crackers will clash Sunday afternoon at Sports Arena.

The Crackers' shocking 43-40 victory over the famous men of magic at Canton Monday night shot them into the national spotlight and drew from Coach Dutch Dehnert, of the Celtics, the statement that the Crackers were the greatest southern team played by his club in 15 years.

Last week the Celtics nosed out a jittery Cracker team, 44-40, but in the return game at Canton the Atlanta boys were on the veterans' like a pack of tigers and led most of the way. So infuriated were the result they swore violently at each other and almost came to blows. Pat Herlihy tore up part of his uniform and Nat Hickey tossed his traveling bag out the dressing room window.

For that ever-superior group of doctored Thomases who suggest that the Celtics might have "laid down," one might listen to Tom Humphreys for a moment. Tommy is booking agent for the Celtics. They are his meat ticket. It is to his benefit as well as to their own that the Celtics win as many games as possible.

COST 'EM $5,000.

Said Humphreys: "We realize full well what Monday night's defeat means to our prestige and drawing power. I am convinced it cost us $5,000 in gate receipts. We all feel that if we are not able to show up the Crackers Sunday our receipts for the season, which is barely one-third over, will drop $10,000. After all, fans everywhere look upon the Celtics as kings and masters of the hardwood. Folks don't expect to lose, and even to a team as powerful as the Crackers. That is why we must win this game Sunday."

It appears the Crackers have their own ideas about Sunday's game. If we can take the Celtics again," surmised Coach Shep Lauter, "we will be looked upon as the No. 1 professional team in the country. We can invade Madison Square Garden and other big sports centers, and draw tremendous crowds. Already offers are pouring in from throughout the country for games."

PLAY NEHI TONIGHT.

Before tackling the Celtics again, the Crackers have a tough argument on their slate tonight with the Nehi Reds, of Columbus, at Sports arena. Lauter fears a let-down by the Crackers following their win over the Celtics and is mindful of last season's results when Nehi twice whipped his strong Warren team.

Tonight's game will start at 8:30. There will be a preliminary battle at 7:30.

Atlanta fans, who apparently haven't realized just what they had in the Cracker machine, are expected to turn out in large numbers to watch Bob Johnston, Virlyn Moore, Bob Lieb, Fred Bradford, Gene Warlick, Ed Cope and Cherry Foster and Ed Belamy perform.

RUSSELL TEAMS BOUNCE NEWMAN

Russell High's basketball teams defeated Newman High a double-header Tuesday night on the East Point court. The boys won, 24 to 17, and the girls came back to win, 41 to 10, and make it a clean sweep.

Russell's scoring was well divided in the boys' game, though Upchurch, with 10 points, was high. Edgeworth led the losers with 7 points.

In the girls' game, Irvine, with 19 points, was high for the winners. 8 points more than the entire Newman team.

THE LINEUPS.

RUSSELL (24) Pos. (17) NEWMAN (17) Pos. (17)
Roberts (24) F. (4) Thompson
D. Morris (5) F. (2) Strother
Brown (10) G. (7) Edmonson
Upchurch (10) G. (4) Spradberry
Devore (2) C. (2) Vance
Substitutes: Russell, B. Morris (4); Newman, Fambro.

RUSSELL (41) Pos. (10) NEWMAN (10) Pos. (10)
Parks (6) F. (2) Spradberry
Irvine (19) F. (2) Vance
Skellion (10) C. F. (6) Taylor
Bryant (4) G. (2) Williams
Jones (2) G. (2) Spradling
Wise (2) G. (2) Milles
Substitutes: Russell, Smith (4); Newman, Gordon (2).

Mrs. Hunter Lyon's Five Fifty, two-year-old son of Westy Hogan-Panza which recently made his debut, was so named because he was purchased as a yearling at Saratoga for $550. Mr. Lyon, vice president of the jockey club, who bought the horse, also chose the name.

Tech Hi Schedules Game at Columbus

Another out-of-town game was added to Tech High's football schedule when Columbus High was booked for a game at Columbus Thursday night, September 19, it was announced Tuesday by W. O. Cheney, principal of Tech High.

It's the fourth game to be definitely scheduled away from home for Tech High and negotiations are under way for a game with Julia Landon at Jacksonville, Fla.

Cheney said Tuesday that since the Atlanta Baseball Company has denied use of Ponce de Leon park, that the remainder of the Tech High games will be scheduled away from home for 1940.

COVER-UP DEALS DRAW MORE FIRE FROM OLD JUDGE

Landis to Fine Each Club $500 for Secret Player Transfers.

By CHARLES DUNKLEY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(P)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, laid down the law to organized baseball today in a drastic ruling designed to wipe out illegal "cover-up" player deals between major and minor league clubs.

In a seven-point declaration, Landis ruled that in every future instance of a secret player transfer or similar covert practice he would impose a fine of $500 on the club and outlaw the participating

GIRL AT THE FRONT

Frau Weber's Friends Help Bill Escape. He Joins Claire at the Flat

By BOB EDEN.

SYNOPSIS. Claire Dutton, private secretary to William Cameron, American diplomatic official, rushes from the French liner St. Croix at La Havre as the gang-plank is being lowered. Cameron has been delayed in Paris and Claire knows she can't return home without him. Back in Paris, she discovers she has an extra bag, a duplicate of her overnight bag. At the American embassy, Welles Sanford summons Pierre Bonard, of the Surete Generale who finds in the extra bag a highly inflammable chemical capable of destroying the St. Croix which Bill had written her first name three times—and he had never called her anything but Miss Dutton. Blushing happily, she goes to her room to find her overnight bag gone. As she goes to meet Bill, a newspaperman, a stranger enters her taxi, tells her Cameron is alive and gives her the impact from the stolen bag. In it is a card reading "Z. Y. Dutton introduces her to Maria Herzel, who takes them and Captain Rene Martin and the Rolands to her flat. Noel Noire, who calls her "Z. Y.," says he knows the plans for an Allied offensive. She agrees to help Bill to divulge the plans but misstates the hour. Her pilot is Rene Martin. She receives a note from Bill but George Roland tells Frau Weber Bill is dead. She is told that night. At the time Bill is expected at the Weber flat, Roland calls again. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XIX.

"Oh, Frau Weber, do you think anything's gone wrong?" Claire asked, her anxiety reflected in her voice.

"I don't know, my dear," the old woman answered, truthfully. "I do know, though, it was fortunate that Herr Cameron did not come a little early. If he had, he would have met Herr Roland—and that would have been fatal."

She glanced at the door.

"The way is clear now," she went on. "I had a signal placed to warn Herr Cameron away if he had come while our visitor was here." She explained about the paper, and Claire saw that the floor under the door was now clear.

"What will I do if anything has happened to him?"

"We'll see that you get back to Paris," Frau Weber said.

"I'm not thinking about myself."

The buzzer sounded in the room and although it had been muffled so that it was barely discernible, it seemed so sharp, coming when it did, that the three women started up immediately.

"Someone's coming. Get out of sight," the woman ordered, and Claire scurried from the bedroom, through the wall and slid the panel in place.

Straining her ears, she heard the front door open—the sound of voices. Then she heard the door slam shut. She had unlocked the chest and in the bedroom before Lili called her name.

"Claire! He is here!"

Claire sped through the room and stopped in consternation as she saw a tall man in Nazi uniform, crutches under his arms. Beside him stood a shorter man, also in Nazi uniform. For a moment Claire didn't recognize Cameron, and then with a glad cry was in his arms, he was kissing her and tears were streaming from her eyes.

No word of love ever had been spoken between them, but it was as if deep affection always had been there, below the surface, needing just some incident to crystallize it.

"Oh, Bill, Bill!" the girl cried. "I thought I'd never see you again!"

"Dearest," Cameron murmured. "Dearest Claire!"

The girl suddenly realized that she was held tightly in Cameron's arms. His crutches had fallen, unheeded, to the floor. She was conscious that Frau Weber and Lili were laughing and that the small man who had been Bill's guide was grinning broadly.

"Oh," she said, shyly. "Oh, dear, what am I doing?"

Lili, her mother and the man then, and Cameron joined in the laugh at their expense. Claire found herself laughing with them.

"Well, Herr Cameron," the other man said. "I must be off. Good luck to you and a safe journey."

"I can never thank you enough, Eric," Cameron said, sincerely, holding out his hand. "If I ever can do anything for you—"

"If you can do something for Germany—the real Germany," the sometime, Herr Cameron, the man said. "I'll be a thousand-fold repaid. If you can tell your government the true situation—how many of our people really feel but do not dare to speak anything we have been able to do will be well worth while. Good bye."

He clicked his heels stiffly, saluted, did a military about-face and marched to the door. He opened it, went out, and shut it without turning around.

Frau Weber took charge then and told them they had better get closer to the hideout room.

"Someone may come," she warned. "We can't always depend on them stepping on the stair that sounds the buzzer. If they come in a hurry, should happen to miss it, they'd be on us without any more warning than the key in the lock."

Cameron agreed that it was foolish to risk capture or endanger the Webers needlessly, and Claire took him through the adjoining room and showed him where they could hide.

After he had carried his crutches into the hideout and removed the heavy bandage which had been about his right foot, Cameron sat down with Claire in the bedroom and demanded the full story of how she had come to Berlin.

She told it as simply as she could, but before she finished he was kneeling on the floor beside her, his arms about her.

"You darling child," he said softly. "You went through all that for me. Why—why did you do it?"

"Because I—" She stopped in confusion. "I think, Mr. Cameron," she said as he looked at her, "you should explain why you have your arms about me."

"Because, Claire, I love you," he said, simply.

She leaned forward, her lips touching his and clinging to them for a moment.

"I love you, too, Bill—my Bill—dear Bill." She finally had spoken the words that had been in her mind so much in the last few days. Words that were engraved on her heart.

They clung together for several minutes, and then Claire pushed him gently away.

"You haven't told me yet," she said, "if you followed the instructions I was told to give you."

"I did, I pretended to break down, after word had reached me, and told them I was ready to talk if they would promise to see that I got safely out of the country. They promised, and I put on a good act—I told them the whole plan, the date and everything, but I gave them the wrong time as your message instructed."

"Then what happened, dear?"

"They tossed me into a small room and locked the door. Later, some kind soul told me I was to be taken out and shot at 7 o'clock tonight. Of course, I put up a yell—reminded them of their promise. They were very polite, but quite firm about it. They had the information they wanted. I was of no further use to them alive—so—"

"My poor darling," Claire murmured. "How, then, did you get away?"

"Albert, my guard, slipped me a note later. It instructed me to make a terrific noise when he gave the signal. I was to demand to be taken to the commandant. My friends—or your friends, they must be—knew that the Nazis were none too certain of their ground and would at least give me a chance to make one last plea for my life. The note instructed me, when I was opposite the second window, to slug Albert and make a run for it. A plan was drawn out to show me how to get through a broken part in the wall where I would be met and helped."

"So that's what you did?"

"Yes. I hated to hit Albert, but he knew what I had to do and begged me to hit him hard enough to knock him senseless. Otherwise he would be summarily shot, he said. So when I swung suddenly on him, I gave him a good one. I hope he wasn't badly hurt."

He paid for a moment while his hand stroked Claire's brown hair.

"Eric was waiting outside the wall for me and hustled me into a car and we sped away. The uniform was in the car, and while he drove around I got out of my clothes and put it on. Then I adjusted the bandage on my foot, and took the crutches he gave me. When we reached the alleyway here near the apartment, he let me out and I waited in the shadows until he took the car several blocks away and came back for me. I had no idea where he was taking me—and I almost fell over when I saw you rushing out of that room, dear."

Frau Weber interrupted them and insisted that they go into the hideout.

"I have a strange feeling," she said, "that all of us are in great danger."

Cameron got to his feet and, with Claire leading the way, went into the small room. The girl slid the panel shut after them.

Frau Weber's intuition proved only partly accurate, and although the buzzer sounded shortly after Claire and Cameron had retired to the hideout, the visitor proved to be one of the counter-espionage agents who was helping in her work.

Claire and Bill crouched in the secret room, fearful that it might be George Roland or some member of the Gestapo who might have trailed Cameron to the flat, and their fears were not relieved by the fact that they could not hear what was said. The conversation was carried on in such low tones that they could hear only the voices.

Both were greatly relieved when after nearly half an hour Frau Weber called out that they might leave their hiding place.

"It was one of our men," she explained. "He says the Gestapo is in a terrible uproar over Herr Cameron's escape and is making a thorough search of the city."

"Did they blame my guard—did they blame Albert?" Cameron inquired.

"He didn't know, but you may be sure some heads will fall for this. That is the way they always act when some of their plans go wrong—snatch at the first persons they find and line them up against a wall before a firing squad."

Claire shuddered, and Cameron's arm stole around reassuringly.

"I don't think there is any danger tonight," Frau Weber went on. "It will take them a long time to suspect me, as I've been very careful. I think, though, that Herr Cameron should sleep in the little room tonight. Fraulein, you may have my room again as you did last night, leaving the panel open for a quick disappearance."

"It sounds like the safest thing," Cameron agreed. "Did your men have any information about when a plane would arrive?"

"Not yet. It is too soon. Word has to be got to Paris, first. It may take a day, maybe several days. We must be patient."

Their sleep undisturbed that night by any further alarms, both Claire and Cameron were greatly refreshed the next morning. Frau Weber left before they were awake to make an early report to the factory that Lili was ill and could not go to work that day. She and her daughter had talked it over the previous night and decided that one of them should spend the day in the flat with the two Americans. If Frau Weber were absent from her shop, she might miss an important message, so it was Lili who volunteered to brave the wrath of her foreman by feigning illness.

During breakfast, Cameron questioned her on the methods used to get word to the agents with whom they worked in France.

"I don't know exactly myself," she answered. "Except that an American radio man here is the go-between. He is permitted to broadcast on the short wave daily—his material being closely censored, of course."

"Then how is it managed?" Cameron inquired, curiously.

"By a code. The broadcaster is entirely out of sympathy with Herr Hitler and his aims."

The American diplomatic agent glanced at the flat.

"You have no radio, have you?"

"Few Germans have these days. They might be tempted to listen to other than official broadcasts and to be caught at that means at best a concentration camp."

"That is the strength and at the same time the weakness of all dictators," Cameron commented. "They fear free discussion and forbid it, but there is nothing truer than the old saying that the truth will out. And when that happens, it means trouble for a dictator."

"Mother has a radio in the shop," Lili went on. "When official broadcasts are announced in the papers, she turns it on for the benefit of the neighbors and customers. Otherwise, it is discreetly silent."

"Your mother is a very clever woman, Lili," Cameron said. "She must be to deceive such an efficient organization as the Gestapo."

"If you'll pardon me, Herr Cameron, it is not always efficient. It is vicious and almost incredibly stupid about many things. They consider mother one of their most valuable agents."

"What do you mean?" Claire asked.

"As she told you, she serves them as well as people the Nazis regard as deadly enemies. It is the only way she can exist. She is in a position to hear many things in her shop. Some she reports, some she does not."

"But doesn't her conscience bother her?"

Continued Tomorrow.

AUNT HET

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

"The trouble with us is that everybody is tryin' to get something without earnin' it. Look at Emily, takin' gland stuff to get thin instead of eatin' less."

JUST NUTS

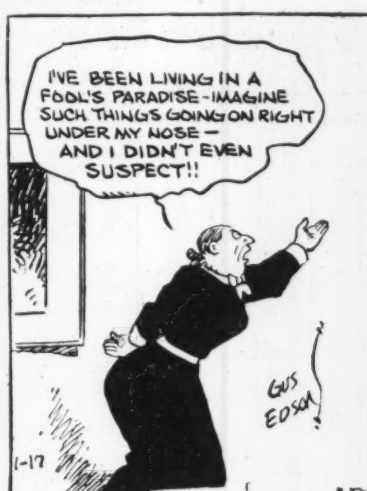

WHENEVER YOU WANT CREDIT YOU COME HERE AND NOW YOU GO ACROSS THE STREET AND BUY FOR CASH!

Solution to Yesterday's Puzzle.

OSCULANT GRAPE
PULVILVIAN
PLEASURE AVERSE
OLIA PRIMATE SER
SENT ANODE SUNS
ENSURE ERE APACE
IRA SPORADES
STALITY TRITEST
POLITICS BAH
ARGOT AAR SERBS
SEEN ESTERISERT
TARLES TATES MIR
IDIOMS NICOTINE
CONIMA INULASES
RELAY CARELESS

THE GUMPS

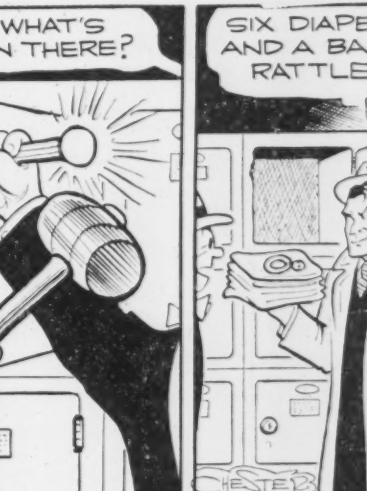

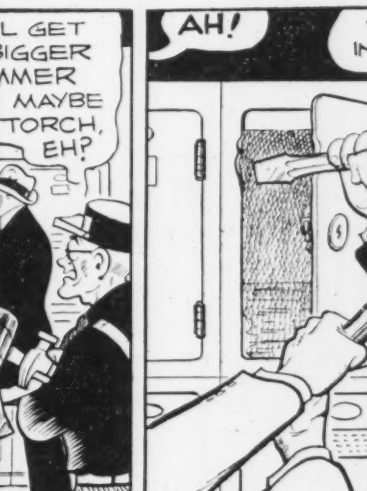

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

MOON MULLINS

DICK TRACY

JANE ARDEN—By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

TODAY'S CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

ACROSS.	DOWN.
1 Arrogant defiance.	1 Vegetable.
8 Czar of Bulgaria.	11 Silly.
13 Calm.	12 Closed car.
14 Goddess of peace.	13 Preliminary draft of a treaty.
15 Recipient of a gift.	14 Musical com-position.
16 Dinner course.	15 Intimate friend.
17 Reluctant.	16 A spiritual overseer.
18 Part.	17 Anglo-Saxon money of account.
20 Spanish Queen.	18 Rent again.
21 Near.	19 Sily.
22 By.	20 Makes accentric.
23 Curtail.	21 Units.
25 An old man.	22 Hermits.
28 Medicated compress.	23 Give back.
29 One-seeded nut.	24 Boer language.
30 Consider.	25 Toward the sheltered side.
31 Wild hog.	26 Speaks.
35 Carried along.	27 Ancient galley.
36 Sense organ.	28 Long for.
37 Taut.	29 Ill-treatment.
38 Otherwise.	30 not at all.
39 Feigns.	31 Aid.
40 Fish sauces.	32 Ward off.
41 Bulrushes.	33 Emmets.
43 Hunting dog.	34 Descendant.
44 To punish.	35 The turmeric.
47 Nothing.
48 Toward.
49 Scrape.
50 A rope for confining animals.
52 Sunshiny.
54 Entertain.
56 Veneration.

SMITTY

HELLO--THAT YOU A.C.? SAY, GIVE ME A FEW DETAILS ABOUT OUR YACHTING TRIP--WHEN DO WE LEAVE?

TUESDAY? WHAT TIME? NOON? CAN'T MAKE IT EARLIER? I'LL CALL YOU AGAIN TOMORROW.

KID?--OH-ER--SURE!! I'M ONLY ASKING FOR SMITTY--MY OFFICE BOY--HE'S STANDING RIGHT HERE NEXT TO ME!

ANY WORD, BAILEY--YOU'RE ACTING LIKE A KID--

Score One for Mama

In Tune With the Times

Papering the House

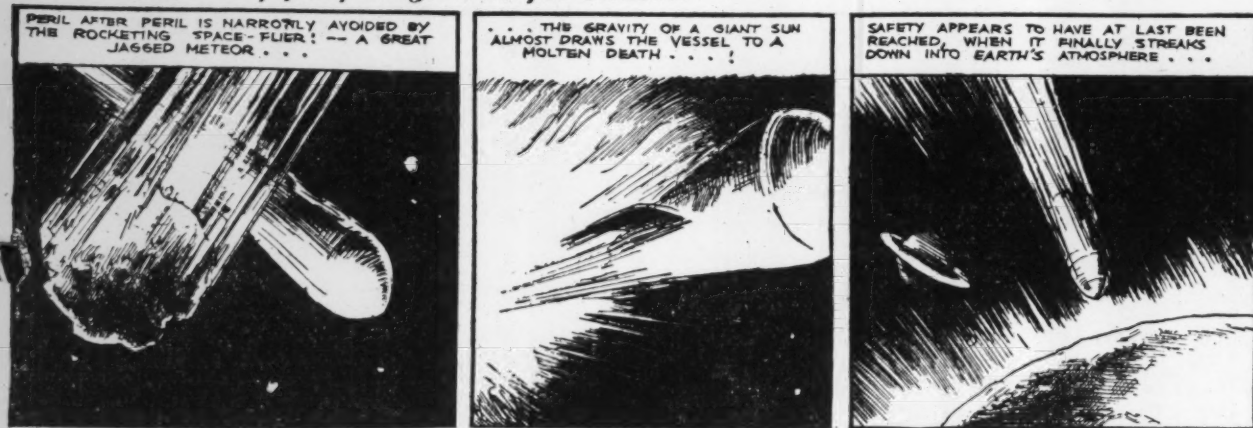

The Mountain Labors

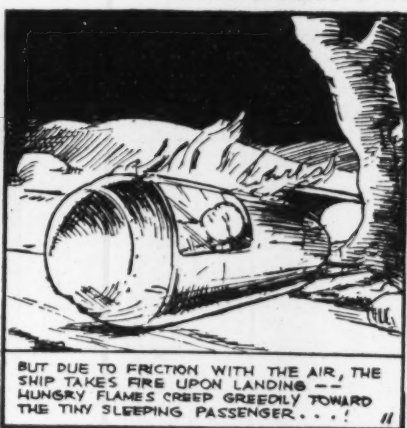

Helpless

SUPERMAN—By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

A Perilous Arrival

TERRY AND THE PIRATES

Stall for Horse-Face

MARY WORTH'S FAMILY

—By Dale Allen

SMILIN' JACK

Face Value

TARZAN—By Edgar Rice Burroughs

No. 117 A Friend in Need

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By R. J. SCOTT JASPER

By Frank Owen

"Americanity"

To replace the isms now current, Dr. Francis M. Kercheville, of the University of New Mexico, suggests a new word: Americanity. He told fellow members of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish the term might well express "the genuine spirit common to all the Americas."

By contract, all of Canada's bacon and ham will go to Great Britain until the war ends.

+ RADIO PROGRAMS +

Today's Hour-by-Hour Calendar

WGST, 890 Kc. WSB, 740 Kc. WAGA, 1450 Kc. WATL, 1370 Kc.

Note: Where no listing is given, last program in preceding listing is continued.

5:45 A. M.

WSB—Merry-Go-Round.

6 A. M.

WGST—Serenade; 6:10, ATLANTA CONSTITUTION NEWS; 6:15, Studio.

WATL—Cowboys; 6:15, Johnny Pierce.

6:30 A. M.

WGST—Almanac; 6:45, Hal Byrnes' Music.

WSB—Happy Dan's Folks; 6:45, Merry-Go-Round.

WAGA—Jawn Patrol.

WATL—Gatin's Band; 6:45, Top of the Morning.

7 A. M.

WGST—Sundial.

WSB—Checkerboard Time; 7:15, News.

WAGA—News; 7:15, Yawn Patrol.

WATL—News; 7:15, Good Morning Man.

7:30 A. M.

WSB—Merry-Go-Round.

8 A. M.

WGST—Sundial; 8:10, Old Tunes; 8:15, ATLANTA CONSTITUTION NEWS; 8:15, Good Morning.

WSB—News; 8:15, Penelope Penn; 8:20, News.

WAGA—Breakfast Club.

WATL—News; 8:15, Good Morning Man.

8:30 A. M.

WGST—Acolan Ensemble; 8:45, Centinella.

WSB—Gospel Singer; 8:45, Rose Show; 8:50, Carols.

9 A. M.

WGST—Betty Thob; 9:15, Myrt Marge.

WSB—The Man Married; 9:15, John's Other Wife.

WAGA—Josh Higgins; 9:15, Rhythm Cats.

WATL—News; 9:15, Joe Gilbert's Music; 9:15, Vic Fraser's Music.

9:30 A. M.

WGST—Hilltop House; 9:45, Woman of Courage.

WSB—Just Plain Bill; 9:45, End Day.

WAGA—MovieLand Review; 9:45, Originalities; 9:45, Rosa Rio.

WATL—Morning Melodies.

10 A. M.

WGST—Lanny Ross; 10:15, Brenda Curtis.

WSB—News; 10:15, Road of Life.

WAGA—Homer Knowles; 10:15, Young Dr. Malin.

WATL—News; 10:15, Alex Weidner's Music; 10:15, Wilsonian Rhythm.

10:30 A. M.

WGST—Big Sister; 10:45, Aunt Jenny.

WSB—Against the Storm; 10:45, Guiding Star.

WAGA—Quicksilver; 10:45, Swing Quintet.

WATL—Scripture Studies; 10:45, Swing Quintet.

11 A. M.

WGST—Kate Smith Speaks; 11:15, Judy and Jane.

WSB—Strings That Sing; 11:15, Heart of Julia.

WAGA—Rev. J. M. Handley; 11:15, Ray.

WATL—News; 11:15, Allison and Starr; 11:15, Log Adam's Music.

11:30 A. M.

WGST—Linda's Love; 11:45, Meet Miss Julia.

WSB—Fats and Home Home.

WAGA—Dr. W. H. Faulkner; 11:45, Fol.

WATL—Jerry Allen's Music; 11:45, Designs in Melody.

12 NOON.

WGST—News; 12:10, Chuck Wagon.

WSB—Farm and Home Hour; 12:15, Ellen.

WAGA—Streamline Journal; 12:15, News.

WATL—News; 12:15, Merry-Go-Round.

12:30 P. M.

WGST—Chuck Wagon; 12:45, Snoozers.

WSB—News; 12:45, State College of Agriculture.

WAGA—Streamline Journal; 12:45, News.

WATL—Merry-Go-Round.

1 P. M.

WGST—America for Americans; 1:05, ATLANTA CONSTITUTION NEWS; 1:10, Old Tunes; 1:15, Deep River Boys.

WSB—Follies.

WAGA—Music for Young Listeners.

WATL—News; 1:05, Vic Arden's Music; 1:15, Val Austin's Music.

1:30 P. M.

WGST—Your Family and Mine; 1:45, My Son and I.

WSB—Follies.

WAGA—Favorite Waltzes.

WATL—Baron's Music; 1:45, Cliff Cameron.

2 P. M.

WGST—ATLANTA CONSTITUTION NEWS; 2:05, Old Tunes; 2:10, Interlude; 2:15, Society Girl.

WSB—Mary Martin; 2:15, Ma Perkins.

WAGA—Orphans of Divorce; 2:15, Chase Twine.

WATL—News; 2:05, Songs by Ella; 2:15, Brigadier.

2:30 P. M.

WGST—News; 2:35, American School of the Air.

WSB—Popper Young; 2:45, Vic and Sade.

WAGA—Affairs of Anthony; 2:45, Ted Malone.

WATL—Bennett's Music; 2:45, Ray Bluch's Swing Fourteen.

3 P. M.

WGST—Music That You Want.

WSB—Life Can Be Beautiful; 3:15, Stella Jollin.

WAGA—Club Matinee.

WATL—News; 3:05, Swing Session.

3:30 P. M.

WGST—Musical Pickups; 3:45, Baker Man.

WSB—News; 3:45, School of the Air.

4 P. M.

WGST—Blue Interlude; 4:15, ATLANTA CONSTITUTION NEWS; 4:20, Tin Pan Alley.

WSB—Hood of the Air; 4:15, Midstream.

WAGA—Reggie Child's Music; 4:15, Irene Wicker.

WATL—News; 4:05, Larry Bradford's.

Radio Highlights

6:30—Burns and Allen — WGST.

7:00—Al Pearce and His Gang, WGST.

7:00—Hollywood Playhouse, WSB.

7:30—Dr. Christian, WGST.

7:30—Cliff Arquette, WSB.

8:00—Star Theater, WGST.

8:00—Fred Allen Show, WSB.

9:00—Glenn Miller's Orchestra, WGST.

9:00—Kay Kyser's Musical Class, WSB.

10:30—Sammy Kaye's Orchestra, WGST.

11:30—Johnny Hamp's Orchestra, WGST.

11:45—Woody Herman's Orchestra, WSB.

THEATER—Walter Huston, as a hard-boiled newspaperman, will be featured in the Star Theater's production of "Five Star Final" over WGST at 8 o'clock tonight. The play deals with the vicious practices of the lurid type of tabloid journalism that is buried with the "roaring twenties."

Ken Murray, master of ceremonies, Kenny Baker, Frances Langford, Irene Noble, Ryan and David Broekman's orchestra will be heard in their popular fun and song frolic from filmland, as the second half of the hour-long show.

ALLEN—Lawrence Duffy, who for 28 years has been the doorman at the Hotel Astor, at Times Square in the heart of New York City, will describe the Broadway scene during the years as Fred Allen's "Person You Didn't Expect to Meet" over WSB at 8 o'clock tonight.

Emphasizing the modern tempo in contrast to Duffy's recollections of the gaslight era will be Portland Hoffa, Harry von Zell, the Mighty Allen Art Players, Songstress Wynne Murray, the Merry Macs, featuring Helen Carroll, and Peter van Steeden's orchestra.

The program includes: "I Know That You Know," "It's a Hop-Hop-Hop Day," "Goody Goody," "Smarty Pants," "Exactly Like You."

GANG—Al Pearce will lead his gang through a cycle of satiric imitations of other radio programs during his program to be heard over WGST at 7 o'clock tonight.

Music on the program includes Marie and Her Merry Men, Don Reid and Carl Hoff's orchestra, Arlene Harris will have more trouble with "Junior," and Artie Auerback will be guest.

The program includes: "St. Louis Blues," "At the Balalaika," "Smile, Gets in Your Eyes," "Hap-Hap-Happy Day."

KOLLEGE—The rollicking retinue of Kyser College, featuring a facetious faculty and an all-round orchestra will romp onto the stage of the Southern Theater in Columbus, Ohio, for the Kay Kyser broadcast over WSB at 9 o'clock tonight.

In addition to the Professor's posers, puns and persiflage, the student body also will hear the solos of "Ginny Simms, Harry Babbitt and Sully Mason with special arrangements by the orchestra."

9:00—Kay Kyser's College—nbc-west
Roy Shields and orchestra—nbc-west
Glenn Miller and orchestra—nbc-west
Dancing Music orchestra—nbc-west
Raymond G. Swing repeat—nbc-west
9:15—Kay Kyser's College—nbc-west
To be announced 10 p.m.—nbc-west
9:30—U. of Pa. Celebration—nbc-west
Adventures in Photos—nbc-west
Burns and Allen in repeat—nbc-west
Fulton Lewis in repeat—nbc-west
9:45—Romance in Rhythm—nbc-west
10:00—Comment Period—nbc-west
Fred Warren's repeat—nbc-west
News—Dancing Music orch.—nbc-west
Paul Sullivan repeat—nbc-west
10:15—Dancing Music full orchestra—nbc-west
Dancing Music and News to 2—nbc-west
11:00—P. Sullivan repeat—nbc-west

Your Own Horoscope for Today Jan. 17th

By ALICE DENTON JENNINGS, Noted Atlanta Chirologist.

What today means to you if you were born between:

March 21st and April 19th (ARIES)—Business, domestic and social interests look encouraging today. Contact persons who keep up with financial conditions. Watch your diet carefully and get some exercise.

April 20th and May 20th (TAURUS)—Concentrate on improving your income. Be careful to avoid accidents. Take the initiative in friendship affairs. Strive for better understanding.

May 21st and June 12th (GEMINI)—Get in touch with influential people who can help you. If you have to hire help or seek a job, make every effort today. Social as well as romantic interests look encouraging.

June 21st and July 22nd (CANCER)—Not the day to experiment with money or yield to erratic ideas. Try to avoid arguments, as there is danger of friction. Don't insist too much on your own way. Give your health careful thought.

July 23rd and August 22nd (LEO)—Don't get careless about business or health matters today. If you feel indisposed, take it as easy as possible. Be on the outlook for new ways to increase your earnings. Postpone important decisions, if you are in any doubt, as to the best thing to do.

Aug. 23rd and Sept. 22nd (VIRGO)—Keep away from impractical projects concerning legal

Map Your Life According to Its Plan

If you would like to have an Astrological chart covering your sign of the Zodiac, THE CONSTITUTION will be glad to send it to you. All that is necessary is to fill in and follow directions in this coupon:

Alice Denton Jennings,
The Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

I enclose:
1. Self-addressed stamped envelope.
2. Ten cents in coin to cover mailing.

I was born: MONTH _____ DATE _____ YEAR _____

Name _____

Address _____ City _____

You may obtain as many Astrological charts as you wish for your family and friends. There is nothing to do except to send in the birthdate, address, self addressed stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover EACH birthdate, in accordance with this coupon.

or partnership matters. Continue to march straight on towards your definite goal. Don't lose your temper and waste nervous energy by explosions of rage.

Sept. 23rd and Oct. 22nd (LIBRA)—An excellent day to get your business plans well organized. Co-operate with your fellow workers. Don't work against them. Follow up any contacts for profitable employment that you have recently made.

Oct. 23rd and Nov. 21 (SCORPIO)—Stick to routine and do not vary your normal habits. Go slow in friendship or romantic interests are on your mind.

Nov. 22nd and Dec. 21st (SAGITTARIUS)—An excellent day. Be alert and energetic. Be tactful with women and the younger. Everything favors your making decided gains today.

Dec. 22nd and Jan. 19th (CAPRICORN)—Today is an excellent day to finish up tag ends of work. Good day for contacting neighbors and friends. Moderate investments should be successful, but do not gamble or speculate.

Jan. 20th and Feb. 18th (AQUARIUS)—Be careful today if you work around machinery. An excellent day to ask reasonable favors of superiors. Guard against extravagance or reckless spending.

Feb. 19th and March 20th (PISCES)—Be careful not to antagonize others today. Make certain that unwarranted suspicion or pessimism is avoided. Devote the evening hours to fun, preferably with romance included.

NEGRO BOY CONVICTED

OF DROWNING CHILD, 9
Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 16.—Rosenwald Sherman, 12-year-old Milledgeville negro, was convicted yesterday of voluntary manslaughter in connection with the drowning of Frank Taylor, his 9-year-old playmate, last September.

Judge Joe Ben Jackson sentenced Sherman to five years in the State Training School for Boys. The boy faced trial on a murder indictment, but the jury convicted him on the manslaughter charge.

Testimony disclosed Sherman beat his playmate and pushed him into the Oconee river here. When Sheriff L. Harrison and deputies found the child's body after a three-day search, they discovered one of his eyes had been knocked from his head. His clothes were found the following day buried in a sandbar near the scene of the fight.

WEATHER

ATLANTA—One year ago today (Wed., Jan. 16, 1939): Rain. High 49; low 36.

SUN AND MOON FOR TODAY:
Sun rises 6:07 a. m.; sets 8:09 p. m.
Moon rises 11:04 a. m.; does not set.

CITY OFFICE RECORD.

Highest temperature	50
Lowest temperature	27
Average temperature	42
Normal temperature	47
Total precipitation	.00
Wet days during month	24 hours, inc.
Total precipitation this month, in.	3.34
Excess since 1st of month, inches	1.95
Total excess since Jan. 1, year, inches	1.95
Excess since January 1, inches	1.59

Weather Bureau reports of atmospheric conditions at 6-30 o'clock last night with high and low temperature for the preceding 24 hours as follows:

	High.	Low.	Precipitation.
Ambrose, clear	61	23	.00
Boston, clear	61	23	.00
New York, clear	61	23	.00
Albany, clear	7	0	.00
Amherst, clear	54	26	.00
Andover, cloudy	56	26	.00

[illegible]

Haver, p. cloudy	59	-2	0.0
Houston, p. snow	59	0	0.0
Jacksonville, p.	58	30	0.0
San Jose, p. clear	58	30	0.0
Kansas City, clear	35	18	0.0
San Francisco, p.	57	18	0.0
Knoxville, cloudy	45	25	0.0
San Antonio, p.	57	25	0.0
San Diego, p.	57	25	0.0
Los Angeles, clear	78	52	0.0
Louisville, cloudy	40	18	0.0
Albany, p.	57	25	0.0
Memphis, clear	50	26	0.0
Albany, p.	57	25	0.0
Miami, cloudy	70	44	0.0
Minneapolis, p. cloudy	55	26	0.0
Mill St. Paul, cloudy	55	3	0.0
Minneapolis, p. cloudy	-2	3	0.0
Mobile, p. clear	53	28	0.0
Mobile, p. cloudy	53	28	0.0
Nashville, cloudy	49	23	0.0
Newark, N. J., clear	50	23	0.0
New Orleans, p. clear	50	23	0.0
Norfolk, cloudy	43	20	0.0
Omaha, p. clear	50	23	0.0
Oklahoma City, clear	53	31	0.0
Phoenix, clear	53	31	0.0
Portland, p. snowing	19	15	0.0

Portland, Ore.	48	33	00
Pueblo, Col. pt. city.	48	33	00
Portland, Me.	48	28	00
Richmond, clear	34	28	00
Richmond, Va. pt. city.	34	28	00
St. Louis, cloudy	38	28	00
St. Louis, Mo. pt. city.	38	28	00
San Francisco, pt. city.	60	47	00
Savannah, clear	54	28	00
Seattle, Vt. city.	54	28	00
Shreveport, clear	58	27	00
St. Paul, Minn. pt. city.	58	27	00
Springfield, Mo. clear	45	22	00
Tampa, pt. city.	52	31	00
Wichita, Kan. pt. city.	52	31	00
Washington, clear	38	29	00
Wichita, Kan. pt. city.	52	31	00
Wilmington, clear	52	27	00

Georgia: Fair today; slightly warmer south portion; tomorrow mostly cloudy and colder.

Florida: Partly cloudy today and tomorrow; slightly warmer today.

Alabama: Partly cloudy today; cooler to cloudy today and tomorrow; colder to

South Carolina: Fair today; slightly warmer, partly cloudy; tomorrow mostly cloudy, cooler in the interior.

Louisiana: Partly cloudy, warmer in the north; cooler in the interior; partly cloudy, colder in the interior.

Mississippi: Partly cloudy, warmer in the north; cooler in the interior; extreme northwest portion today; tomorrow partly cloudy, colder.

Alabama: Partly cloudy, warmer in the north; portion today; tomorrow partly cloudy, cooler in the interior.

Extreme Northwest Florida: Partly cloudy and warmer today; tomorrow partly cloudy and cooler.

Arkansas: Partly cloudy, cooler today; partly cloudy, cooler tomorrow; tomorrow partly cloudy, colder.

East Texas: Partly cloudy, colder in the north; portion today; tomorrow partly cloudy, colder in the north and central portions.

Classified Display

Automotive

1937 PACKARD "6"
5-Passenger Sedan $465

BOOMERSHINE'S
425 Spring St. J.A. 1921

PIEDMONT MOTORS
OFFERS:
1938 Dodge Coupe $395

33 Plymouth Coach	395
37 Ford 2-Door	245
37 Buick Sedan	445
35 Terraplane Sedan	195
34 Dodge Coupe	165
37 Dodge Coupe	375
37 Olds "8" Sedan	395
38 Buick 6-Wheel Sed.	445
39 Ford Coach	575
38 Ford De Luxe Coach	445
38 Chev. De Lx. Coach	445
39 Buick Sedan	745
39 Chevrolet Coach	595
39 Mercury Sedan	695
39 Ford Conv. Coupe	695

'37 Pontiac 6 Sedan . . . 395
'38 Buick 2-Dr. Sedan 595
'36 Olds 6 Conv. Coupe 395

PIEDMONT MOTORS
"The Place to Buy"
285 Spring St. WA. 8908

Storks Fell on Alabama

1-2-3-4! Count 'em. And look at 'em snooze. Meet Faith, Hope, Charity and "Anonymous" Short (the boy yet unnamed), new-born quads of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Short, Nauvoo, Ala. (Acme photo)

THE DOC Here's the man who helped the stork in that amazing multi-blessed eventuating. Country Doctor H. J. Sankey, who worked by lamplight, grins, counts 'em off on his fingers. (Acme photo)

THE MAMA A bright smile here from the mother, Mrs. Vina Short, 34. She, her share cropper husband and their brood, live in a two-room cabin. She's red-headed. (Acme photo)

THE REST And are there any other Shorts? The eyes have it. Lined up in "the other bed" are Irene, Otis, Olivee, Nelladine and Audrey, all a bit puzzled by all the fuss. Puzzled wasn't the word, however, for Papa Short. Reporters said when he heard the glad tidings he blinked, then disappeared into the woods. In an incubator at Jasper, the quads have a good chance to live. (Acme photo.) (Story on Page 7)

NUTS! Glorifying and glamorizing the Great American Goober is Emily Huree Cross, who'll don these nutty robes to reign as queen of the National Peanut Week celebration in Suffolk, Va. (Acme photo)

'DREAM GIRL' Pi K. A. up at Georgia thinks Co-ed Patsy Loomis, from Avon Park, Fla., is about the sweetest thing that ever set foot on campus. They chose her "dream girl." (Acme photo)

BUSTER Meet District Attorney Harold M. Kennedy, of New York. He's the one selected to prosecute that Christian Front outfit accused of plotting to bounce Uncle Sam for a dictator. (Acme photo) (Story on Page 3)

AT LONG LAST! Girls' High belles had a street car line to the schoolhouse door yesterday—for the first time—and here's the premiere. For which—"Goody!" (Story on Page 3)

IT WAS LIKE THIS Warplanes buzzed like mighty hornets in the sky above. Huge bombs screamed to earth, thudded into streets and buildings and exploded into thunder while clouds of smoke billowed up over destruction. You're right there at the ringside with a camera as Russian raiders poured hell into Helsinki to celebrate the 60th birthday of their master, Dictator Joseph Stalin.

'YOU CAN'T PASS' So reads the sign scrawled across this grim-looking outpost of France's mighty Maginot. Cold and bleak in a wintry landscape, it's a pointed warning to Germans to keep off the poilus' grass, an admonition recalling the famous "they shall not pass" of the World War. While conflict rides the sea and air, the war god twiddles his thumbs on the western front.